Seek Auto Fee Cut

Legislative strategy brings proposal to reduce auto license fees by approximately 20 per cent to passage stage in state senate. It faces only one vote in house. Details on page 6.

Bills for permanent Chicago fair and lake front airport sent to passage stage in house. Final vote on both measures is expected today. Details on page 5.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Gov. Horner's program for raising money to defray Illinois' share of relief costs completed its passage through the general assembly—a four months' journey—when the senate today concurred in house amendments to the utility sales tax bill.

This measure imposes a tax of 3 per cent of the gross receipts upon public and municipal utilities selling water, gas, electricity, and upon telephone and telegraph services. The 3 per cent rate is to apply for 18 months, or until Jan. 1, 1937, after which it would be reduced to 2 per cent.

When this bill left the senate on April 24 it provided that the tax should apply to sales of the utility services to industrial as well as to domestic and commercial users. The house exempted the industrial sales, and it was this change that the senate approved today by a vote of 35 to 2

Introduced First of March.

The utility tax and its companion measure, known as the Hopkins bill, raising the 2 per cent sales tax to 3 per cent, were introduced on Feb. 28. The Hopkins bill finally won its way through the assembly on May 22, the utility tax not until more than a month later.

Estimates that the two bills would raise a maximum of 26 millions annually have been bandied about. From whatever revenues are raised a senate bill now in the house would appropriate 45 millions for relief, and a companion to this, also now in the house, would extend the Illinois Emergency Relief commission until March, 1937.

After the utility tax bill the senate went on to pass two more, then struck from the calendar or defeated all other senate bills on the passage stage. Its only work now is to concur in house amendments to senate bills, consider some of its own resolutions, and act on house bills pending before it.

Optometry Bill Back.

Of the two bills passed and sent to the house one was a measure regulating optometry. A similar bill was stricken from the senate calendar some weeks ago, but on the next day Senator Frank J. Huckin Jr. [Dem., Chicago] introduced a duplicate, let it lie quietly for a month, and gained its passage today in the confusion attendant on the last hours of this session.

The other senate bill, sponsored by Senator John W. Fribley [Dem., Pana], would permit courts to add 10 per cent to damages, as well as reasonable attorney fees, in suits against insurance companies if the evidence shows that the company has "vexatiously" refused to pay the loss suffered.

Passes 15 House Bills.

Then the senate turned to the house bills that its approval would send on to the governor. It passed fifteen of these and halted one, the revised insurance code, for which Ernest Palmer, state director of insurance, has been striving.

When completion of the roll call on the insurance code showed its sponsor an unofficial tally of 16 to 14—ten votes short of passage—consideration of it was postponed. This was the second time the bill had failed in the senate.

By a vote of 31 to 3 the senate approved a proposal to tax Chicago's meat packing industry for sewage wastes dumped into the sanitary district's sewers and channels. Each plant would be entitled to an exemption on 3,650,000 gallons of waste a year.

Opposition to the bill centered in the likelihood that more taxes on the packers might drive the large industry from Chicago. Sanitary district spokes-

EVA COO AWAITS DEATH IN CHAIR; BARS RELATIVES

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Eva Coo, who is to be put to death tomorrow night for the murder of Harry Wright, handy man at her Oswego county roadhouse, has barred relatives from visiting her in the death house at Sing Sing, prison officials revealed today.

The condemned woman was said to be encouraged by the fact that Gov. Lehman is considering her application for a commutation of sentence and believes he will "do something for her."

Mrs. Coo has been in the death house more than nine months. In an affidavit filed with the governor in an effort to save her, Mrs. Coo's attorney, David Slade, charged that Mrs. Martha Clift, hostess at the Coo roadhouse and convicted accomplice in the killing of Wright, was "hoaxed" into testifying against her former employer.

DAY BRINGS INCH OF RAIN; MORE IS LIKELY TODAY

Nearly an inch of rain in the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock last night, brought the total for the month to 4.95 inches, which is 1.99 inches above normal. The rainfall for the day was .97 of an inch. Forecaster J. R. Lloyd predicted today would be cloudy and warmer with the possibility of a shower this afternoon.

Yesterday's intermittent showers, which fell with varying intensity, raised the total since Jan. 1 to 21.22 inches. This is 5.32 inches above the normal fall.

Last year at this time the month had 2.06 inches of rain, a deficiency of .80 of an inch. The year's total to date in 1934 was 6.62 inches, a deficiency of 9.28 inches.

Who'll Feed the Dog? It's Meaty Problem for Judge

A 235 pound Great Dane that eats 10 pounds of choice beef daily will appear today in the Fillmore street police court where Judge Thomas A. Green will decide who is to keep the dog. Joseph Ursin told the judge yesterday that the animal followed him into his butcher shop at 901 North Homan avenue a month ago. Mr. Ursin said he likes the dog and the dog likes his butchering. Michael Frey, 3806 Chicago avenue, declared he is the dog's owner and wants him home.

Lions' Cage Is Open, but They, It Seems, Are Timid

Dallas, Tex., June 26.—(AP)—A trailer containing three lions broke loose from a circus truck, smashed into a ditch, and jarred the cage door open today. Early risers on the outskirts of Dallas ran inside their homes. Emergency calls were made to police. They arrived to find the three beasts peacefully sitting in the cage, the door wide open.

Flood of Sales Tax Tokens to Puzzle Buyers

BY PARKE BROWN.

Ten million sales tax tokens—aluminum gimmicks slightly smaller than dimes—which are to get into circulation in Illinois early in July may provide shoppers with a new form of amusement. Each token is good for the retailers' occupational tax on a 5 cent purchase.

Even now the tokens are being referred to as "buttons" and there may be developed a game between buyer and seller which may be described as "Button, button, who gets the button?" It will be played during attempts to calculate how many of the tokens the customer must pay the salesman to meet his exact sales tax, or the number the salesman must give the customer if, lacking the required number of tokens, the latter pays the sales tax in currency slightly in excess of his total bill.

Find the Old Red Arithmetic!

The state token represents 1½ mills, which in terms of the usual currency of the country is $.0015 or .15 of a cent. It is a departure from the decimal system, a fact that adds to the gayety of the prospective game.

The retail merchant starts the game, supposedly when the increase in the state sales tax to 3 per cent or three cents on the dollar becomes effective next Monday, July 1. The dealer is expected to buy the tokens from the state department of finance at their face value, the delivery being made to him in packages of 40 tokens for which he will pay 6 cents a roll.

Abolish Arbitrary Scale.

Upon receiving his supply, the theory is, the retailer will start collecting from the customer the exact—or almost exact—amount of the tax on his purchase.

Under the present 2 per cent system an arbitrary basis has been used in connection with purchases involving fractions of less than half a dollar.

With the 3 per cent system in effect, currency will be used for all purchases of even dollars. But when fractions arise the tokens—or so it is expected—will come into play.

How the System Works.

John or Jennie Customer buys, for example, a 25 cent article. The tax on that article would be .75 of a cent, or five tokens. If he hasn't the five tokens, John will hand over a cent to cover the tax and will receive back one token, which is as near as the merchant will find possible to the "change" of 2½ mills.

If the retailers, and particularly the five and ten cent stores, go in for punctiliousness, Jennie Customer will pay 6 cents for a nickel article and will get back in "change" five aluminum tokens. If she pays 11 cents for a 10 cent article, she will get back four "buttons." Or she may buy 20 tokens for 3 cents and save all those odd twentieths for a cent.

Appreciate Other Possibilities.

It is predicted the game will be simple so far as equipment is concerned. The tokens will stack 24 to the inch, they will be light—running about 800 to the pound avoirdupois—and if you had 1,000 of them they would represent only $1.50. Some of the men folks say they will be fine for penny ante poker if there is a lack of chips.

U. OF C. CLEARED; HOT REBUKE FOR ONE PROFESSOR

State Senators Issue 'Red' Report.

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Four members of the Illinois senate committee investigating allegations that students of the University of Chicago are being indoctrinated with communistic teachings today submitted their majority report generally clearing the university of all charges, but recommending that Prof. Robert Morss Lovett be retired from the faculty because of his hostile attitude toward American institutions.

No direct statement is contained in the conclusions of the majority report absolving the university. However, throughout the review of the three hearings in Chicago the majority members characterize the testimony as not proving the charges.

Urge Report of Violations.

In the conclusions attention is called to state laws providing severe penalties for advocating the overthrow of the government of the United States or of the several states. Violations of these laws, the conclusions recommend, should be reported to the state's attorney of the county where the alleged violation occurs.

The inquiry grew out of the withdrawal from the university of Miss Lucille Norton by her uncle, Charles R. Walgreen, head of a chain of drug stores. Referring to the testimony offered by witnesses for Mr. Walgreen, the report states:

"All oral testimony offered by Mr. Walgreen does not prove the charges against the University of Chicago even if the witnesses were uncontradicted."

Gives Weight to Exhibits.

The majority members, however, did give weight to exhibits offered in evidence by Mr. Walgreen. After reviewing the activities of Prof. Lovett, the report severely criticizes him as follows:

"Exhibits offered in evidence disclosing Prof. Lovett's activities in communistic or unpatriotic organizations and associations with communistic speakers, regardless of their reputation, prove that Prof. Lovett cannot be an asset to any forward looking American educational institution.

"His personal attitude and testimony before the committee were unsatisfactory. He has frequently participated in communistic meetings in Illinois and other states. The Oxford pledge was given to students at meetings he attended. Fair consideration of all evidence received by the committee compels the conclusion that Prof. Lovett has pursued an unpatriotic course of conduct for a period of eight or ten years.

"Not Loyal," Report Says.

"From the testimony and exhibits considered by the committee he is not loyal to the spirit or letter of the constitution of Illinois or the United States. However, Prof. Lovett lost a son in the world war."

"The testimony of Prof. Lovett of the English department shows that he has been an active participant in various communistic and socialistic meetings. Many of his co-workers in communism are ex-convicts, 'soap-box' orators on the street corners, or other undesirables who have no respect for law.

"Exhibits offered disclose he has been advertised frequently as a speaker at communistic meetings as 'Prof. Robert Morss Lovett, University of Chicago.' Many of the meetings where Prof. Lovett appeared were advertised as 'anti-war' meetings."

Cites Letter by Lovett.

The committee found that even if all exhibits against Prof. Lovett but one were disregarded the proof of his disloyal conduct would be conclusive. This exhibit was a letter written by him in which this sentence appears:

"I was anxious to have the book published as a human story, not caring in the least whether it reflects on the Russian government or the United States government or any other, all, in my opinion, being rotten."

In regard to Prof. Frederick L. Schuman the report states that his signature was obtained to "Culture and the Crisis" under misleading circumstances, "which made it clear that he did not approve of the political sentiments expressed in the pamphlet. Schuman, the report states, denied that he believes in "religion for some people and free love for myself."

"He denies," the majority report continues, "indorsing Foster and Ford.

Board Rebuffs Pacifist Group; Backs ROTC

Three ministers, a University of Chicago professor, and a 1934 high school girl graduate were rebuffed yesterday by the board of education when they appeared before the board to protest against Supt. William J. Bogan's recent request that R. O. T. C. units be established in the eleven Chicago high schools where they do not now exist. There are already units in seventeen schools.

The board, with the exception of one member, Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, affirmed its previous approval of Mr. Bogan's request, which is now before the war department in Washington.

The discussion at the board meeting, before the vote was taken, resolved itself into a debate between the pacifistic group on one side and school officials and teachers on the other.

The Ministers Object.

Objectors to the R. O. T. C. extension were the Rev. Edwin H. Wilson of the Third Unitarian church, the Rev. William Bailey Woltmire of the Humboldt Park Community Methodist church, the Rev. Alva Tompkins of the New England Congregational church, Prof. Maynard C. Krueger of the department of economics at the University of Chicago, who is vice president of the American Federation of Teachers, and Miss June Clair, who was graduated from Senn High school last year. She said she represented the American Youth Congress.

Three high school principals spoke in favor of the R. O. T. C. They were Harry Keeler of Lindblom, Walter F. Slocum of Schurz, and Charles F. Lang of Lane. Maj. Frank L. Beals, a teacher at Lake View High school and former head of the R. O. T. C. in the Chicago schools, also upheld the Bogan plan.

Maj. Beals Hits Objectors.

Maj. Beals charged that the pacifistic group sought to dupe the board. "What these people are advocating is in accordance with a definite plan that originated with the Committee on Militarism in Education, which has offices in Bible house, New York City," said Maj. Beals. "These people come here to gain publicity and make the public think the anti-R. O. T. C. movement is a big thing."

The five pacifistic speakers based their objections to the R. O. T. C. extension on the assertions that the R. O. T. C. teaches the spirit of militarism to pupils and is not good physical training.

Miss Clair asserted that the R. O. T. C. was a detriment to education. She said that girl pupils were told it was an honor to walk down the street with boys in uniform.

Get a Reply from McCahey.

The objectors said that public opinion does not support the R. O. T. C. movement.

In reply to this James B. McCahey, president of the school board, pointed out that membership in the Chicago high school R. O. T. C. units is not compulsory and that a boy must gain the permission of his parents before becoming a member of a unit. Therefore, Mr. McCahey said, membership in the R. O. T. C. is its own proof of public approval.

"The R. O. T. C. has proved its educational value," he said. "That value lies in its usefulness to the individual, the school and to society. It has helped make sturdy, patriotic citizens of our boys, strong in body and steady in character. In addition to being voluntary, it implies no further obligation for military service other than that which every citizen owes to his country. For training in useful citizenship no other activity has measured up to the R. O. T. C."

Fry Speaks His Mind.

Charles W. Fry, a member of the school board, remarked that the groups opposing the R. O. T. C. are made up of "long haired men and short haired women."

In voting against R. O. T. C. extension, Mrs. Hefferan said: "My father was a lieutenant colonel in the civil war and I lost a son in the late war, a first lieutenant. I hate anything that smacks of the military."

COUPLE MAKE UP; WIFE WON'T HAVE TO PAY ALIMONY

Declaring that "two can live more cheaply than one," John Edward Cawkwell, commission merchant, and his wife Mary, 5200 Sheridan road, informed Superior Judge Rudolph F. Desort yesterday that they had settled their domestic difficulties and were back together.

A week ago Mrs. Cawkwell, through her attorney, Norman Becker, gained an injunction tying up her husband's assets pending settlement of her separate maintenance suit. Judge Desort ordered Mrs. Cawkwell to pay her husband $15 a week temporary alimony while his funds were tied up.

Yesterday at Attorney Becker's request the separate maintenance suit [illegible] and the injunction and alimony order were dissolved. "Perhaps," Judge Desort commented, "[illegible] would reduce marital suits."

PRESIDENT ASKS DELAY; PARTY LEADERS UPSET

Millions for Youth

President Roosevelt creates the National Youth administration and allots 50 million dollars for the purpose of giving young people a start in life. Page 2.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—Under fire for assuming the rôle of a dictator, President Roosevelt today repudiated the program agreed on at the White House conference Monday and caused the Democratic leadership to abandon the plan to jam his tax-the-rich legislation through congress in four days.

After another day of confusion and buck-passing which strained relations between Democratic leaders on Capitol hill and the White House it was announced that the President's tax program would not be hitched to the resolution extending the "nuisance" excise taxes, as originally projected, but that its enactment would be postponed until some time next month or later.

Nuisance Excises Passed.

Suiting the action to the word, the Democratic leaders late in the afternoon brought up and put through the senate the resolution extending for one year the 500 million dollars of "nuisance" excise taxes which expire next Sunday midnight. The senate resolution amends that passed by the house, which provided for a two year extension. The measure therefore will go to a conference committee for adjustment of the difference, but its enactment by Saturday is virtually certain.

The senate view was that it might be possible to abolish some, if not all, the nuisance taxes a year hence if the Roosevelt levies on the rich yield the expected revenue.

The Democratic leaders met no opposition to passage of the resolution in the senate after explaining the shift in their program and giving assurances that the President's proposed tax legislation will be initiated in the house at once and that congress will be held in session until it shall be enacted. The session is expected to be prolonged several weeks.

Representative Robert L. Doughton [Dem., N. C.], chairman of the ways and means committee, announced tonight that the committee will proceed as soon as possible to the consideration of the Roosevelt tax bill and will hold public hearings thereon.

Speed Demand Resented.

This kaleidoscopic shift in the administration program was generally ascribed to popular reaction against the jamming of a major legislative measure through congress in a few days without public hearings and adequate debate, in the manner of a European dictatorship and in defiance of the spirit, if not the letter, of the constitution, which prescribes that revenue bills shall originate in the house.

President Roosevelt at his press conference today denied that he had ever intended to jam the legislation through congress as a rider on the nuisance tax resolution. The President's statement was in conflict, however, with the recollections of the Democratic leaders who attended the Monday conference with him. According to their versions of what took place they have been double-crossed by the President.

According to the Capitol hill version the President had decreed the hitching of the tax-the-rich program to the nuisance tax resolution upon being advised that otherwise it would take several weeks, if not months, to get it through congress.

Leaders Find It "Unwise."

In cloakroom conferences yesterday Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader of the senate; Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, and other Democratic leaders who attended the White House session explained that they deemed it unwise to attempt to force passage of the Roosevelt tax bill in four days, but that they had bowed to the will of the executive. Senator Harrison gathered a number of Democratic senators who were in revolt against the program, including Senators Bailey of North Carolina, Clark of Missouri, and King of Utah, and pleaded with them to get in line for his sake.

Senator Harrison told them that he was "in a hole," by which he was understood to mean that as a candidate for reelection next year he felt obliged to carry out the President's orders to put through the tax-the-rich program as a rider on the nuisance tax resolution by Saturday night, however unwise he himself regarded such procedure.

Hitch Becomes Apparent.

This morning, however, it was evident that a hitch in the program had developed. Overnight the President had become fully aware of the revolt stirred in his own party against taking snap judgment on his tax program. And this morning he received no encouragement in the newspapers received at the White House. Not a single editorial commended him, while the Washington Post and the New York Herald-Tribune contained scorching editorials likening the President's legislative tactics to those of Hitler and Mussolini.

Shortly before 11 a. m. the reporters were admitted to his presence.

When he was asked what will happen if congress does not pass a joint tax resolution by Saturday, the President replied with a question of his own.

"What made you assume congress was going to pass a new tax bill by Saturday?" he asked.

Roosevelt Seeks Loophole.

Reporters replied that Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the senate finance committee, had definitly said such was the administration aim. Mr. Roosevelt asked sharply whether the reporters were sure of that, and brought down on his ears a chorus of "I heard him say that."

Taking a new tack, the President said there have been certain intimations in the newspapers that the tax bill was to be passed Saturday night. He has never said that, the President insisted, adding that nobody has ever intimated that in any shape or form from the White House.

He told the reporters to go back into the record to substantiate his statement that he had never said anything about passage by Saturday night. No one at his conference with congressional leaders Monday night ever mentioned such a plan, he said.

Recall Leaders' Statements.

The five congressional leaders, including Senator Harrison, before they entered the White House Monday night said they would not add the "swat the rich" tax to the nuisance tax resolution. As they marched out of the White House they announced a complete reversal in their position.

Asked if he had any idea when the tax bill would be passed, the President replied that passage is in the realm of speculation. Reporters pointed out that if the nuisance taxes are allowed to expire Sunday night the government will lose revenue at the rate of 1½ million dollars a day.

Not necessarily, the President said, admitting that there could be a continuing resolution. He said the aim of his tax program was a better social order more than an increase in revenue.

Asked if he could secure great change in the social order by taking 340 million dollars from the rich on rates revealed in the senate yesterday, the President said he had not studied the rates. He said he had not recommended rates to congress, but only broad principles.

Just a Recommender.

He was not congress, the President said, throwing up his hands and grinning broadly. He said he was just a peaceful little fellow who sat down in the White House and made recommendations.

The hitch in the program came to the surface when the finance committee met and Chairman Harrison announced to his colleagues that the treasury experts were not ready to submit their estimates of the revenue that the proposed taxes on the rich would yield. So the committee adjourned.

Within an hour the reporters brought word of the President's repudiation of the plan to hitch the tax-the-rich scheme to the nuisance tax resolution. And were there red faces on the Democratic side? The leaders were stricken almost speechless. Senator Robinson, when told what the President had said, just burbled something unintelligent and retreated into the senate chamber.

Hold Joint Conference.

There ensued a two hour conference of Democratic leaders of the senate and house, from which the revised program emerged. Then Senator Harrison came forward and "took the rap" for the President. Mr. Roosevelt, said Senator Harrison, had ordered his tax program jammed through in four days. All the President had wanted was action on it before this session ends. The Democratic leaders in the senate had thought it necessary to hitch the Roosevelt taxes to the nuisance tax extension because the Democratic leaders in the house could give no assurance of action on the President's measure otherwise. And the nuisance tax extension must be passed by Saturday or the treasury would lose 1½ millions of revenue a day.

Now, however, the situation had changed. Senator Harrison explained—for publication. The Democratic house leaders today had promised that the house would not be allowed to adjourn until it had passed the President's tax bill. The Democratic leaders of the senate gave a similar pledge for that body so that it no longer was necessary to rush the President's bill through as a rider on the nuisance tax extension.

Fears Lapse of Levies.

Senator Harrison, in calling the joint session on the President's program resolution to extend the nuisance taxes, explained that it had been the plan yesterday to attach amendments carrying out the recommendations of President Roosevelt's message.

"It now seems impossible to carry out those suggestions and give the program the consideration it deserves in time to put it on this resolution," he said. "These so-called nuisance taxes might, and probably would, lapse on June 30, with a consequent loss to the government of from 1½ million to 2 million dollars a day."

Harrison further explained that he had conferred with Speaker Byrns, Chairman Doughton of the ways and means committee, and other house leaders, who had given their pledge to take up the President's suggestions immediately with a view of reporting out a bill for action before adjournment.

Sees Early Adjournment.

"I have also conferred with the leaders in the senate, and they will oppose any adjournment until the program has been acted upon," he added. "I think we can obtain a reasonably early adjournment if we will coöperate toward that end."

Senator Robert La Follette [Radical, Wis.], a soak-the-richer whose round robin calling for action this session was largely responsible for the present muddle, said he was entirely satisfied after being reassured by Harrison.

Senator Charles L. McNary, [Rep., Ore.], the minority leader, interrupted at this point to say he was "somewhat shocked by the change in the senator's attitude, in view of his intention, announced yesterday, to enact this program by Saturday night." McNary added that the senators on his side of the aile would subscribe to the new procedure "because we feel that it is the more orthodox way."

Vandenberg Sarcastic.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] then arose, holding in his hands a sheaf of newspaper editorials containing blistering indictments of President Roosevelt's extraordinary methods.

"In view of this recurrent sanity in the matter of procedure," said Senator Vandenberg, "I have no disposition to discuss the rather amazing situation which we originally thought we confronted when apparently we were going to be asked to rewrite the basic tax laws of the republic in 72 hours. But I do ask unanimous consent that certain editorials be printed in the record as a response of the country to what seemed to be our understanding."

Later Senator Vandenberg, smiling in evident amusement at the situation in which the Democratic leaders found themselves, asked Harrison this question:

"This program has changed so rapidly and so many times in the last ten days that I am wondering if the senator can assure us that this is the final program."

Harrison "Wishes He Knew."

Laughter went up in the galleries as Senator Harrison, extending his arms in a gesture of despair, replied:

"I wish I knew."

Majority Leader Robinson then explained that he and Senator Harrison had believed, from the beginning, that the correct course to pursue was the one "which apparently is being taken now."

"The only reason why that was not done," he added, "was that it was represented that the situation of the ways and means committee in the house was such that it might be several weeks before the measure could be reached; and in view of that situation it was suggested that the tax program to which we are referring be placed as an amendment on this joint resolution."

That the Roosevelt tax bill will not have clear sailing in either house was indicated when the bonus steering committee of the house met and decided to push a new veterans' cash bonus bill at this session, possibly as a rider on the new tax legislation.

Make Blood Tests in Love Suit

SETS 50 MILLION ASIDE TO MAKE JOBS FOR YOUNG

Roosevelt Issues Order to Use Works Fund.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt stole some "thunder on the left" from Senator Huey Long's share the wealth program again today in an executive order creating the National Youth administration.

The order set aside 50 million dollars from the 4 billion dollar works relief program for the purpose of assisting 500,000 youths in getting a start in life. The age group is set at from 16 to 25 years—a group which the President has frequently termed depression's children.

Objectives Outlined.

The President gave the objectives of the administration as:

"1. Find employment in private industry for unemployed youth. Work designed to accomplish this shall be set going in every state in order to work out with employers in industry, commerce and business, ways and means of employing additional personnel from unemployed young people.

"2. Train and retrain for industrial, technical and professional employment opportunities.

"3. Provide for continuing attendance at high school and college.

"4. Provide work relief upon projects designed to meet the needs of youth."

Borrows from Long's Plan.

The second and third of the expressed aims are contained in Senator Long's share the wealth program. In adopting them, the President made his second borrowing from the Kingfish in a week.

Last week, in his "swat the rich" tax message, the President lifted the keystone of Long's program.

The President named Aubrey Williams, assistant federal emergency relief administrator, executive director of the newest New Deal agency. Josephine Roche, assistant secretary of the treasury, was named chairman of a special executive committee to administer the program.

The national executive committee will name state advisory committees which will utilize available school and industrial facilities for the training of youths and work to secure them jobs. The director also will appoint state directors to administer the program with the states.

Says Skill Is Needed.

"I have determined we shall do something for the nation's unemployed youth because we can ill afford to lose the skill and energy of these young men and women," the President said. "They must have their chance in school, their turn as apprentices, and their opportunity for jobs—a chance to work and earn for themselves.

"It is recognized that the final solution of this whole problem of unemployed youth will not be attained until there is a resumption of normal business activities and opportunities for private employment on a wide scale. I believe that my national youth program will serve the most pressing and immediate needs of that portion of unemployed youth most seriously affected at the present time.

"The yield on this investment should be high."

REPORTERS GET 3 MONTHS FOR SCOOPING COURT

Rockville, Md., June 26.—(AP)—Two reporters for the Washington Herald were sentenced to serve 90 days in jail and the American Newspapers, Inc., was fined $5,000 today for publishing the verdict in a murder conspiracy trial before it was announced by the judges.

The verdict was the conviction of John Martin Boland on charges that he conspired with Mrs. Anne Lyddane, blonde bank secretary, to murder her husband.

Counsel for the reporters, Pat Frank and David Lee, filed notice of an appeal and they were released under $2,000 bonds. Elisha Hanson, Chevy Chase, Md., attorney, asked five days in which to file an appeal for the newspaper company.

BILL PROPOSING U. S. LOTTERY TO RECEIVE HEARING BY HOUSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—After battling for two years for recognition of his bill proposing a federal lottery, Representative Edward Kenney [Dem., N. J.] at length attracted the notice today of administration leaders. Announcement was made that hearings on the measure will be started Friday before a ways and means subcommittee.

On three separate occasions the lottery bill was tossed out of the house amidst some ridicule. But Kenney, a dogged Irishman, kept harping on one theme that finally caught the sharp ears of the Democratic leaders who are beginning to worry about finding revenue to meet huge New Deal expenditures.

"The government will get a billion dollars revenue a year from this bill," Kenney kept insisting. That statement eventually got him a hearing.

Kenney said he anticipated opposition to the bill especially from reform organizations who protest that a lottery would promote a national gambling spirit.

"But my investigations show that 200 millions yearly is now being spent in the United States on lotteries," he declared. "On one drawing alone for the Irish hospital sweepstakes, $16,500,000 went out from New York City alone."

JOBLESS REFUSE TO PICK BERRIES; CROP IS PERILED

Hammondton, N. J., June 26.—[Special.]—Refusal of jobless men living on home relief to take jobs as raspberry pickers may cost Hammondton farmers from $50,000 to $75,000 in the next seven days, when their crop is at its peak of ripeness.

The farmers need 1,500 to 2,000 more pickers, but cannot find any one in Atlantic county to take the jobs offered. The unemployed contend that they receive more money on the dole, but the farmers insist that an inexperienced picker, receiving 2½ to 3 cents a pint, can earn from $1.75 to $2.25 a day.

When the reds are ripe they cannot be left on the vines a single day lest they become too soft to be shipped. With every available relative in the field, the farmers have been able to muster only 1,000 pickers. Appeals to the Federal Emergency Relief officials at Atlantic City and to the state employment bureau brought no recruits.

Conroy Denies Fostering Boxing Show Ticket Sales

John E. Conroy, clerk of the Circuit court, declared yesterday that he took no part personally in the sale of tickets for the boxing show staged under his name at the Normal Park athletic field last night. Persons with business in the county building had complained that they were beseiged by salesmen of tickets to political picnics and tournaments. "The affair was sponsored by the Conroy Boosters' club, a ward organization," Conroy said. "My office employés were not given tickets to sell. The sale was carried on entirely by outside workers. The proceeds will be used to buy Christmas baskets for the poor."

PIONEERS PAINT ALASKAN COLONY AS SQUALID SPOT

Residents Protest and List Their Grievances.

PALMER, Alaska, June 26.—(AP)—Colonists who haven't found the Matanuska valley the "promised land" they expected listed their grievances tonight for presentation to Eugene Carr, "trouble shooter" from the Federal Emergency Relief administration.

What changes might result from Carr's investigation was a matter of eager speculation in the colony. He announced the protests would get "no sympathy" unless found justified.

Grievances Are Detailed.

The group loudest in protest—headed by Patrick Hemmer and Mrs. I. M. Sandvik—enumerated their grievances in detail. They said:

1. Many of the colonists feel that the project was misrepresented to them, saying they expected homes to be ready for them upon their arrival, and they are not satisfied with tent life.

2. Many protest against medical facilities, claiming that the doctor sent here was primarily for the transient laborers. The colonists heard he had never taken care of women and children before and alarm grew after the death of a small boy from pneumonia last week. In reply, colony officials said many colonists, to whom cod liver oil was given to build up their health for the long winter nights ahead, refuse to give it to their children, emptying it on the ground.

3. A group, their numbers not exactly known, want pay for all the work they do, including the clearing of their own land. They are refusing to cut logs and help build their homes, saying the corporation agreed to build the log homes. Some of them are reported to have voted to strike for pay on July 2. A rumored strike of FERA transient workers has been halted by the payment of wages to them last Monday and Tuesday.

Claim Seeds Do Not Sprout.

4. Jealousy exists among some of the colonists over the farms they were given.

5. The protest is heard that old seeds which will not grow have been distributed; that cutworms in the ground and insects are hurting crops. One man reported finding frost in the ground in the woods, and said he believed it never left the ground there.

6. It is feared the climate will cause much sickness.

7. Many are worried over the school situation, particularly those living eight miles or more away where no roads are yet built or under construction to the schoolhouse site.

8. Some families from Michigan and Wisconsin say they came north with insufficient winter clothing. In reply officials say the corporation is under no obligation to clothe the families.

Claim FERA Labor Is Lax.

9. The colonists are generally dissatisfied with the FERA transient labor sent north and the way they are handled, saying many line the streets for days doing nothing. One colonist reports having seen fifteen men in a field with a tractor having difficulty handling it.

10. The Matanuska river has been running high and lowlands have been flooded from the thawing of snow and a glacier in the nearby mountains, causing colonists to fear possible floods.

11. The prices of groceries and articles at the store are declared to be exorbitant.

Hopkins Paints Different Picture.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—Picture of Alaskan "pioneering" with railroad service, radioes, a hospital, and a laden commissary today represented Harry L. Hopkins' reply to charges that the Matanuska valley was a nest of disease and discontent.

The FERA administrator put his case before the senate in a report submitted at the request of Senator Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] who had assailed the Alaskan colonization as a "crazy experiment." Vandenberg read to the senate telegrams charging disease and discontent were prevalent at the Palmer colony.

Hopkins conceded that construction was about three weeks behind schedule, but presented as part of his report a telegram from Administrator Irwin of the colony explaining that 225 more men were being rushed in to help with construction to provide homes for the colonists by winter.

The relief administrator virtually pooh-poohed the charge the colony was disease ridden, and quoted Irwin's telegram as saying there was nothing more serious than children's diseases, a mere matter of mumps, measles, and chickenpox.

Tents with boarded floors and walls were said to have been provided for the colonists for temporary shelter, with equipment including cooking utensils, mospuito netting, stoves, beds, and gasoline lamps.

Hopkins challenged certain reports of discontent in the project, and speaking his high hopes for the enterprise, said:

"The Alaskan colonization project, when completed and in successful operation, will offer a new frontier of vast extent in Alaska available to citizens of the United States."

HOUSE ENDS DEBATE ON MARINE SUBSIDY BILL; VOTES TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—Amidst charges that the merchant marine subsidy bill was dictated by shipping lobbyists, the house today completed debate on the measure. A vote will be taken early tomorrow.

Members of the merchant marine committee became indignant when Representative Edward C. Moran [Dem., Me.], hinted that an attorney named Ira Campbell, a representative of the shipping interests, had a hand in the framing of the bill. They denied emphatically that Campbell had wielded any influence with them, although they admitted that the bill, as drafted, agreed with his recommendations.

The bill sets up a maritime authority of five members to pass upon applications of ship builders and operators for subsidies to make up the difference between American and foreign costs of building and operating ships.

Wellington Cobb Crashes Car at Evanston Crossing

Wellington Cobb, 68 years old, 1506 Walnut avenue, Wilmette, drove his automobile yesterday across the southwest corner of West Railroad avenue and Emerson street, Evanston, plowed through the greasing pit of a service station, knocked down a fence, and came to a stop against an ornamental light post. On March 13, at Prairie avenue and Central street, Evanston, Cobb's machine sidewiped two other automobiles, rumbled across a lot, crushed a hedgerow, and struck another car. After this accident he was fined $10. Police said Cobb yesterday blamed both accidents on the fumes from his motor.

CIVIC COUNCIL ASSAILS ICKES HOUSING TANGLE

U. S. Ready to Start Work on South Side Project.

BY AL CHASE.

The Metropolitan Housing council, a group of Chicago civic organizations, yesterday made public a criticism of PWA activities in connection with the proposed $12,500,000 west side housing project. This arraignment of federal operations was contained in a letter addressed to Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior and public works administrator.

At the same time Frederick Z. Marx, Ickes attorney, deposited $1,913,356 with the clerk of the United States District court and also filed a "declaration of taking" whereby the federal government acquired title to the 35 acre site for South Park Gardens, a colored federal housing project on the south side. The site is bounded by 37th street, Cottage Grove avenue, 38th street, Langley avenue, Pershing road, and South Park way.

Clash of Statements.

Although Ickes was quoted in Washington on June 11 as saying that the west side housing project had been definitly abandoned, Marx, who is attorney for the PWA and for Ickes personally, said yesterday that no official notice had been received in Chicago and that the work of securing options on the site still was going ahead. He said the project probably would be much smaller than originally planned.

The Metropolitan Housing council's investigation into the west side situation follows Ickes order on April 11 to stop temporarily all architectural work on the project and his announcement that the scope of the development would be drastically cut as a result of chiseling and high prices demanded by property owners.

Charges Chiseling Rampant.

The letter to Washington told Ickes that most of the trouble involving the west side project came from the "ineffective activities of the housing division of the PWA." The Ickes organization had reported that chiseling was rampant in the west side area both by lawyers, real estate operators, and by persons claiming to be government representatives.

The letter to Ickes suggested that any PWA information about chiseling lawyers be given to the Chicago Bar association as a basis for possible disbarment of the guilty persons. It added that "other unscrupulous operators should be given full publicity."

Long delays and too much investigating by Ickes and others enabled the chiselers to get into full action, the report stated.

Over 20 Investigations.

"More than four months passed between the announcement of the project and the first negotiation for land," the letter to Ickes said. "During that time some twenty investigations were made in the neighborhood by state, county, federal, and private agencies. This caused confusion and gave time for chiseling.

"PWA should get in touch with the property owners in a project area as soon as a project is selected and explain the purposes and benefits of the project. The public as a whole should have the benefit of this information promptly. This should be done before other studies are made and before there is an opportunity for confusion and chiseling to arise."

The letter added that the delays in acquiring land were due to lack of public understanding of what it was all about and to "the crude methods of the government representatives."

Cite Project Obstacles.

The investigating committee of the Metropolitan Housing council, headed by J. L. Jacobs, former assessor for Cook county, cited various other obstacles to the carrying out of the west side project, but did not comment because it was not permitted to have official PWA data.

Jacobs said he tried to get through the maze of federal red tape at Washington, but failed.

"We didn't comment because we felt that justice could not be given when the committee had only one side of the case," he said last night. "Both the committee and the local PWA officials applied to Washington for authority to give out official data, but all requests were denied on account of established departmental policy."

The letter to Ickes asserted that "the least that can be done is to go ahead with the project, in full or in part, on as much land as can be purchased at fair and ust prices." To secure completion of the west side project the letter suggested a strong citizens' committee be formed to act as a liaison body between the government and the public.

It also urged that land acquisition be given precedence over "administrative and investigational measures."

Will House 1,689 Families.

Condemnation proceedings were started last October on the site of the south side housing development. The contemplated $7,000,000 development will house 1,689 families, it was stated. The buildings to be erected will range from four story apartment houses to two story flats and two story row houses.

According to Marx the $1,913,356 will be distributed under the direction of Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan to the property owners in the area. Options have been secured on more than 55 per cent of the area, he said. In cases where owners do not accept the government's offers the court will adjudicate the price, although the government will take immediate possession. As demolition probably will not start before Aug. 1, the tenants will have at least a month in which to move elsewhere.

"PANTS" BANDITS ROB FOUR.

Three gunmen yesterday invaded a meat market at 1435 West 63d street, compelled the owner, Ross Dunson, two clerks and a man customer to remove their trousers, locked them in a back room, and escaped with $95 taken from their victims.

N. Y. HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL IS OUSTED AFTER COMPLAINTS

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—William R. Hayward, principal of the Theodore Roosevelt High school, was dismissed from service in the public school system by action of the board of education tonight in sustaining a report of a special committee of the board which tried the principal on nine charges.

Mr. Hayward was suspended without pay last Feb. 16. Tonight the board by a vote of 6 to 0 decided Mr. Hayward's suspension without pay should be in force from Feb. 16 to the date of his dismissal.

The committee, headed by Col. Walter Jeffreys Carlin, heard witnesses on charges which included allegations that Mr. Hayward had borrowed money from his teachers, used the club of favoritism over them, raised collateral among them for a loan, neglected his duty, conducted himself prejudicial to good order and discipline, failed to give truthful statements and mixed school funds with his personal bank account. He was found guilty by the committee on seven of the nine charges.

2 CHILDREN DIE IN FLOOD; RAINS PELT WIDE AREA

Pair Swept Away from Under Bridge.

St. Louis, Mo., June 26.—Special.—Two lives were lost in Missouri today as torrential rains of cloudburst proportions sent streams swirling out of their banks. Railroad trafic was tied up and crop lands inundated.

Rosanna Holland, 7, and Bobby Johnson, 6, were drowned near Louisiana, Mo. They were swept to their deaths as they sought shelter under a bridge from rapidly rising creek waters.

Flee from Their Homes.

Des Moines, Ia., June 26.—[Special.—Rising flood waters forced lowland residents along the Des Moines and Iowa rivers to flee from their homes today as damage mounted from storms in other parts of the state.

A downpour of 4.19 inches at Council Bluffs and at Omaha, just across the state line, sent Indian creek on a rampage. Mud was so thick on Council Bluffs streets that snow plows were used to clean them. Damage there was estimated at over $200,000.

Four persons were severely injured in Omaha as a result of the heavy downpour, which was accompanied by lightning and high winds.

The flood mounted 3.5 feet at Marshalltown during the night. Lowlands farmers near that city abandoned their homes as the muddy waters of the swollen Iowa river surged onto their land.

Beaches of Park District to Be Opened on Monday

Chicago park district beaches will be officially opened to the public next Monday, July 1, it was announced yesterday by Harry O'Hare, supervisor of golf and beaches for the district. O'Hare said a test yesterday showed that the lake water had a temperature of 61 degrees. He said a temperature of 65 degrees is required before the district will officially sanction swimming in the lake.

Two Hungarian Actresses Freed on False Suit Charge

Los Angeles, Cal., June 26.—(AP)—Two Hungarian actresses, Vilma Aknay and Sari Fedak, were acquitted today of charges of conspiracy to file and maintain a false suit against Ernst Vajda, noted playwright. Miss Aknay sued Vadja for $250,000, alleging breach of promise. Miss Fedak was her principal witness. Miss Aknay later dropped the suit.

POLICE GET ORDERS TO ENFORCE BAN ON SALE OF FIREWORKS

Police Commissioner Allman yesterday issued an order to all district commanding officers to enforce the city ordinance prohibiting the sale of fireworks for July 4 celebrations. Any person violating the ordinance will be prosecuted and his stock of fireworks confiscated, the commissioner said.

The order followed the receipt of a letter from Mayor Kelly in which the mayor asked coöperation of parents in keeping pyrotechnic equipment from their children "to the end that Chicago may enjoy a Fourth of July free from unnecessary accidents."

The city fire department also is coöperating in the drive for a "safe and sane" July 4. George E. Graves, chief of the fire prevention bureau, said he has instructed his inspectors to confiscate fireworks found within the city limits.

TRACE SWEITZER INTEREST RECORD TO FIX LIABILITY

With a view of fixing the extent of the civil liability of Robert M. Sweitzer who was ousted as county treasurer after an audit disclosed a shortage of $414,129 in his accounts as county clerk, prosecutors yesterday delved into records of his office to ascertain the amount of hitherto undisclosed collections of interest on public funds which he held.

Of the default charged against Sweitzer, $72,243 consisted of claims for interest which it was charged he collected but did not turn over to the county, according to the audit made by R. L. Pearce & Co. The Pearce auditors, however, were unable to get a complete record of Sweitzer's interest collections and state's attorney's auditors have been checking this phase of the investigation.

Estimates of probable interest collections uncovered by the investigators which would be added to the $414,129 shortage range as high as $150,000. This would bring the total to $560,129, which the state's attorney's office will seek to recover for the county in civil suits against Sweitzer.

Rescinds Wage Cut Order; Workers Return to Jobs

Belleville, Ill., June 26.—(AP)—Two hundred employés of the Weil-Kolter Rayon company at Millstadt, Ill., returned to work today from a strike when the company rescinded a wage cut order. The strike of 170 women and 30 men workers was called yesterday to protest a 15 per cent reduction in wages.

NEW BATHROOM FOR EVERY FARM CALLED U. S. AIM

Electrification Chief Gives Outline of Plans.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A bathroom and an electric cookstove and other modern appliances in every farmhouse possible is one of the new aims of the New Deal as set forth yesterday by Morris L. Cooke, administrator of the Rural Electrification administration.

Addressing the National Association of Master Plumbers at the Stevens hotel, he pictured farm plumbing and electrification as a "new frontier" and said the New Deal is setting up facilities on a nation-wide scale, whereby farmers may buy plumbing and electrical equipment on instalments.

Farm Electricity Is Basic Aim.

The rural electrification agency is one of the latest set up by the New Deal. It was established May 11 under the work relief program, and it has an allocation of 100 million dollars. Its purpose is to bring electricity to farms by financing distribution lines that will tap transmission lines. The projects are to be "self-liquidating."

The plumbers and electricians, and the makers of plumbing and electrical appliances are being urged to get together and develop standardized low cost units which may be sold by a single sales force instead of by items.

Senator Patrick A. McCarran of Nevada roused a laugh. "I come from the wide open spaces," he said, "where Chick Sale got the inspiration for his novel on plumbing. My father was a plumber. He came plumb from the north of Ireland; my mother came plumb from the south of Ireland, so there you are."

Outlines Nation-Wide Plans.

To help the farmers to buy the appliances, the Electrical Home and Farm authority, a subsidiary of the Tennessee Valley authority, is to operate on a nation-wide basis, as outlined by Mr. Cooke. It will finance purchases, and the instalments will be collected by the utility—private or public—furnishing the electricity.

Mr. Cooke is an engineer who has served as director of public works of Philadelphia, as chairman of the Mississippi valley committee that made a survey under the Public Works administration and as chairman of the water resources committee of the national resources board. Unlike the TVA, which is developing government electrical utilities to compete with existing private utilities, Administrator Cooke stated the Rural Electrification administration will not be a rival of private utilities.

"We shall work through three agencies," he said, "the private utilities, coöperatives, and publicly owned utilities. About 95 per cent of the electrical service is from private utilities, and anybody of a practical bent will concede that when we've finished it won't be much different.

Minimizes Competitive Angle.

"We'll start from scratch; there'll be no competition, for it is virgin territory; no butting in on private utilities The problem is to get the largest number of farmers to use electrical juice, and it is largely a question of coöperation between the rural electrification agency and the appliance people, both plumbing and electrical. The way to lower rates is to increase use and the need is for standardization of design and a cheaper line of appliances. The distribution projects are to be self-liquidating.

"As to purchasing appliances, farmers may be financed by the EHFA—enlarged to a nation-wide basis—and other agencies, and instalments would be collected by the utility providing the current.

Addressing the master plumbers whose 53d annual convention has brought a large attendance, Director Cooke remarked:

"Is it not possible, by a combination of simplification, standard design, mass production and wholesale sales promotion, to give the farmer a low cost, small profit bathroom that he will simply have to install—even poor as he may be today? Would it not be possible for you to effect an understanding with the manufacturers of electric ranges, refrigerators, heaters, irons, pumps, and other apparatus, so that in this new territory your salesman will be one who can sell a completely electrified home?

Cites Benefit to Industry.

"Rural electrification is the impetus for which you have long waited to start your factories working again and to open up a market for sanitary facilities the like of which has not been felt by industry."

Walter J. Kohler, former governor of Wisconsin and president of the Kohler company, manufacturers of plumbing fixtures, addressing the convention later in the day, said that he believes that the nation has emerged from the economic depression but still is in the throes of a "political depression."

"There are some indications of returning prosperity," he said, "but certain legislative proposals and extreme plans of taxation have disturbed confidence and brought about hesitancy over new investments and new enterprises."

BACK CONSTITUTION OATHS BY TEACHERS BILL BECOMES LAW

Boston, Mass., June 26.—(AP)—Gov. James M. Curley today signed a bill requiring every public and private school teacher to swear allegiance to state and federal constitutions. Only college exchange professors are exempted from provisions of the law.

A bitter fight for and against the bill was waged in the legislature, with wide disregard for political and denominational interests. Chief support came from veterans' and patriotic organizations.

Virtually every principal educational institution in the commonwealth opposed the oath bill. President James Bryant Conant of Harvard and Dr. Karl T. Compton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology spoke against it, as did the Rev. Louis J. Gallagher, S. J., president of Boston college [Roman Catholic], and Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston university, Methodist.

While Gov. Curley openly espoused the measure he was opposed by his own commissioner of education, Payson Smith.

The state's women's colleges joined with men's colleges in fighting the bill.

U. OF C. CLEARED; HOT REBUKE FOR ONE PROFESSOR

State Senators Report on "Red" Inquiry.

communist candidates in the campaign of 1932. He stoutly denies that he is a Socialist or a communist. He emphatically asserts that he believes in the principles of the American form of government."

Referring to the evidence submitted by Hulen Carroll, a student of the university, the report stated:

"Without extensively reviewing the evidence of Mr. Carroll, it is sufficient to state that his grievances against the university professors grew out of the result of his own repeated violations of well established rules and regulations of the university.

"Mr. Carroll's evasive answers to questions on the witness stand, and his lack of ready response thereto, lead one to wonder if he had properly 'prepared' his testimony."

Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university, is one of the 24 advisers to the Institute of International Education maintainging summer sessions in 21 countries, including Russia. The committee records the names of a number of prominent financiers who are among its directors, and the names of the Carnegie corporation, the Rockefeller Foundation, and the Carl Schurz Foundation as financing the institute.

Four of Five Sign Report.

The four signers of the majority report are Senators W. H. Hickman [Dem., Paris], who wrote the report; Richey V. Graham [Dem., Cicero], committee chairman; John W. Fribley [Dem., Pana], and James J. Barbour [Rep., Evanston]. The fifth committee member, Senator Charles W. Baker [Rep., Davis Junction], who started the investigation, made his minority report public yesterday.

Barbour and Graham submitted to the senate a statement of special concurrence in the majority report, in which the two Cook county men more explicitly cleared the university. They indicated that Prof. Lovett should be retired, and charged Prof. Schuman with being negligent in permitting the use of his name.

Not Helpful to University.

"We cannot fail," read this concurrence statement, "to express our feeling that the outside activities and some of the extra-campus affiliations of Prof. Lovett are not conducive to effective or helpful service on his part as a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago, and that in view of his long service and scholastic attainment in the field of English literature he is deserving of honorary retirement with usual and suitable provisions for emeritus professors.

"It is in no unfriendly spirit that we express the belief that his long years of study and authorship and a family affliction incident to the world war may have weakened his judgment to the extent of causing him to pen a letter in which he speaks of all governments — specifically including the United States, as rotten."

"Neither the University of Chicago nor any of its professors," reads the concurring statement, "have advocated the violent overthrow of the established form of government of the United States and the state of Illinois.

Held Conducted Properly.

"On the contrary, its social science department is conducted along recognized, proper lines providing for the instruction of students in political and social science, in the history of the various forms of government throughout the world.

"Nothing in the teachings or schedule of the school can be held to be subversive of our institutions or the advocation of the communist form of government as a substitution for the present form of the government of the United States."

The concurring statement also contained expressions intended to discourage the presence of communists on the campus or in the classrooms, or the association of faculty members with communists. It urges a closer control by the university over student publications and activities, and recommends that the faculty and students study the acts of congress against sedition and the provisions of the Illinois criminal code in relation to that subject.

Appended also to the majority report was a separate statement signed by Senator Fribley. Commenting on the appearance of Carl Haessler, a known communist, on the campus, and sentence to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth on the charge of being a draft dodger, Fribley wrote:

"The undersigned does not feel that an individual with such a background of disloyalty should be allowed the platform privileges of a hall of such a great institution as is the University of Chicago."

In a further supplementary statement by Graham, Hickman, and Fribley the minority report made by Baker is attacked as being a bid for publicity and as not being based on the testimony offered at the committee hearings. Baker had recommended a continuance of the investigation and the recall of tax exempt privileges from schools in the state permitting the teaching of communism.

'DEMOCRATIC AIM' OF SOVIET TOLD BY TROYANOVSKY

Alexander A. Troyanovsky, Russian ambassador to the United States, declared yesterday in a luncheon talk before the Chicago Bar association that the government of soviet Russia is based on democratic principles and does not contemplate "divinity of leadership." Dictatorship in the U. S. S. R., he said, could be considered only a temporary measure to deal with an emergency.

Another talk in which the Russian government was painted in favorable light was made yesterday in Mandel hall, University of Chicago, by Vladimir Romm, special correspondent of the Moscow Izvestia. Mr. Romm spoke under the sponsorship of the Norman Waite Harris Memorial Foundation. He asserted that under his government's plans the whole of Russia was being developed equitably for the benefit of the whole people. Russia, he added, looked for no "adventures abroad," and was therefore a great factor for international peace.

LOVETT ASSERTS SENATE CENSURE IS UNWARANTED

U. of C. Professor Denies He Is a Communist.

Prof. Robert Morss Lovett of the department of English at the University of Chicago, who was singled out for censure in the majority report of a state senate committee that investigated charges of communistic activity at the university, declared last night that no conduct or utterance of his could warrant the committee's conclusions.

He was accused of "unpatriotic" conduct by the four legislators signing the report, which declared that he "could not be an asset to any forward looking American educational institution." In a supplemented report two of the committee members indicated he should be retired.

"From the questions asked me during the committee hearings and my answers I find nothing which warrants such censure," said Prof. Lovett in his apartment at Hull house.

Denies He's a Communist.

"They accused me of belonging to communist organizations and associating with communists. This apparently is the result of my membership in the American Civil Liberties union and the American League Against War and Fascism.

"The union defends those persons deprived of their constitutional rights, and the league campaigns against war. There happen to be several communists who are members of both. I am not a communist."

In regard to the Oxford pledge, cited in the report, Prof. Lovett declared that he considered this nothing more than an individual interpretation of the Kellogg peace pact, putting the outlawry of war on a personal basis.

Hutchins Out of the City.

Prof. Lovett said he had not had an opportunity to confer about the senators' report with Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university, who is out of the city and will not return until tomorrow noon. There has been no intimation yet that he would be asked to resign, he said.

"I am responsible to Dr. Hutchins and the university's board of trustees for any statements I have made either on or off the campus, and I stand ready to appear before the board at any time and answer for them," Prof. Lovett added.

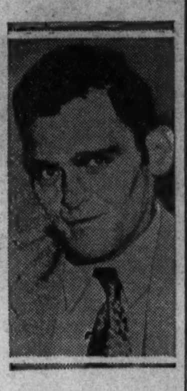
Prof. Frederick L. Schuman of the political science department at the university who was criticized in the supplemented report as "negligent" for allowing his name to be used on a communistic document, could not be reached at his home at 6420 Minerva avenue last night.

In the absence of Dr. Hutchins, Frederic Woodward, vice president of the university, said that the university was gratified with the conclusions of the majority report, which in a general way cleared the institution of the charges against it. Dr. Woodward said that to his knowledge no member of the faculty had ever been accused of violating the state sedition law.

"President Hutchins pointed out to the senate committee that the university would not tolerate any faculty member remaining here if he violated that act," he declared. "The university attempted to give the committee the fullest possible coöperation in its investigation and naturally is gratified by its exoneration. It expected to be exonerated."

WALTER O'MALLEY HALTS LUER KIDNAP TRIAL; IS GIVEN LIFE

Edwardsville, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—The kidnaping trial of Walter [Irish] O'Malley ended dramatically today when the dapper defendant suddenly arose and pleaded guilty of the 1933 abduction of August Luer, 79 year old Alton, Ill., banker.



WALTER O'MALLEY.

The presentation of the state's case was stopped at once and O'Malley was sentenced to life imprisonment. In opening statements to the jury prosecutors had asked that the kidnaper be sent to the electric chair.

O'Malley pleaded guilty after hearing the testimony of two former pals, who were brought from prison, where they were serving life sentences for complicity in the Luer kidnaping. Testifying for the state, they pictured O'Malley as the instigator and prime influence in the abduction.

Seven persons have now been convicted in the Luer case, four of them receiving life sentences.

DIES WHILE PAINTING HOUSE.

While painting a house at 1000 Loyola avenue yesterday, Harry A. Lehman, 60 years old, 1403 Jarvis avenue, suffered a fatal heart attack and fell a short distance to the ground. Death was caused by heart disease, according to medical examination.

NOW I know why a Certain City got Famous

"WHERE are we?"
I asked the dining car waiter.
"MILWAUKEE, suh." "Oh," said I, "the PLACE Schlitz beer made famous.
LET me have a bottle so I
CAN find out why."
IN a moment he was back with a
BROWN bottle which he opened
REVERENTLY and I tasted slowly.
RIGHT away I knew this was a
BEER of beers . . . it slid down as SMOOTH as water over a dam.
CERTAINLY makes a fellow forget the HEAT, thought I, on my third bottle.

NEXT morning I was home and TALKING to my friend dealer.
"YOU keep Schlitz beer?" I asked.
"NOT long," he says; "we sell it."
"NEVER mind the gags," I said, "just TELL me why it's different."
"THE reason is simple," he says.
"ALL beer when brewed contains
ENZYMES, a fancy name for something
NATURE puts into things to ripen them.
BUT Enzymes never know when to stop.
SO the trick is to catch an APPLE or a vat of beer at the PEAK of its mellow flavor.

SCHLITZ have been doing it for GENERATIONS. But now they do it
EVEN better with their secret process
CALLED Precise Enzyme Control, which MEANS scientific regulation of TEMPERATURE, timing, ingredients . .
AND means that every drop of Schlitz
IS caught at the top of full ripeness,
AGED for months and its flavor
PROTECTED by the Brown Bottle."

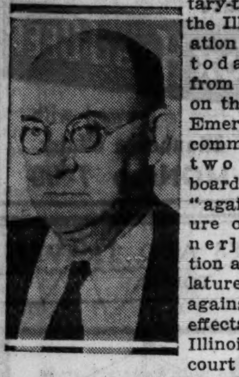
LABOR BILLS DIE IN STATE SENATE; OLANDER QUITS

Chicagoan Protests as He Gives Up Jobs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Victor A. Olander, Chicago labor leader and secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Federation of Labor, today resigned from membership on the Illinois Emergency Relief commission and two other state boards, in protest "against the failure of the [Horner] administration and the legislature" to guard against the legal effects of three Illinois Supreme court decisions rendered last April 17.



VICTOR OLANDER.

These decisions, Olander said, invalidated the occupational diseases act and the health, safety and comfort act. Two bills sponsored by organized labor and introduced by Senator John M. Lee [Dem., Chicago] would have provided "remedial" legislation to deal with this situation. They were vigorously opposed by Illinois industry.

Both Bills Killed.

Today both bills were killed in the senate by a vote of 9 affirmative votes to 16 negative votes.

Olander immediately issued a statement saying that he had tendered his resignation to Gov. Horner from the relief commission, the Illinois state housing commission, and the advisory committee of the commission on citizenship and naturalization.

He charged in his statement that by the Supreme court decisions "the workers of the state were hurled back a quarter of a century in the matter of protection of life, limb, and health in industry."

The bills failed of passage at a brief session during which Senator Richard J. Barr [Rep., Joliet] declared that while their purpose was commendable that not enough study had been devoted to the matter and that the senate should have time in which to do so.

Lee replied by declaring that the legislature "hasn't passed a bill this session for the working people," but on roll call the measure received only nine votes.

Gov. Horner Replies.

When advised of Olander's statement, Horner said:

"It is with great regret and surprise that I learn of the announced quotation of Olander to resign from the state commissions of which he has been a valuable member.

"I have not accepted his resignation and I hope that he will reconsider his decision made in a moment of justified dissatisfaction at the failure of the legislature to pass legislation for the benefit of the workers he so earnestly represents.

"I also share the disappointment of Mr. Olander. He has assured me that the tendering of his resignation was in no sense a criticism of the governor."

CANADA HANGS FATHER AND SON; SLEW CONSTABLE

ST. THOMAS, Ont., June 27 (Thursday).—(AP)—Frank Temple, 52, and his 21 year old son, Fred, who killed a policeman rather than face a bicycle theft charge, were hanged early today in the Elgin county jailyard.

The executions were the first in this county in 40 years.

The father dropped through the gallows trap at 1:05 a. m. (Chicago time) and Fred followed 23 minutes later.

There was no immediate announcement of the execution from the sherif's office, but persons outside the jailyard heard the springing of the trap each time.

Large tarpaulins, borrowed from the city fire department, were stretched above the jailyard walls so that persons in nearby houses were unable to watch.

The Temples, also known under the name of MacTemple, were convicted of killing Constable Colin C. McGregor, one of a party of three officers who attempted to arrest the pair on May 7, 1934.

The wife and mother of the two men, five of her children, and two other relatives bade them farewell late yesterday.

Other Measures Approved.

Among the other house bills passed were:

House bill 1135—James P. Boyle [Dem., Chicago]—Provides that Chicago city council can pension employés 65 years old who have served city in appointive or elective positions for thirty years. Apparently applies to John A. Richert, chief of the council finance committee staf, a former alderman.

House bill 1153—Edward P. O'Grady [Dem., Chicago]—Permits Chicago board of education to issue tax warants for building purposes up to 90 per cent, the amount of warants between 75 and 90 per cent to be sold to the federal government in connection with loans or grants from the federal public works relief program.

House bill 943—Frank G. Ring [Dem., Harvey] and Frank E. Foster [Rep., Harvey]—Provides that in any territory within the Chicago park district prior to May 1, 1934, but lying partly within and partly without city of Chicago, the part outside is disconnected from district but is still liable for its proportionate part of its bonded indebtedness.

H. B. 838—James P. Doyle [Dem., Chicago]—Appropriates $222,130 for the ordinary and contingent expenses of the department of mines and minerals for the coming biennium.

H. B. 79—Louie E. Louis [Dem., Christopher]—Provides for discharge of personal sureties on bonds of public officials for money deposited in a bank which was later closed by the state or federal government.

H. B. 211—George A. Fitzgerald [Dem., Chicago]—Provides that any taxpayer desiring to object to tax assessments must first pay 75 per cent of the tax assessed.

H. B. 213—Fitzgerald—Provides that ownership of property for the purpose of omitting the addition of back taxes shall be held to refer to bona fide legal titles or interests.

H. B. 1083—Thomas P. Sinnett [Dem., Rock Island]—Provides for additional inheritance tax on beneficiaries if total tax paid the state is less than the total credit allowed under the federal revenue act of 1926.

H. B. 827—William W. Powers [Dem., Chicago]—Provides for quadrennial preparation in Cook county of forfeiture tax extension records, and other provisions on forfeitures.

H. B. 579—Sinnett—An act giving powers to department of registration and education to regulate persons engaged in funeral directing and embalming.

House bill 44—John M. Bolton [Dem., Chicago]—A uniform drug act regulating the manufacture and sale of narcotics.

House bill 1099—Bernice T. Van der Vries [Rep., Winnetka]—Permits cities under one-half million population to issue refunding bonds payable out of water revenues.

New Nursemaid Missing with Gems Valued at $1,500

Mrs. Edward Davis, 6339 North Sacramento avenue, engaged a new nurse girl on Tuesday to care for her 7 year old son. Yesterday Mrs. Davis stepped out of the house for half an hour. When she returned she found the maid had absconded with jewelry worth $1,500. Police were notified.

Peoria, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Gerald Thompson, confessed rapist-slayer of 19 year old Mildred Hallmark, pleaded for a "break" today when he was brought secretly into Peoria county Circuit court to have the date for his trial set. Judge Henry Ingram set the trial for July 22.

Because of previous threats of mob violence, the arraignment was not announced in advance and only a few persons were present. Thompson was brought here early today from the Macon county jail at Decatur, one of the three places he had been held since being rushed away from Peoria Saturday morning. The others were Bloomington and Clinton.

Thompson entered no formal plea to the charges of murder, rape, and other acts of violence. Judge Ingram indicated he would insist that a plea be made within a few days.

The youth's attorney, Ben Thurman, appointed by the court, asked that the case be set for the September term of court. When the court upheld the strenuous objections of State's Attorney E. V. Champion, Thompson covered his face with his hands and pleaded:

"Why don't you give me a break, judge?"

"The court will reserve for you all the rights to which you are entitled," Judge Ingram replied firmly.

Remanded to the custody of Sherif Mark Olson, Thompson was taken away to the Peoria county jail. As he walked, unfettered, from the courtroom he kicked and smashed a newspaper photographer's camera. A heavy guard was placed over him in the county jail, where it is expected he will be held until arraigned for trial.

ROBBED OF $1,000 WHISKY.

M. C. Stewart, colored, 5637½ Prairie avenue, reported to the Chicago avenue police yesterday that three gunmen halted him on the lower level of Michigan avenue near the Wrigley building, transferred $1,000 worth of whisky from Stewart's truck to theirs and escaped.

FAIR AND AIRPORT BILLS PUSHED TO PASSAGE STAGE

Expect Both to Be Up for Vote Today.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Mayor Kelly's bills to establish a permanent fair in Burnham park on Chicago's lake front survived Republican assaults in the house late today and were sent to third reading. Into the same advantageous position—but with unanimous consent—came the lake front airport bill. Both probably will be called for passage tomorrow.

Two amendments were offered to the fair bill. Elmer J. Schnackenberg [Rep., Chicago] tried to kill it by striking out the enacting clause. Mrs. Bernice T. Van der Vries [Rep., Winnetka] sought to place responsibility for establishment of the amusement and exposition park with the voters by providing a referendum. Both amendments failed.

Kelly on Rostrum.

Mayor Kelly was sitting alongside Speaker Devine during action on the fair bills, but he did not hear himself mentioned by name save in a highly complimentary sense. Replying to Schnackenberg's predictions that the permanent fair would bring with it "dancing girls and the flavor of Coney Island" to besmudge the vista of the planetarium, the aquarium, and the Field museum, Majority Leader Adamowski of Chicago had a spirited retort.

"You say that you are filled with pride at the beauties of the lake front," he addressed the Republicans. "Back of this legislation is the same person who gave you the things that you are admiring, for as president of the south park board he was directly responsible for these marvelous benefits."

On Taxpayers' Land.

Schnackenberg sustained his motion to strike the enacting clause of the bill by declaring that the fair would be located on land built by the taxpayers.

"And you are being asked to turn over this land to a politically appointed and constituted board of directors," he said. "This bill stipulates that 180 acres of Burnham park could be used for a fair, but since there is nothing in the bill to indicate which acres shall be used, they might extend all the way down the shore from 12th to 61st street. This legislature is being asked to turn over the entire shore line.

"If this bill passes and becomes law, citizens attempting to visit the planetarium and observe the skies might find themselves induced by a barker to visit the fair and see another kind of star, Sally Rand, do her dance."

Fears Front Porch Eyesore.

Burnham park, said Lyons, "would become 'Burn-'em' park, featuring flea circuses, wax works and the dancing girls."

"Hoo-ray!" shouted the Democratic members.

Adamowski paid his tribute to Mayor Kelly and continued by telling the Republicans that one of their party, Charles S. Peterson, former city treasurer of Chicago and vice president of A Century of Progress, was a stanch backer of the permanent fair.

Only Money Bills Survive.

The morning session was concluded by wiping all house bills, save those carrying appropriations, from the calendar. Henceforth only appropriations and senate bills will be considered.

The most intensive battle of the early session was waged by members of a house subcommittee which investigated production and distribution of milk and introduced a bill calling for the establishment of a milk marketing board which would supervise the entire milk industry. It would consist of the director of agriculture, Walter McLaughlin, as chairman, and four members appointed by the governor. The power would be broad, including supervision of the production, processing, finishing, distribution, and sale of the entire products of dairy animals.

Sponsored by Five.

Sponsors were Frank A. McCarthy [Rep., Elgin], M. F. Hennebry [Dem., Wilmington], Thomas A. Bolger [Dem., McHenry], John C. Kluczynski [Dem., Chicago], and David Hunter [Rep., Rockford]. Hunter, McCarthy and Bolger were the most ardent spokesmen for the bill, declaring that the legislation was needed, but a great many members from the rural districts opposed it, and after a futile attempt at passage roll call, consideration was postponed.

A few moments later the motion to strike was made and the milk legislation died on the calendar.

IGOE IN CONFERENCE WITH CUMMINGS; TO BE IN CHICAGO SOON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—Michael L. Igoe, recently appointed United States district attorney at Chicago, conferred briefly today with Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

"I called to pay my respects and discuss a few routine matters," Igoe said. "Nothing of importance was brought up during the meeting."

Igoe revealed that his visit to Washington was principally made for the purpose of moving his wife and son and Igoe household effects back to Chicago. The family came here when Igoe began his term in congress as congressman-at-large for Illinois at the first of the year. He resigned his seat in congress to take his present post.

He will return to Chicago Friday morning.

BEATER OF BABY ELECTS LASH, BUT CHANGES TO JAIL

After consultation with his lawyer, Gregory said he would accept the lash. His wife was sentenced to jail for six months.

Arrangements were made for Gregory to take his beating in the alley next to police headquarters. But by the time a big bull whip was found Gregory elected to serve his jail sentence instead.

$75,000 Injury Suit Against Fair Is Settled for $27,500

The $75,000 personal injury suit of Allan Nelson Linn, 24 years old, of Ishpeming, Mich., against A Century of Progress has been settled for $27,500, Linn's attorney, Royal W. Irwin, said yesterday. Linn alleged that while he was employed by A Century of Progress he lost one eye through the explosion of a tear gas gun that was negligently exposed. Previously a jury awarded Linn $75,000, but the decision was reversed by the Appellate court.

BATTLE FOR CUT IN AUTO LICENSE FEES IS STARTED

Movement Has Backing of Mayor Kelly.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—An eleventh hour fight for an automobile license fee reduction was opened in the senate here today. It was inspired by Mayor Kelly of Chicago, and was begun in the legislature by the mayor's spokesman, Senator Harold G. Ward [Dem., Chicago].

Secretary of State Hughes likewise threw his support behind the reduction proposal in a belated effort to fulfill his announcement of a year ago that he would urge an automobile tax cut before this session of the general assembly.

Proposed Reduction.

Today's proposal would save the motorists of Illinois approximately $3,400,000 a year. The change in the rates for license plates would be on a sliding scale that Senator Ward said would amount to approximately a 20 per cent cut. This advocated change is shown by the following table listing the present rates determined by horse power, with those that are proposed:

	Now.	Proposed.
Motorcycles	$ 4.00	$ 3.00
25 h. p. and under	8.00	6.00
25 to 35 h. p.	12.00	9.00
35 to 50 h. p.	20.00	12.00
Over 50 h. p.	25.00	15.00

Because there are but three more days in the life of the legislature, it was too late to introduce a new bill with any prospects of its passage, so parliamentary strategy was exercised. Senator Ward presented the proposition as an amendment to house bill 392, an inconspicuous measure requiring buses to carry flares for emergency warning signals when forced to stop at night on the highways.

Up for a Vote Now.

House bill 392 has passed the house and was on second reading in the senate. The senate this afternoon adopted the amendment and advanced the bill as amended to third reading, the passage stage.

The senate voted, 27 to 5, this afternoon to repeal the 45 mile an hour prima facie speed limit. It was the final passage of a bill introduced in the house by Representative John R. McSweeney [Dem., Chicago] and now requires but the signature of Gov. Horner to become the law after July 1.

The maximum speed limit in Illinois hereafter, if the governor signs the bill, will read: "No person shall operate a vehicle of the first division [private passenger car] upon any public highway in this state at a speed greater than is reasonable and proper having regard for the trafic and the use of the way or so as not to endanger the life or limb or injure the property of any person."

Accident Report Contest Planned for Park Police

A six month accident prevention and reporting contest for the 744 police of the Chicago park district was announced yesterday by Robert J. Dunham, president of the district. It will start next Monday. A plaque provided by Mr. Dunham will be presented at the end of each month to the police of the north, south, or west side section showing the best record of accident reporting. At the end of six months the plaque will be the permanent property of the section showing the best complete record.

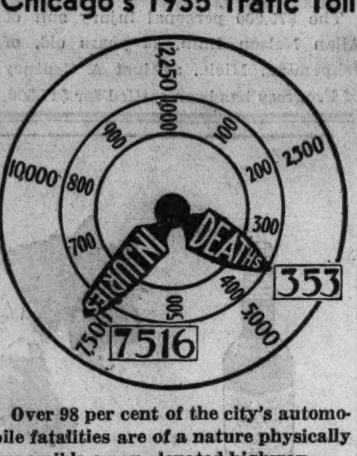
Thirty-six rag pickers arrested Tuesday night and yesterday morning for violating the city ordinance forbidding them to operate before 7:30 a. m. or after 5:30 p. m., were discharged yesterday by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in the South State Street court. They were warned, however, that they would be fined if arrested again on the charge. Police believe burglaries will be reduced if the ordinance is enforced.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1935 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

PEDESTRIAN HIT BY TAXICAB DIES; YEAR'S TOLL IS 440

George Reiner, 50 years old, 1950 West Adams street, was fatally injured early today when he was struck at Hoyne avenue and Madison street by a Yellow taxicab driven by Albert Weldon, 34 years old, 705 South Springfield avenue. He died shortly afterward in the Ramsey Blaine hospital.

Leopold Whiteman, 67 years old, 1310 South Ashland avenue, died in the County hospital yesterday of injuries received April 28 when he was struck by the automobile of a hit and run driver at 14th street and Ashland avenue. Whiteman was unemployed.

These deaths increased the 1935 trafic toll for Cook county to 440. Until 4 p. m. yesterday 353 had been killed in automobile accidents within the Chicago city limits and 7,516 had been injured.

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death at the inquest into the deaths last Friday of Rudolph Mans, 67 years old, and his daughter Ida, 44 years old, both of McKeesport, Pa. They were injured fatally when the car in which they were riding collided with a taxicab driven by Alfred Haemker, 403 Hawthorne avenue, Arlington Heights, in Arlington Heights.

ASSEMBLYMAN'S SON IS QUIZZED ON AUTO CRASH

Roy D. O'Keefe, 3127 Marmora avenue, son of State Representative Raymond T. O'Keefe, was questioned yesterday by Assistant State's Attorney Ben Nelson. He denied charges that he was responsible for an automobile accident in Oak Lawn on June 9 in which the automobile of Otto H. Schulz, 2035 West 18th street, was overturned.

O'Keefe denied that his car was traveling 60 miles an hour, as Schulz had charged. He said he had been going about 40 miles an hour in 103d street and had stopped for a trafic sign at Crawford avenue. He had started up again, he said, when he saw two cars coming abreast in Crawford avenue. He swerved to avoid a collision, but Schulz' car crashed into his, he said.

The investigation was started when Schulz charged he was unable to get a warant for O'Keefe's arrest because of the latter's political connections. Prosecutor Nelson said he will notify Schulz today that he may swear out a warant if he wishes one.

OAK PARK CHARGE KEEPS POLICE ON OLD JOBS ONE DAY

Less than twenty-four hours after they had been transferred from the "labor detail" back to their regular departments, three Chicago policemen, accused by Oak Park police of interfering with the arrest of union sluggers, were ordered back yesterday to the command of Lieut. Charles Egan.

The men are Sergt. Andrew Carroll, formerly of the central station, and Policemen Norman Sims of the Woodlawn station and William McCullough of the motorcycle division.

Lieut. Egan issued the original transfer order Monday night, which was to be effective Tuesday. On Tuesday night, however, Capt. Daniel Gilbert, who supervises the conduct of the labor detail, issued the other transfer order, it was learned yesterday. Capt. Gilbert has repeatedly expressed belief in the three policemen, who denied the charges of the Oak Park police. Neither he nor Lieut. Egan could be reached last night for comment.

2 POLICE TEAMS DRILL FOR ANNUAL BASEBALL TILTS

Three Benefit Games Will Settle Championship.

Two picked teams of Chicago policemen were practicing yesterday for the three encounters that will settle the 1935 police baseball championship of the city.

The three games are annual events, staged for the benefit of the police benevolent association, which provides funds for the dependents of policemen killed in line of duty as well as general insurance for all policemen. The first two games will be played next Sunday and next Thursday in Comiskey park, and the third game will be played July 7 at Wrigley field.

Maj. John Bauder, director of personnel for the police department, is supervising the training of the baseball teams, which will play under the direction of Commissioner of Police James P. Allman and Capt. Daniel Gilbert, head of the uniformed division.

North and South Teams.

Madison street will divide the city for the purposes of the championship. Capt. Patrick Harding of the Rogers Park station is coaching the north siders, who won last year's championship, while Capt. John Hogan of the Hyde Park station is coaching the south siders.

Among the south siders are such players as Joe Conlon, an outfielder, formerly with the Brooklyn club of the National league; Mike Kelly, first baseman, formerly with the Evansville and Nashville clubs of the American association, who is captain of the south side team, and Roy Gutcher, former semi-pro star.

Mainstays for the northern team include the captain, Anthony Murray, former Cub and Giant; Richard Stallman, who once was a catcher for the Cleveland Indians, and William Brown and Mike Delaney, semi-professionals of another day.

6,100 Members in Association.

Stephen O'Meara, president of the benevolent association, disclosed yesterday that in the twelve years the policemen have been staging field meets and baseball games the games have produced an income of $1,600,000. There are now 6,100 members of the benevolent association. About $350,000 is paid out annually in death benefits, O'Meara said. "The loyal support of the public for our annual games," he asserted, "is of inestimable aid in carrying on the humanitarian work of the benevolent association."

Each of the three games will be called at 2 p. m. Gates of the baseball parks will be open one hour before each game.

GERMANIA CLUB FILES FOR 77-B REORGANIZATION

A petition for the voluntary reorganization of the financial structure of the Germania club under section 77-B of the amended bankruptcy law was filed yesterday in the United States District court. The club, one of the oldest in the city, includes in its membership many prominent Chicagoans of German birth or descent. It owns its building, erected in 1889, at 108 Germania place. The petition, filed by Attorney William Mannhardt, lists the club's liabilities at approximately $200,000.

43% OF DROPPED RELIEF FAMILIES FAIL TO REAPPLY

130,000 Get Back on Rolls; Expect More.

Only slightly more than half of the families notified during the last four weeks that they will not receive further aid from the Illinois Emergency Relief commission until they prove their need, have reapplied for help, according to Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the commission.

The clients cut off the relief rolls were the 229,380 families which had been receiving aid for the six months preceding May 1. At that time there were 291,977 family groups supported on state and federal funds in Illinois. Up to last Saturday evening only 130,019, or 56.4 per cent, of those removed had applied for reinstatement.

Secretary Reynolds observed yesterday that a large number of the 99,361 families who have not reapplied probably would do so in the near future. It is, therefore, too early, he asserted, to estimate what proportion of the families eliminated by the reëxamination order would remain permanently off the rolls.

One in 20 Fails of Reinstatement.

Of the 130,019 families that have reapplied, he said, 6,265, or 4.82 per cent, were rejected "for cause." In these cases, according to Mr. Reynolds, the new investigation proved they were able to care for themselves or that they had falsified statements in their original applications.

The records made public last evening disclosed that 145,869 families were receiving state aid in Cook county on May 1. Of that number 114,312 were given notice to prove again their destitution. Only 51,856 families had reapplied up to last Saturday night.

In the 101 other counties, 146,108 families were on the relief rolls May 1. Notice was given to 115,068 to reapply. Thus far 78,163 have renewed their applications. The remaining 36,905 families are classified in reports from the various county administrators as "not yet reapplying" or "under investigation."

Few Rejections Here.

In Cook county only 531 of the families which reapplied were rejected. This figure represents only 1.02 per cent rejected "for cause." Downstate the rejection total was 5,734, or 7.34 per cent.

Secretary Reynolds pointed out that the comparatively small number of rejections indicated that among the families which have reapplied, at any rate, case workers had been maintaining close control.

He asserted that the normal seasonal drop in relief loads at that time of year is 5 per cent—a proportion slightly larger than the reduction through rejection of the new applications.

CHARGES OF CRUELTY BY WIFE BRING TALE OF DRUNKEN NUDITY

Scarsdale, N. Y., June 26.—[Special.]—Any wife who goes nudist with a high school assistant principal after a drinking brawl, and then calls her husband a coward and a baldheaded nincompoop because he objects, does not know what cruelty is, argued Alfred C. Ross, well-to-do Yonkers accountant today in his counter separation suit.

All that is what his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Ross, comely school teacher, did two years ago when the couple visited a summer camp, said Ross.

His charges were in answer to seventy-one instances of cruelty charged by his wife.

Among other things, said Mrs. Ross, her husband commented in his diary on how pleasant it was when she went away, then left the diary around for her to read; he complained of the quality of the meals at home, then refused to take her out with him; he sent flowers to her C. O. D.; he cut her reading light wire; he was a back seat driver in her auto; but what she objected to particularly, she said, was the occasion when he knocked her unconscious and went alone to a movie.

TELLS FANNIE'S OFFER OF $50,000 IF HE'D WED HER

Sought Barbour When Rejected, Says Witness

MRS. ELLA EDGAR.

Dr. A. M. Henderson, Aurora veterinarian and brother-in-law of the late Mrs. Fannie Henderson of Aurora, yesterday told a jury in the federal court of Judge John P. Barnes that Mrs. Henderson once offered him $50,000 if he would marry her. Dr. Henderson was a witness for Lionel Barbour, Detroit attorney, who is seeking the $650,000 estate left by Mrs. Henderson on the contention that he was her common law husband. The will left the money for construction of an old people's home in Aurora.

Vowed to Wed Barbour.

Mrs. Henderson made the offer in 1925, the witness said, when he told her he was going to marry his present wife. When he refused, Mrs. Henderson then said she would marry Barbour. Barbour is in his forties while Mrs. Henderson was 77 when she died in 1931. Dr. Henderson also testified that Mrs. Henderson had said she was doing nothing illegal when he told her people were talking about her and Barbour living together.

Told Witness They Were Married.

Mrs. Ella Edgar of Aurora testified Mrs. Henderson told her in 1928 that she and Barbour were married. Under cross-examination Mrs. Edgar said Mrs. Henderson "used quite a bit of rouge and lispstick and wore bobbed hair." Mrs. Henderson also told her she could dance as well as any 40 year old woman, and then danced for her to prove it. Mrs. Augusta Lian, also of Aurora, said Mrs. Henderson had told her she was married to Barbour.

Barbour's attorneys are expected to end their case today.

MERRY FAHRNEY SUES TO REGAIN ESTATE RIGHTS

$30,000 for $125,000 Share Unpaid, She Says.

Merry Fahrney, 23 years old, twice married Oak Park heiress, filed suit in the Superior court yesterday to regain title to her $125,000 share in the estate of her uncle, William Fahrney, who died in 1920. Miss Fahrney admittedly has signed a waiver of her rights, but wants the waiver returned to her on the ground that she has never received any part of the $30,000 she was promised for relinquishing her prospective inheritance.

The suit is directed at Edwin Monaco, 30 year old broker, who is the son of Dr. Attilio Monaco, 424 South Grove avenue, Oak Park. Specifically, Miss Fahrney requests that Monaco be ordered to return to her not only the paper evidencing her assignment of rights but also a $5,000 promissory note she gave him, for which she has received nothing.

Sets Estate Value at Million.

Miss Fahrney's bill sets forth that the estate of William Fahrney, valued at $1,000,000, was left to his wife, Lena, during her lifetime, and is to be divided among eight nephews and nieces five years after Mrs. Fahrney's death. Mrs Fahrney is still living.

On March 30, according to Miss Fahrney's bill, Monaco, representing himself as the agent of a New York syndicate headed by Henry Tollmore, offered her the $30,000 for her rights. She accepted, it is alleged, and the papers were signed.

In her suite at the Ambassador hotel Miss Fahrney elaborated somewhat last night on the nature of her claims.

"When I accepted the offer," she said, "I told Monaco, whom I had never seen before, that I needed ready cash, and he said he believed he could get me $5,000 at once on my note. So I signed the note. Later Monaco brought me the assignment papers and I signed them, too. He showed me a $30,000 check signed by Mr. Tollmore, but said he would take it and have it certified before turning it over to me. And he added that he would get the $5,000 on my note pretty soon. I never have gotten a cent."

Attorney Gives Different Version.

Attorney Thomas J. Cavanagh, representing Monaco, had a different version of the transactions.

"Monaco, who had known Miss Fahrney since they were children, didn't originate the proposition to buy her estate," he said. "She went to Monaco. Her inheritance really isn't $125,000; it's $40,000. She agreed to take a net $25,000 and let Monaco have $5,000 as a commission.

"The New York syndicate agreed to pay $30,000, but only if Miss Fahrney would have her life insured for the same amount. This was to guarantee payment to them in the event her death should render the assignment void.

"She has never been able to post more than $5,000 of insurance, and that has held up the transaction. We are ready to carry out the deal when this requirement is attended to."

Cavanagh declared he knew nothing of the $5,000 promissory note. Monaco, he said, would fight every effort to force him to relinquish the assignment of the inheritance unless Miss Fahrney reimbursed him for his expenses incurred while the estate sale was being arranged.

Miss Fahrney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Fahrney, 400 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park, and a granddaughter of Peter Fahrney, patent medicine maker, who founded the family fortune. In 1932 she was divorced from her first husband, Hugh Parker-Pickering. Her next romance, with an Italian, Count di Giorgi, was broken up by her parents. In 1933 she was married to Frank V. Eiszner after an elopment. This marriage was later annulled.

In 1930 Bruno Shustek, an aviator, was killed in rescuing her from a plane after she had become entangled in ropes while trying a parachute leap. She had a brief movie career.

'PROBLEM BOYS' FOUND CHANGED BY PLAYGROUNDS

New York, June 26.—(AP)—American cities' success in reducing juvenile delinquency—by luring "problem boys" to playgrounds to work off steam—today was described by W. W. Pangburn of the National Recreation association.

Milwaukee, Pangburn said, for years has had "one of the most notable and effective and efficiently operated systems" of playgrounds and indoor community centers in the country, attracting both young and old of all classes.

"They have made a real dent in delinquency," he asserted. "Milwaukee is one of the three cities in the United States with the lowest burglary insurance rates, and Mayor Daniel Hoan has attributed this to the playgrounds and not to policemen's clubs. Street corner gangs—the future gangsters—have been broken up."

"SAVE AMERICA" DRIVE BEGUN IN G. O. P. MEETING

Chauncey McCormick Rips New Deal Policies.

Citing the New Deal's record of broken pledges and repudiated principles, Chauncey McCormick, a Chicago business leader, charged yesterday that the Roosevelt administration has reduced the nation to economic vassaldom. He called for a "Save America" movement to restore economic sanity and constitutional rights.

It was Mr. McCormick's first political speech, made at the weekly Republican round table meeting in Henrici's restaurant.

"The administration has repudiated more than its platform and its promises," Mr. McCormick declared. "The New Dealers have repudiated every principle bequeathed to us by Washington, Jefferson, Franklin, Hamilton, and Monroe.

Government of Repudiation.

"They have repudiated the right of a free people to labor, to save, to protect their families, and build a roof over their heads. They have repudiated freedom of expression. They have repudiated the tested American system for an alien system of confiscating people's savings and nation-wide enslavement. They have repudiated Washington for Lenin, Jefferson for Stalin, and Hamilton for Marx."

Reading from the Democratic platform and campaign literature of 1932 and the campaign utterances of President Roosevelt, Mr. McCormick presented the party pledges, which, he said, gave the people hope and made the President and his congress almost sacrosanct during the first two years of his term.

"Roosevelt knows today just as well as he did when he committed himself in a campaign speech in 1932, that the most direct and effective contribution that a government can make to business is a reduction in federal spending," said Mr. McCormick.

Charges Dictatorship Trend.

"I hereby charge him with deliberately withholding this most direct and effective contribution that government could make to business. You cannot found a dictatorship and maintain a tyranny when the wheels of business are running smoothly.

"It will only be when the New Dealers have brought business to complete prostration that President Roosevelt will be fully recognized and hailed as dictator instead of President."

The crop restriction and price pegging policies of the Roosevelt administration are sounding the death knell of America's domestic business and foreign trade, Mr. McCormick charged.

After his address hundreds of small lapel buttons bearing the legend "Save America" were distributed. Mr. McCormick is having 100,000 of the buttons made for distribution in Chicago.

"Wearing the button implies allegiance to no faction," he said, "but means only and completely that the wearer stands for America and against the New Deal."

Rally at Arlington Heights.

The declartion of grievances against the New Deal that was adopted by the recent Republican Grass Roots conference of ten prairie states at Springfield was applauded last night at a rally in Arlington Heights of citizens of that town and adjoining townships. Jacob D. Allen, secretary of the Springfield roundup, addressing the meeting, said the movement is to be extended into every congressional district in the central west.

"The declaration of grievances these delegates adopted was the most drastic against any sovereign or head of the government of a civilized state since the comparable denunciation of King George by his American colonies in 1776," said Allen. "The creed of the delegates adopted begins: 'We believe in the constitution of the United States.'"

Jury Acquits Policeman Charged with Extortion

Alfred Hammer, who was suspended as a policeman of the Stanton avenue station, was acquitted by a jury yesterday of an attempt to extort $1,200 from Neil Duffy, owner of a tavern at 10600 Torrence avenue, early this year. Policeman Hammer was arrested after he left the washroom of a tavern at 13226 Baltimore avenue, where Duffy had been ordered in the extortion letter to leave the money. Hammer was reported to have confessed at the time of his arrest, but he repudiated this confession at the trial before Judge E. I. Frankhauser in the Criminal court. Hammer lives at 13147 Escanaba avenue.

JAPAN PROTESTS BIG SOVIET ARMY IN EASTERN ASIA

Proposes Demilitarizing Manchukuan Border.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, June 27 [Thursday.]—Japan seeks demilitarization of the Soviet-Manchukuan border until it is as devoid of troops as the line separating the United States and Canada, it was learned today.

Gravely concerned by alarming reports of continued augmentation of Soviet toops and planes along the border, recurrent skirmishes, and other vexing incidents, Hirota urged formation of a Soviet-Japanese-Manchukuan commission to study demilitarization.

Yurenev is understood to have replied favorably, although he declared Moscow favors a nonaggression pact. It is not likely Hirota is empowered to commit Japan to that extent, for though the army favors demilitarization, it opposes a nonaggression pact.

Cites 200,000 Troops.

Hirota, it is understood, called Yurenev's attention to the contention that soviet Russia already has massed 200,000 troops on the border, which act, in view of the settlement of the Chinese Eastern railway dispute, was declared to appear unfriendly. Moreover, the soviets are steadily increasing their armaments and making other warlike preparations, Hirota is understood to have charged.

This could not but affect Russia's relations with Japan and Manchukuo unfavorably.

Hirota urged Russia to reduce the number of troops to one-third, or at least to one-half, pending the reaching of an agreement for demilitarizing the frontier.

All papers played the story prominently beside accounts of the air defense rehersal which was staged late last night preparatory to holding the main maneuvers in July.

Mongols Fire on Japs.

TOKIO, June 27 [Thursday].—(AP)—A fresh incident added troubles today to Manchukuo's bristling frontiers, across which the combination of Japan and Manchukuo are bickering with all neighbors—Chinese, Russians, and Mongols.

A Rengo [Japanese] news agency dispatch from Hsinking, capital of Manchukuo, said four Outer-Mongolian cavalrymen Tuesday penetrated into Manchukuo and fired on a Japanese army surveying party on the northeast border.

A Japanese army engineer was kidnaped, along with a White Russian teamster, the dispatch said, and the Mongolians carried off all surveying instruments and horses.

Japanese general headquarters at Hsinking announced it would protest strongly and insist upon prompt release of the victims and settlement of the affair.

In addition to the Japanese-Mongol friction, a Japanese-Soviet incident, involving the recent slaying of a Soviet sentry on the disputed Manchukuan-Siberian frontier, is still smouldering.

Fierce Battle Rages.

Meanwhile a fierce battle was reported under way between 80 Manchukuan frontier guards and nearly ten times that number of Chinese soldiers from Chahar province.

Advices to the Manchukuan war office here, which confirmed similar reports to the Rengo [Japanese] News agency, were that fighting was raging along the disputed Jehol-Chahar frontiers north of Tushihkou.

Rengo's dispatches from Hsinking, capital of Manchukuo, said the clash was the second between the two armed bodies, the 500 Chinese troops who engaged the Manchukuan patrol Monday having since been reinforced by 200 more men from Tushihkou.

A larger Manchukuan force was ordered to the site of the battle, Rengo was informed, while Japanese regulars garrisoned at Jehol City were held in readiness.

In Legion Contest

Capt. J. A. Reilly of the Cook county council of the American Legion met with several army and National Guard officers in the Hotel Sherman yesterday and drafted plans for the cooperation of the army and National Guard in the Fourth of July celebration in Soldiers' field.

Those who met with Capt. Reilly are Capt. Daniel Sweeny, 202d coast artillery, Illinois National Guard; Lieut. C. L. MacLachlan of the 61st coast artillery at Fort Sheridan; Maj. C. A. McElvain and Lieut. William Newhall of the aviation division of the National Guard, and Frank Duffield of the Therle-Duffield Fireworks company.

Betty Matthews, 3037 Logan boulevard, is one of the early entrants in the contest for "Queen of the Great Lakes." The queen will be crowned at the celebration and also will attend the national American Legion convention in St. Louis next fall and will be given a week's cruise on the Great Lakes.

Free tickets to the fireworks display will be distributed to 25,000 unemployed in the county, it was announced yesterday. The distribution will be made through the regular relief offices.

SOLDIERS DESERT ITALIAN ARMY; FLEE TO AUSTRIA

[Copyright: 1935: By the Associated Press.]

INNSBRUCK, Austria, June 26.—The coming of warm weather, with the subsequent melting of snow, opening high mountain passes, is facilitating the desertion of soldiers from Italian forces near Austria's border, reliable sources revealed today.

Recently, it was said, from three to five deserters had been arriving daily at Innsbruck. They have been arrested and questioned by Austrian authorities, but released after giving up their uniforms and military equipment.

One man, a sergeant, said he and his friends were deserting from the Italian army because, as south Tyrolese, they are determined to escape service in Africa.

The South Tyrolese said it had been discovered that the soldiers from northern Italy were enduring the African climate better than the southern Italian, but it only increased their fear that the south Tyrolese recruits would have to bear the brunt of sacrifices on the Ethiopian front in event of hostilities if they did not clear out first. It is reported on the border that approximately 20,000 men are under arms in south Tyrol.

Legion Seeking Veteran's Widow, Mrs. George Sutton

The service department of the American Legion is seeking Mrs. George Arnold Sutton, whose husband died last May 4. The veterans' administration in Washington has notified the American Legion here that Mrs. Sutton is the beneficiary of her husband's adjusted service certificate, but that they have been unable to find her.

IL DUCE REJECTS APPEAL TO DROP AFRICAN VENTURE

British Diplomat Fails to Swerve Mussolini.

ROME, June 26.—(AP)—Capt. Anthony Eden of Great Britain left for Paris today, his talks with Premier Benito Mussolini ended and prospects for peace in east Africa apparently no brighter.

Official sources indicated the British secretary for league of nations affairs had not succeeded in changing Il Duce's contention that Italy could accept only "complete solution" of her controversy with Ethiopia.

This solution, it was understood, would involve establishment of an Italian mandate or protectorate over the African empire. Failing that, force would be used to bring Emperor Haile Selassie to terms.

Coolness Marks Departure.

Noticeable coolness marked the young British negotiator's departure at noon for Paris, where he will resume conversations with Premier Pierre Laval begun last week and interrupted by his trip to Rome.

In contrast to the usual demonstrations for arriving and departing visiting statesmen, only Fulvio Suvich, undersecretary for foreign affairs, and several lesser functionaries were at the station to see him off.

Eden and Suvich conferred briefly just before his departure. Earlier, he talked with the French ambassador, Count Charles de Chambrun, at the British embassy.

The view was expressed in diplomatic quarters that the only recourse left to Eden was to find some way for Italy to retain membership in the league of nations should war with Ethiopia—now considered almost inevitable—break out.

This might be done, these sources said, by formally accusing Ethiopia of not fulfilling conditions under which she entered the league, something Italian newspapers have insistently asserted recently, thus enabling the Geneva body to wash its hands of any trouble with Italy. Officials here frequently have charged that Ethiopia has failed to abolish slavery.

Pact Put Up to Britain.

Meanwhile, the newspaper Lavoro Fascista flatly asserted continuance of concerted Italo-Franco-British action to settle European problems was up to Britain.

Official communiques issued after Eden's conferences with Mussolini stated they had found the tri-power collaboration laid down at the Stresa conference could be maintained, but the newspaper said this depended, "in the last analysis, on the stand taken by Great Britain.

The Italian government tonight announced that seven officers and thirty noncommissioned officers and privates have "perished" in East Africa through various accidents and illnesses attending the concentration there of Italian troops.

The ministry of colonies at the same time asked the National Fascist Insurance institute to establish branches at Asmara and Mogdishu to handle relief cases of workmen now being mobilized and sent to East Africa.

Merna Kennedy, Film Star, Sues for Maintenance

Hollywood, Cal., June 26.—[Special.]—Merna Kennedy, former leading woman for Charlie Chaplin, today filed a separate maintenance action against Busby Berkeley, dance creator and director of motion pictures. She charges extreme cruelty and association with other women and demands $3,000 a month out of Berkeley's salary, which, she asserts, is $1,500 weekly. Berkeley and she were married last February. He is the divorced husband of Esther Muir of the films.

PROCEDURE OF DEBATE IN ITALO-ETHIOPIAN QUARREL APPROVED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SCHEVENINGEN, Holland, June 26.—The neutral halls of The Hague peace palace were designated today as the likely setting for next week's session of the Italo-Ethiopian conciliation commission. At that time the hearings of oral arguments by legal experts of each party will start.

Gaston Jeze, French jurist and legal expert for the Ethiopian legation in Paris, will argue Ethiopia's claims regarding the incidents which led to the trouble with the Italians. The identity of Italy's representative has not yet been announced.

The conciliation commission held its second meeting this afternoon after having been received this morning by the Dutch foreign minister. The session was called to fix next week's procedure. After meeting tomorrow morning, the commission will adjourn until Monday or Tuesday. The commission members will spend the week-end studying the documentation which they now have from both governments. This documentation consists of a 125 page memorial by the Ethiopian government on the frontier incidents and an Italian memorial of about 100 pages.

U. S.-JAPAN WAR TALK DISCOUNTED BY DR. BLAKESLEE

Talk of war between Japan and the United States has no basis at present and neither nation would appear to have anything to gain by such a struggle, according to Dr. George H. Blakeslee of Clark university. His views were presented to an audience gathered last night, at the invitation of the Midwest Institute of International Relations, in the hall of the First Methodist church of Evanston.

However, said Dr. Blakeslee, who is president of the World Peace foundation and was a member of the Lytton commission of inquiry to Manchuria, the Japanese question is the most perplexing and dangerous one in our foreign relations. Two points of friction, he said, are the American insistence on the "open door" for China and the congressional act of 1924 excluding Japanese immigration.

Dr. Blakeslee said that the American people have no interest in going to war for an "open" China. The Japanese, with all the fruits that would accrue from a successful war already in their hands, have nothing to gain by war.

Report Catholic Missionary Murdered in Manchukuo

WOMEN MISSION WORKERS OF U. S. FLEE ETHIOPIA

Four Depart; Six Others Get Ready to Leave.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, June 26.—(AP)—The Italo-Ethiopian border dispute prompted four American women missionaries to leave Ethiopia today. Six others decided to depart this week.

The majority of the members of the American colony, however, which numbers 125 throughout the empire, have decided to remain.

Conditions were generally quiet, but a movement was apparent among some wealthy foreigners to send away their wives and daughters before any outbreak of hostilities.

U. S. Envoy Leaves for Africa.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—Coincident with reports that American missionaries had begun to leave Ethiopia because of the growing tension between Italy and the African empire, George C. Hanson sailed from New York on the President Harding today to assume his duties as American chargé d'affaires at Addis Ababa.

Traveling by way of London, Marseilles, and Alexandria, he will present his credentials to Emperor Haile Selassie just before the period most favorable for troop movements begins with the ending of the rainy season.

[At New York, Hanson said the United States would pursue a policy of hands off in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.]

The state department had received no advices concerning the evacuation of Americans, but its records show that of the approximately 125 citizens of the United States in Ethiopia, 110 are missionaries.

Three Church Bodies Represented.

The missionaries are representatives of the Seventh Day Adventists of Tacoma Park, Md.; the Sudan Frontier mission of Philadelphia, and the Women's General Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church of North America, Pittsburgh.

Everett W. Colson, an American, has been financial adviser to the Ethiopian government since 1931, and lives in Addis Ababa with his wife. The American legation staf consists of W. Perry George of Gadsden, Ala., second secretary, and William M. Cramp of Philadelphia, third secretary. The other Americans known to be residing there permanently are twelve Negroes.

VETERANS WILL HOLD ANNUAL REUNION AT KANKAKEE ON SUNDAY

Kankakee, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—War veterans who served with Company L of the 129th infantry, 33d division, A. E. F., are preparing for their twelfth annual reunion, which is to be held here on Sunday. Families of the veterans will again be included in the picnic outing this year, as they were in 1933 and 1934. Members of the company, a Kankakee outfit, have started a campaign to locate all their former comrades who now may live in other cities. Phil Payan is chairman in charge of this work. The president of the company organization is Joseph Mulligan of Bradley.

Suspect in Cafe Killing Case to Be Charged with Murder

Capt. John Norton of the Maxwell street police said yesterday that Nathan Treger, 37 years old, 3710 Leland avenue, will be formally charged with the murder Tuesday night of Frank Noto, 35 years old, petty gambler who was slain in front of the Norge inn, a restaurant at 901 South Halsted street. Dominick Sacca, owner of the restaurant, is being sought for questioning. Chief Justice Denis E. Sullivan of the Criminal court yesterday continued a hearing for a writ of habeas corpus in Treger's behalf until 2 p. m. today and placed him in the custody of the sherif. Treger, with a pistol in his possession, was seized immediately after the shooting.

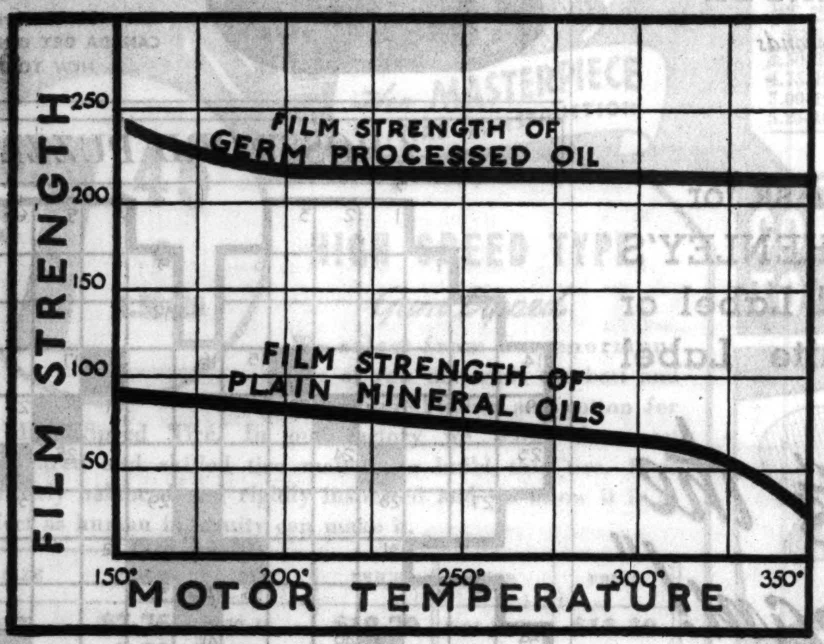
Drive far – drive fast – without a worry!

With Conoco Germ Processed Oil in your crankcase, you KNOW the strain won't hurt your motor!

Tests prove this new alloyed oil has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than plain mineral oils and resists heat better!



HERE'S THE PROOF . . .

▬ CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL

▬ PLAIN MINERAL OILS

Note that as heat increases, the plain mineral oils continue to lose film strength, but that above 225° (Minimum Summer crankcase temperature) Germ Processed Oil's film strength is not affected by heat. Tests made with Timken machine.

On July 4th or week-end and vacation trips, you'll want to drive far and get there in a hurry. And you don't want that nagging worry of "I wonder if this speed and heat will hurt anything in my motor."

You can't always be sure when you use plain mineral oils, for they have little film strength and oils over refined by new cleansing processes have even less. Moreover, as motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength.

Film strength is the load-carrying ability of an oil, the quality that keeps bearings and cylinders from wearing out. Lack of film strength results in costly damage.

You can drive without a worry when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil! It has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil. Heat does not lessen this advantage. (See chart at left.)

Supervised road tests—over good and bad roads, at low and high speeds, in all kinds of weather—give practical proof that Germ Processed Oil protects motors better. In every test, gravimetric measurement of motor bearings showed that Germ Processed Oil prevented wear far better than plain mineral oils. Tested in a fleet of cars equipped with the new alloy-metal bearings used in many 1935 cars, a high-quality plain mineral oil permitted 45% more wear on connecting rod bearings than did Germ Processed Oil.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the first alloyed oil—alloyed, much as metals are, by adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil. It is the only oil made by the Germ Process. It is the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away!

BRITISH LORDS ATTACK NAVAL DEAL WITH NAZIS

Empire Safety Menaced, Tory Peer Cries.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 26.—The British government is entirely unrepentant of concluding, over the heads of the other naval powers, a pact granting Germany a fleet of 35 per cent as large as Great Britain's. This was made clear in the house of lords tonight.

The agreement was vigorously defended by Lord Londonderry, lord privy seal, who revealed that if Great Britain had insisted on consulting other powers about the German offer, there was a chance that the pact would have been lost.

Lord Lloyd, in openng the debate, strongly criticized the government's decision on the grounds that it upset France and Italy and amounted to a repudiation of the Versailles treaty and was likely to upset the peace of Europe.

He demanded that Great Britain build up her cruisers and destroyers, declaring that some were in such a condition they are unable to get back from the Mediterranean.

Never East of Suez.

Lord Howe asserted that allowing Germany naval tonnage 35 per cent of Britain's meant the British fleet could never be moved east of Suez, even to protect India, Australia, or Singapore. He criticized the dual control of the fleet air arm between the admiralty and the air ministry.

Lord Beatty went on to make it clear that he is uneasy about Japan, declaring:

"In the far east we are living cheek by jowl with a potential enemy. It is well to face the facts."

The fact that Germany has already boosted her naval strength beyond the limits of the Versailles treaty was used by Lord Londonderry to justify the British action in concluding the agreement, and he declared Great Britain had no choice in accepting Germany's offer.

He revealed that the French government was consulted before the agreement was made, but said that their criticism "did not appear of such character as to justify us in withholding consent to the agreement, which, in our view, held such promise for the peace of the world."

Armaments Funds Approved.

PARIS, June 26.—(AP)—Strengthening of the army, navy, and air forces to offset Germany's rearmament was approved today by the chamber finance committee, which reported favorably on the government bill for emergency appropriations.

Col. Jean Fabry, minister of war, told of Germany's arms plans in asking 1,106,000,000 francs [about $72,900,000] including 600,000,000 francs previously voted by the arms committee, for the manufacture of new armaments, equipment of frontier fortifications, and better training of the army.

His bill and the special legislation to appropriate 297,613,860 francs [about $19,600,000] for the navy were approved in the committee.

GOEBBELS RAPS YOUNG NAZIS FOR LACK OF CULTURE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 26.—Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, took an energetic stand today against young men who, just because they belong to the Nazi party, believe they don't have to live up to Germany's "high standard of education and zeal to work." The minister attacked the Nazi corps of young journalists in an address.

"I am told your general standard of knowledge and education is not of a high grade. I will stand for such conditions for two more months, but no longer. Those who believe that allegiance to the Nazi party is sufficient are wrong. Knowledge and ability, zeal and application, character and sincerity must be developed by students of journalism.

Goebbels warned that he would oust those who fail to attain the traditional German standard of culture.

RUSSIAN BALLOON PLAYS AS MOON IN HOP TO UPPER AIR

MOSCOW, June 26.—(AP)—The stratosphere balloon U. S. S. R. One Bis, piloted by Kristoff Zille, a former woodchopper, explored the altitudes today in search of data on cosmic rays in the first soviet stratosphere flight of the year.

It attained a height of 52,165 feet and traveled 150 miles in a 155 minute flight.

Throughout the flight the balloon kept in radio contact with a military station in Moscow, designating itself as the "moon," while the land answered as "Venus."

"Hello, This Is the Moon."

At the peak altitude the balloon, termed "foolproof" because it is equipped with huge parachutes to let down the gondola in case of an accident, flashed the message:

"Hello, this is the moon. We are at an altitude of 15,900 meters and all is well."

Prof. Alexander Verigo, a cosmic ray expert who recently made a study of ray data obtained in submarine expeditions, was one of the passengers. He said data of great value on the intensity of rays in high altitudes was obtained during the flight, during which no attempt was made to set an altitude record.

The craft landed with scarcely a jolt near Tula, 150 miles from Moscow, after the takeoff from a military field on the outskirts of the capital. All scientific instruments were intact.

Photograph Bag's Fabric.

Automatic cameras took photographs of the cover of the balloon's bag during the trip to show the wear on fabric at great heights. There were five especially constructed instruments in the gondola to study ray intensity.

Commander Zille once worked in a lumber camp in Lithuania and was thrice wounded while serving in the czar's army. With Urey Prilutsky, today's co-pilot, he rose 10,500 meters [34,448.75 feet] in an open gondola balloon last Thursday, claiming a record for this type of craft.

Commander Prokofyeff, who reached the record height of 19,000 meters [62,335 feet] in 1933, flew to Tula immediately after the ship landed to congratulate the crew and examine the craft, which was the same one he made his record in.

A second stratosphere flight by Russians came to grief in February of last year when the Osoviakhim exploded in the air after it claimed to have reached an altitude of 22,000 meters. The crew of three were killed. Another huge stratosphere balloon, Osoviakhim II., is now nearing completion at Leningrad and is expected to make its first flight late in the summer.

Col. William W. Edwards, army recruiting officer for northern Illinois and most of Wisconsin, announced yesterday that the July enlistment quota for this district has been set by the war department at 188. Those wishing to enlist may report to Col. Edwards in room 1101 of the United States courthouse. The enlistment period is three years and is open to men 18 to 35 years old.

NAZIS CREATE OFFICE TO SETTLE SUITS OF CHURCH OPPOSITION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 26.—A special "office to settle litigation of the Protestant church" was created in the ministry of interior today.

All quarrels pending between pastors and authorities will be handled by this office, the decisions of which are final. In special cases it may turn over problems to the regular courts. Minister of the Interior Wilhelm Frick will decree rules governing the new office, which starts work July 1.

This measure is directed against pastors of the Confessional movement, who are fighting for freedom of their creed and opposing the German Christian state church.

Meetings Prohibited.

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

MUNICH, Germany, June 26.—Further restriction of church rights is the object of an order issued by the Württemberg minister of the interior. He forbids until further notice, "the holding of public meeting and lectures organized by churches or religious associations, except when they take place within churches or are traditional institutions, such as processions and pilgrimages." The reason given for this action is:

From a Catholic point of view, public propaganda is part of the exercising of their religion freely, as guaranteed in the concordat, and the Württemberg order therefore is regarded as an infringement of the treaty between the reich and the Vatican.

HITLER DRAFTS MEN AND WOMEN FOR LABOR ARMY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 26.—The German cabinet today decreed compulsory labor service for all men and women. The labor conscription law makes men liable to six months' service. The class of 1915 will be called to service Oct. 1. The decree provides that members of the labor service are not to exceed 200,000 men on Sept. 30, 1936. The men will be used in building roads and canals, military drilling, farm work and the like.

Labor service for women will be introduced at a later date. Heretofore the labor service has been called voluntary, but during the past year it has been virtually compulsory.

Another decree regulated air protection while a third stiffened penalties against persons convicted of immoral acts. The cabinet also approved Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's wish to "express Germany's gratitude to the leader of the German army in the world war, Maj. Gen. August von Mackensen, for all time to come." Mackensen was presented with the estate of Bruessow, in the district of Prenzlau.

12,986 Army Recruits to Serve in U. S. Territories

New York, June 26.—(AP)—Preparations for the largest movement of troops overseas since the world war were started today as the army transport Château Thierry docked at the Brooklyn base. A total of 12,986 recruits, first to be enlisted in the army's drive, will be shipped to territorial garrisons during the next eight months.

RABBIS DEBATE WORLD PEACE IN HEATED SESSION

Rise of Atheism Gives Leaders Concern.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Reform Rabbinate of America in sessions at the Congress hotel yesterday divided its attention between the subjects of God and world peace. The latter question threw the convention into heated debate, which ended when a "pacifist resolution" was sent back to committee, where a new definition of the Reform rabbinate's position will be drafted.

Two Groups Invaded.

The rise of modern atheism, known generally today under varying forms of humanism, which has invaded not only two of the three divisions of Judaism but also certain Christian groups, has made the idea of God a foundation subject at the rabbinate's sessions, according to leaders.

The two Jewish groups affected by the new atheism are the Conservative and the Reform, according to Rabbi George Fox of South Shore temple, with the Orthodox Jews holding to what might be called an extreme fundamentalist position as regards God and the Bible.

Conservatives the More Liberal.

Dr. Fox explained that conservative Jews, with their main emphasis on continuity of Jewish civilization, are the greater liberals in theology when compared with Reform Jews, who are regarded as the modernists of Israel.

Dr. Fox pointed to a paper on "Revaluation of the Concept of God," read last night by Dr. Felix A. Levy, 445 Melrose avenue, to prove the Reform group's predominant "fundamentalism" when the subject of God and the centrality of religion are concerned, even though Reform Jews deny Biblical miracles and affirm continuance of divine inspiration.

Urges Wider Concept.

"Humanism and all other atheistic philosophies and Judaism are contradictions in terms," said Dr. Levy. "As liberals we must note all the contributions that science and the increase of knowledge have made to the God idea. However, we do not need to change the God idea, but only to deepen and widen the concept."

Dr. Levy asserted that "God is still the creator, the father, the ruler, the friend and the source of courage and hope."

FRANCE READY TO DISCUSS PEACE WITH GERMANY

PARIS, June 26.—(AP)—Premier Pierre Laval declared tonight he was willing to negotiate with Adolf Hitler on a "peace arrangement" for submission to all European powers, if it appeared "really possible."

"If the eventualities of a Franco-German agreement, which would respect the integrity of all powers, appears really possible soon," the premier told the senate foreign affairs committee, he "would not hesitate to do his duty in favor of general peace and reconstruction of Europe."

Laval's statement concerned a previous remark at a press banquet that "if an accord became possible with Berlin I would not hesitate to conclude it, but for such an accord to come about it must not be between two but among several [powers]." Hitler's offer of Germany's "peace and friendship," without any territorial demands, in his recent reichstag speech, Laval indicated, inspired his remarks.

"There are five or six men in the world on whom peace depends," the premier said, "and destiny has placed me among them. I shall work for France and for peace.

LET US MAKE YOUR 4TH of JULY TRIP SAFER

BEFORE you start on your holiday trip, let us completely inspect your car. There is no charge for this service and it will assure you of a safer and more enjoyable trip.

For the motoring convenience and safety of car owners Firestone has established more than 500 Auto Supply & Service Stores throughout the country, and thousands of Firestone dealers are also equipped with Auto Supplies and complete Service Departments to test and service your tires, brakes, batteries, spark plugs, wheels, ignition system, carburetor, in addition to lubricating your car with the most modern power equipment, also crank case service, washing and polishing.

AVOID THE DANGER OF BLOWOUTS

Firestone removes the danger of blowouts by preventing their main cause—internal friction and heat. This is accomplished by Gum-Dipping, a patented extra process which soaks every cotton cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber. No other make of tire is Gum-Dipped.

THERE ARE THREE QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS THAT WILL SOLVE YOUR PROBLEM OF WHAT TIRES TO BUY:

1 "Will the tread give me the greatest traction and protection against skidding?"
—Recent tests by a leading University show that Firestone High Speed Non-Skid Tires stop a car 15% quicker than any other of the leading makes.

For eight consecutive years Firestone Tires have been on the winning car in the dangerous Pike's Peak Race where a skid means death. This is undisputed evidence that Firestone gives car owners greatest protection against skidding.

—Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have the most amazing records for being blowout-proof of any tires ever built. In the gruelling 500-Mile Race at Indianapolis, May 30th, every one of the 33 cars was equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Kelly Petillo won the race and broke the record over this 26-year-old rough brick track without tire trouble—in fact, not one of the 33 drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Ab Jenkins drove his 5,000 pound car on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires over the hot salt beds of Utah, 3,000 miles in 23½ hours, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, with temperatures as high as 120°, without tire trouble of any kind. These are most amazing proofs of blowout protection ever known.

3 "Without sacrificing these two important safety features will they give me longer mileage, thus making them the most economical tires I can buy?"
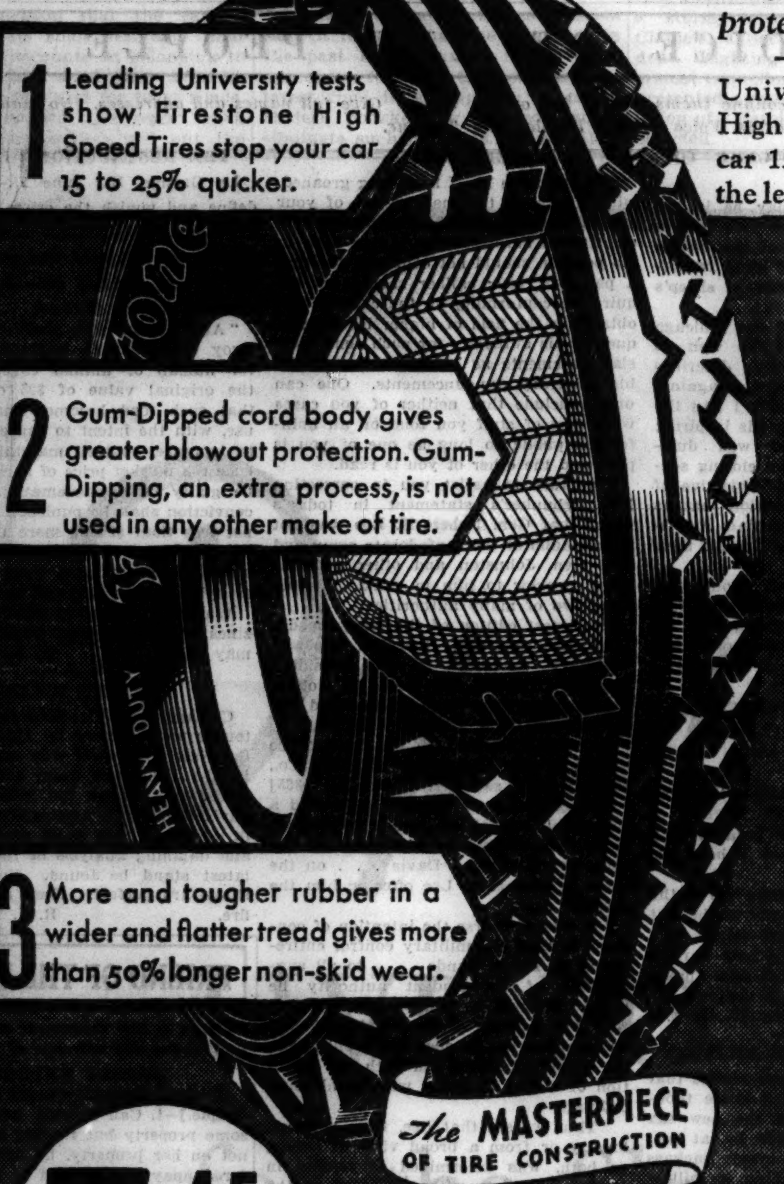
— Firestone High Speed Tires not only give you more than 50% longer wear, but also lowest cost per mile. This is made possible by the tough, wear-resisting tread built with higher shoulders and a wider, flatter contour. This thick, rugged, scientifically designed tread is held securely to the Gum-Dipped cord body by Firestone's patented construction of two extra layers of cords under the tread. This is a special construction feature not used in any other tire. Unequaled mileage records by thousands of car owners add undisputed evidence of the longer wear and greater economy of Firestone High Speed Tires.

Equip your car with a set of Firestone Gum-Dipped Non-Skid Tires, the safest tires ever built and avoid the dangers of skidding and blowouts.



1 Leading University tests show Firestone High Speed Tires stop your car 15 to 25% quicker.

2 Gum-Dipped cord body gives greater blowout protection. Gum-Dipping, an extra process, is not used in any other make of tire.

3 More and tougher rubber in a wider and flatter tread gives more than 50% longer non-skid wear.

The MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

DEATH AND TAXES.

I. IS THERE A RIGHT TO INHERIT?

In the long perspective there is nothing particularly novel or revolutionary in President Roosevelt's proposal to increase death duties drastically. Estate and inheritance taxes are among the most ancient means of raising revenue for government. A death duty was collected more than 2,500 years ago in Egypt. Augustus introduced the tax in Rome for the support of his army more than 1,900 years ago. Some kind of estate or inheritance tax is collected in virtually every civilized country. An estate tax was imposed by our federal government as early as 1796. It was repealed five years later, to be reimposed during the civil war and again to help pay for the Spanish war in 1898.

Pennsylvania imposed a death duty in 1826 and this experiment has been followed by the great majority of the states.

Clearly, there is nothing revolutionary in the imposition of death duties. Such novelty as there is in the Roosevelt program derives from the high rate, not from the tax itself, and again there is precedent for high death duties. The logic of the feudal theory, if it had been rigorously followed, would have permitted government, in the person of the king, to confiscate the entire estate, in so far as it consisted of land, at a time when land was the principal form of wealth. No doubt such confiscations did take place. Today in the United States, under present laws, the government takes as much as $4,387,000 of a 10 million dollar estate and $58,000,000 of a $100,000,000 estate. The rate on fortunes of this size is substantially the same in Great Britain.

Mr. Roosevelt is proposing no changes in the present federal estate taxes. He is asking for a supplementary levy based upon the sum inherited by any individual. This will mean a considerable increase in the proportion taken by the government from many estates and in extreme cases —say, for example, a 10 million dollar fortune left to a single heir—the present tax of $4,387,000 would be about doubled. In this instance the government would take in all something like 80 or 85 per cent.

Taxation at such a rate is unprecedented in this country, but it cannot be regarded as revolutionary in the sense that it introduces a new doctrin and a new trend in our property law. An 80 per cent tax is confiscatory, to be sure, but all death duties are confiscatory in greater or less degree and, in the legal theory which our courts have quite generally followed, these confiscations are not in violation of constitutional property rights.

Nearly all of the American courts have held that there is no natural right to inherit property. The making of wills and the receiving of inheritances is at least as old as 2750 B. C., for wills of that period have been found in Egypt. Wills were known in ancient Greece and Rome. Caesar's will, leaving a substantial sum to each citizen of Rome, is, thanks to Shakespeare and Plutarch, the best remembered of ancient wills, but was, of course, not unique. Indeed, it would be difficult to find a period of history from which no such documents have come down to us, but our courts have maintained that though the custom of willing property at death is a very old one, the right to do so is one which the state may modify at its pleasure. The doctrin seems to owe much to feudal origins, but, whatever its origin, it is the law. It is interesting to note that almost the only dissenting view is that of the Wisconsin court, but in the very case in which the right to devise and inherit is stated to be a natural and inalienable one the court sustained the inheritance tax as reasonable. [Nunnemacher vs. State, 129 Wis., 190.]

The right to will property and the right to inherit it are both subject, then, to regulation, amendment and perhaps even to revocation by the state. Just as all contracts for money are declared to be subject to the right of congress to determine what a dollar is at any moment, so inheritances seem to be subject to the power of the state to say what it will permit the heirs to have and what it will choose to subtract from the estate for its own uses. Perhaps the treasury can take all and leave the heir nothing. At any rate, as a practical matter, if an heir receives 2 million dollars the conscience of mankind is not likely to be greatly disturbed even though the government has taken 8 million away from him. Two million dollars is quite a lot of money to possess, particularly when the owner of it has done nothing to earn it more praiseworthy than selecting the right parents.

[The subject of inheritance and inheritance taxes will be pursued in subsequent editorials.]

MORE SHACKLES FOR TRANSPORTATION.

After several discussions with Coördinator of Transportation Eastman, President Roosevelt has loosed his long delayed transportation message to congress. Simultaneously the coördinator of transportation released his criticism of railway methods of handling carload trafic. An examination of the two statements leads us to conjecture that the weather, the Abyssinian situation, or the affair of the Gran Chaco must have been the subject of the preparatory deliberations between the chief executive and his transportation expert.

The President has instructed congress to pass measures for the regulation of highway motor carriers by the interstate commerce commission, while Mr. Eastman takes the railways to task for their limited use of transferable containers, both entirely overlooking the fact that this same regulatory body frowned on the development of new and economical types of equipment in a case involving this same facility. The President asks the broadening of the interstate commerce act to include carriers by water, while Mr. Eastman talks of trainload rates, condemned by the commission in a half dozen reports. The coördinator criticizes standard railway rates, speeds, operating practices, and box cars, ignoring the fact that such standardization is the product of a quarter century of the commission rule that the President says should be extended to other forms of transportation. In short, the coördinator parades before us a flexible, sensitive, and thoroughly practical condition in transportation that a half century of experience has taught would be impossible under laws the extension of which the President deems necessary.

Mr. Eastman lauds the railways for such coördination of transportation facilities through "pick up and delivery service" as they have been able to establish in the limited sphere allowed them by restrictive legislation, but neither he nor the chief executive can see that with extended rather than abridged liberties all forms of transport could make badly needed improvements in the service to the public.

The measure designed to place the activities of the trucking industry under the control of the interstate commerce commission has already been passed by the senate, but has not yet been considered by the house. The water carrier bill appears to have met with more determined opposition in the committees of both houses. It is to be presumed that a servile congress will now bring both pieces of legislation to the front and act upon them, to delay the progress of transportation, "the life blood of commerce," until such time as the laws are either repealed or become dead letters. The final solution will not be the extension of regulation but the release of the railways from their red tape bondage. Mr. Eastman's investigation obviously points to such a course, but like a good politician he leans toward the extension of governmental power.

ECONOMY IN MACOUPIN COUNTY.

An interesting controversy has developed in Macoupin county between the county Editorial association and the board of supervisors. To the layman the issue seems to be whether the board is to obey the law or is authorized to ignore it. A suit has been filed in the interests of the Editorial association to determine this issue, and this has brought down upon the editors the rebuke of the officials in the form of a resolution of condemnation containing the declaration that all publishers connected with the suit shall have no more public printing or supplies.

The law occasioning this remarkable debate is to be found in chapter 102 of the revised statutes and directs that "each public officer, other than a state officer, who by virtue of his office receives for disbursement and disburses public funds in the discharge of governmental or municipal debts and liabilities, shall at the expiration of each fiscal year prepare a statement: [1] Of all moneys received and from what sources received, giving items, particulars and details; [2] of all moneys paid out, giving the name of each individual to whom paid, on what account paid, and the amount."

The Macoupin County Advertiser remarks that the statute was adopted for the purpose of "protecting the treasurers of public funds and also to give the people the opportunity to know how their funds are being spent." That will seem to the taxpayers of Macoupin county, we should think, a rather desirable law, but the Macoupin county supervisors apparently do not so regard it. The board, says the Carlinville Democrat, "has been suffering from what they are pleased to term economy," which for several years has taken the form of dispensing with the publication of their proceedings. Since that zeal for saving—on publicity—the Democrat notes that the cost of running the county has steadily increased. It would and it will.

Meanwhile it will be interesting to follow the course of proceedings both in the courts and before the jury of Macoupin county public opinion. The supervisors have had lately some eminent examples of the evasion of inconvenient laws under one pretense or another, but we doubt that their electors will care for an economy which deprives them of knowing where their money is going.

Editorial of the Day

OUR INTERESTS IN CHINA.

[Detroit Free Press.]

Ambassador Saito says that Japan's operations in north China will not adversely affect American interests in that area.

They probably will not for the time being.

Ambassador Saito might even have gone further and pointed out the possibility that Japanese control and development of north China will provide an enlarged demand for American goods and new opportunities for commercial investment.

A tremendous potential market lies dormant in China, whose 400,000,000 people are still denied the buying power that would come of the liquidation of China's great natural resources.

Japan apparently aims to bring that market to life.

And if it succeeds there will be business enough for the whole world, at any rate for a long time to come.

Ultimately, as China develops industrially, whether under external pressure or of its own initiative, there will be a decline in many lines of imports, as there was in the United States, after it was able to make for itself many of the things it formerly had to buy from Europe.

Conversely, as the Chinese become more acquainted with foreign luxuries, as their standard of living rises and their purchasing power grows, there will be a greater demand for goods they do not themselves produce.

All of which is in the distant future, for China is too big a dog for even a Japanese tail to wag into action over night.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IT'S HIGH TIME to sit down and seriously think over where we're to go on vacation. It's different from other years. Time was when we read with great interest circulars and booklets of ocean trips, two weeks in the lake regions, tents and cabins on rivers that reflect the silver moon, fishing trips, canoe trips, swimming beaches and that sort of thing. But now we turn in loathing from all the old favorite places. Every darned one of 'em's got water in 'em, and we're so sick of water this year, with a downpour every day, that the mere mention of oceans and lakes and rivers and fish and canoes gives one the heebie-jeebies. We can get all the water we want any time by just walking around the block, so why go after it? I like to fish, but I'm looking now for some kind of dry land fish, and as for rowboats, I'd rather have the rowing machines they have in the gymnasium, where you row for an hour but you never see any water. I'm waiting for a circular from some vacation resort where they say they haven't got a river, a lake, a creek, or a sea, or a mountain brook within fifty miles and they only use water for making coffee and to freeze into ice for the cocktails. Water! Bah, I hate the stuff!

"TWO HUNDRED POUND POLICEMAN Kicked Out of Bed by Wife Sues for Divorce."—Headline. And we used to call 'em the weaker sex. They're anything but that. Still they should have some respect for the law even if the law has only its nightie on.

THIS CHANGING WORLD! Twenty or thirty years ago two people would come out on the stage in vaudeville and one of them would say: "I've got a dog worth twenty-five thousand dollars." And the other one would snap back: "Oh my! I didn't know a dog could save so much money." Whereupon the audience would laugh happily. And yesterday appears in the headlines: "Spinster Leaves $25,000 to Pet Dog."

THE AMEBA.

(Suggested by "The Debunker.")

Of the ameba, lowly,
That creeps along the slime
Of stagnant waters slowly,
I would indite a rhyme.

Though humblest of all creatures
Upon this mundane sphere,
His life has certain features
Quite salient and queer.

By karyokinesis
Himself he subdivides,
And lives in peace in pieces
Whatever fate betides.

His parts at times dissever
And go which way they choose,
But he goes on forever
In the primeval ooze.

When the fair Queen of Sheba
Was vamping ancient men,
Today's adult ameba
Was fully grown up then.

Indeed, I view, it may be,
Here, in the millpond's mud,
The one that was a baby
When Noah braved the flood.

Or, in yon swamp, miasmic,
Dank and primordial,
May bide the protoplasmic
Progenitor of all:

A sage who loves to chortle
And to philosophize
About the prideful mortal
Who lives a while, and dies.

Sans fear and hope and passion,
Sans struggle and sans strife,
He lives—but in what fashion!
Sans everything, but life.

OLD DOC CUTTER, who runs the "How to Keep Well" right next door to us, says you've got to use the electric needle or cautery or nitric acid skilfully applied to remove warts. Those things will probably take 'em off, but do you know what we barefooted boys down in the country used to use to take off warts? We'd go out and hunt up milkweeds. Then we'd pick the top of the wart with a needle until it bled a tiny bit. Then we'd rub in the juice of the milkweed. And in a few days the wart disappeared. But times have changed. People don't believe in anything that simple and commonplace, and it wouldn't do a bit of good to tell 'em about milkweed curing warts. If a person has a wart these days he insists on going to a hospital and being operated on by a wart specialist.

PROGRESS AND MENTAL ADAPTABILITY.

THE mind has difficulty in adjusting itself to changes that are sudden and sweeping in character. Incidents or events that startle us are likely to upset our mental equilibrium. We have all observed the delirium both of thought and of action which typifies universal fear or the mob spirit. Logic and reason are thrown to the winds and the emotions run riot. In other words, in times of stress most people fail to think or to think clearly.

Thousands of lives have been sacrificed because the average person has not trained his nervous reactions. In the main he is still an emotional moron. Under the ordinary routine of life every good citizen considers the rights of his fellow men and refrains from willfully injuring any one. But let an emergency arise that places in jeopardy a number of human lives and the instinct of self-preservation will overwhelm all sense of honor and duty. Every crisis discloses a few heroes, but they are the exception—instincts govern the masses. Political and economic confusion, social unrest, and a feeling of instability all have the same effect. This all means that in our present stage of evolution the human mind requires time for adaptation.

Political changes that occur abruptly rarely endure because movements that affect large numbers of people too often result from sentiments that are but momentarily uppermost. Many a just and worthy measure has been defeated in a legislative body because a leader suffered an attack of indigestion, had too little sleep the night before, or lost at poker. For the same reasons unworthy bills are often enacted into law. Passions may be likened to a kettle of boiling water. If the heat is continued, sooner or later the contents of the kettle will have been dissipated as vapor and the results usually are inconsequential.

Whether we realize it or not, we are compelled each day to make many emotional reconciliations. This is an important part of our training. These adjustments involve members of the family, business associates, neighbors, friends, acquaintances, news items, conditions of employment, wages, food prices, etc. The human mind, however, is capable of making only a certain number of adaptations in each twenty-four hours. They are made easily or with difficulty, depending upon mental training and stability, as well as physical resistance, all related to the importance of the incident.

If the individual finds himself unable to make the required mental adjustments sufficient to assure reasonable happiness lines of thought become tangled and uncertainty results because of worry and fear. Mental or physical illness sometimes follows.

We have learned to accommodate ourselves to great extremes of heat and cold. Just as we have adapted ourselves to physical forces through centuries of experience, so we must proceed gradually in the development of ideas. We have yet to learn that we cannot execute an abrupt about face in our social and economic thinking.

No one would desire to live in a crystalized world where progress and change were inhibited as by fetters of steel. There would be no incentive, no stimulus. At the same time changes must be assimilated before they can be applied to the economic and social status of man. They cannot be so rapid or so devastating as to upset mental equanimity.

Psychic shocks can be withstood only with mental preparedness, and the first step is a better understanding of ourselves. We must learn to evaluate our emotions, to avoid the heights, and at the same time to fill in the valleys. A modest amount of anxiety is desirable; an overwhelming amount destroys the ability to function.

Vigorous mental and physical health is necessary if nations are to endure. We know that the physical well being and the efficiency of all the people are improving year by year. The same cannot be said of our mental health.

TWO METHODS USED.

F. K. W. writes: What are the possible results of cutting the auditory nerve half through for the purpose of stopping vertigo in Ménière's disease? I understand that this operation is performed by certain brain surgeons.

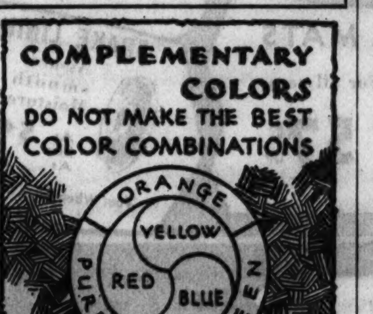
REPLY.

Some time ago Coleman and Dandy reported a small number of cases in which the partial cutting of the eighth [auditory] nerve of the affected side would relieve symptoms of vertigo in Ménière's. Coleman cuts the nerve entirely through while Dandy cuts it only half through. The results of Furstenberg's diet and the restriction of fluid and sodium [common salt] have been so striking in some cases that operative procedure may not be required.

Evidently it is Dandy's theory that certain fibers in the auditory nerve are vestibular, that is, they control the balancing mechanism of the body, while other fibers carry the sensation of hearing. A most careful investigation has not, up to the present time, disclosed differentiation in these fibers.

The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph. D.



Color cards often state that the best combinations are those colors which are complementary [colors which, if combined, would produce white light]. Investigations in color combinations have failed to justify this belief, and an authority on color states: "Careful experiments show that colors which are not quite complementary to one another are preferred as combinations." Other authorities say that by selecting the right shades or tints any colors may be combined without offending good taste.

WHEN THE BISHOP CAME TO CHICAGO.

Chicago, June 21.—It may be in the spirit of the Line o' Type or Two column to laugh off the remarks of the bishop of Exeter in the house of lords recently, but to me he is a wolf in sheep's clothing.

I heard him speak at the Chicago Sunday Evening club on the visit to Chicago which he so shrewdly describes in his "build up" for empire as against democracy. On that occasion I had listened with great interest to his inspiring talk—a sermon—and then was dumfounded when in one or two closing sentences he turned the whole objective of his remarks into the conclusion that as good Christians—good Christian Americans—we should forgive the English their war debt to us.

Truly his bishop's frock should not save him. He is a gangster at heart himself, using subtle weapons, and his "gang" are those lords "on whose lands the sun never sets." O. B. EARNEST.

THE VANISHED JELLYFISH.

Winnetka, Ill., June 21.—I have returned from accustomed visits to seashores. Dejected.

Heretofore a favorite pastime has been to find poor, helpless little jellyfish. I don't care much for them because they remind me of gelatin and I hate the stuff in any form.

But it has been fun to poke 'em in the place where their ribs ought to be but ain't. Neither do they have spines.

But on this pilgrimage I saw nary a jellyfish. And the reason is now apparent to me. They are all in congress. WALTON W. COPE.

THEN WHAT IS FOUR BILLION!

Chicago, June 21.—Do you realize that Mr. Orr's cartoon of today made thousands of new friends for the new tax on income and inheritance by at last making the slip that every jackass eventually makes by calling a million or two paltry? Any one with an ounce of intelligence would not call that amount paltry. Am I right? ELLWOOD HANNEMANN.

ALLEYS.

Chicago, June 20.—It seems to me high time some one would tell the city of Chicago to clean up the downtown alleys. They smell. M. N.

LEE'S RANK.

Chicago, June 18.—I have long groaned, with others, at the inaccuracies of your bubble bursting contributor, the Debunker. It has surprised me that a man in his position should not conform, and that a paper of your caliber should not require his conforming, to the custom that obtains in the field of higher learning of quoting his authority for such controversial statements as he specializes in for his arbitrary announcements. One can only conclude that neither of you cares what sort of stuff you foist on an uninformed public so long as one of you is paid and the other of you is read.

I venture to assist you in correcting Mr. Debunker's statement in today's paper that Gen. Robert E. Lee was not in command of the confederate army and that Gen. Johnston and other generals were superior to him in rank. I quote from two of many authorities.

The latest edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica says Gen. Robert E. Lee was "military adviser" to the president [Jefferson Davis], and that Gen. Johnston was the one "who commanded the confederate main army in Virginia."

Gamaliel Bradford, in his book, "Lee the American" Houghton Mifflin & Co., Boston, 1929, says: [On Jan. 17, 1865] "the legislature of Virginia addressed a respectful appeal to the President to make Lee commander in chief of the confederate armies. Davis . . . on the same day wrote to Lee offering him the position . . .

"It was of course the intention of congress to take the military control entirely out of Davis' hands . . . to all suggestions of independent authority he [Lee] returned a prompt and absolute No. The position of commander in chief he accepted, but he accepted it only from the hands of Davis and with the intention of acting in every way as his subordinate. . . .

"Thus we see that Lee, from personal loyalty or from a broad view of policy, or both, was determined to remain in perfect harmony with his chief to the end." H. E. WALKER.

GASOLINE ALLEY.

THE DESTRUCTION OF FOOD.

La Grange, Ill., June 17.—An act to define and punish the crime of destroying food with the intent to influence the market price thereof was made part of the Illinois criminal code June 2, 1919. This act was as follows:

"Any person who shall willfully destroy or permit to waste any food fit for human or animal consumption, of the original value of $25 or more, so that such food becomes unfit for such use, with the intent to cause scarcity or to increase, control, maintain, or influence the market price of such food, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25 or more than $500 or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

ON THE TARGET.

Chicago, June 21.—Your many fine editorials and cartoons by Mr. Orr against the New Deal have won my admiration in the past, but your editorial, "Mr. Roosevelt's Share the Wealth," in today's issue is a masterpiece. Nowhere in so few words could such a flawless and damning analysis of the President's latest stand be found. Your aim and range are perfect. Keep up the drumfire. R. J. FRESHOUR.

DEMAND COUNTY MODERNIZE ITS OFFICE METHODS

Regular Auditing System Urged by Commission.

Independent audits of thirteen county offices, reforms in the handling of money by county officials, and modernization of the tax collecting and distributing methods of the county treasurer's office were recommended to the county board yesterday.

The recommendations were made by the special audit and survey commission appointed recently by Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board. The commission's studies did not include the county clerk's office, where an audit was made recently disclosing a shortage $414,000 in the accounts of Robert M. Sweitzer when he turned the office over last December. The commission is composed of representative county officials and business and professional men.

Recommendations in Report.

One suggestion in its report is that the audits of the county offices be brought down to last May 31, and that an annual audit of each office be made thereafter by the county auditor, with periodical examinations by him of cash and securities on hand.

Another recommendation is that independent auditors examine the reports of the county auditor, verify the cash and securities on hand in the various offices, review the fee accounts, and determine as far as possible the disposition of interest on fee and trust fund accounts during the last ten years.

The monetary reforms suggested include a provision that the various county officials shall designate their official bank accounts as belonging to the county, and shall keep separate accounts for fees and for trust funds.

"It is thought," the report said, "that this designation will put the depositaries on notice that such moneys are not the personal bank accounts of the various officials."

Demand Records Be Retained.

A subcommittee report on which the commission's recommendations were based said: "It is apparently the practice of retiring elected officials to remove all or a part of the records with them upon their retirement."

Therefore the commission recommended that the county board order that all such records be kept in the offices.

In the section dealing with modernization of the county treasury, the report said that the present records "are antiquated and wholly inadequate." The subcommittee was authorized to make a further study of the machine bookkeeping methods which might be established in the treasurer's office, particularly for use in speeding up the collection and distribution of taxes.

Agree on Value of Machines.

Several members of the commission, including Col. A. A. Sprague and John O. Rees, director of the citizens' committee on public expenditures, agreed that the cost of such bookkeeping machinery would be far less than the value of the benefits derived.

In its investigation, the commission said, it learned that the treasurer in the past had advanced money from aggregate funds to the bond and interest fund in anticipation of taxes. Modern bookkeeping methods would eliminate such practices, it was said.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By BOB BECKER

Commotion Galore

June 26, 1935.

SILVER VICTOR, the white Shorthorn bull, stirred up considerable excitement on the Yorkville farm last night. This big bull broke out of the pasture shortly after midnight and what a time he had barging around before he was corralled and bedded down in the field where he belongs!

When Clarence Thurow heard all the racket near his home he couldn't imagine what was happening. He slipped on some clothes, grabbed a big flashlight and started out to investigate. When he reached the barnyard he began to swing the beam of the light around to find the source of the noise. The long ray of bright light finally came to rest on old Victor. His white bulk loomed up like a huge four footed ghost.

Clarence drove the bull back to his field and locked him in for the night, because Shorthorn bulls that play hookey and get out of their pastures are not supposed to be running wild out here.

Lots of interesting things are happening around the ponds on the Wheaton farm this week. In the first place the grebe [helldiver] that built a nest on Round pond has a family of nine little ones. Two years ago I found the nest of a grebe on this same pond just when five little ones were beginning to get active. But last year I failed to see this water bird on the farm. They are back this season and it looks as if the farm would produce quite a family of them.

The mallard hen that built a nest in a protected spot under a roll of wire near the big pond and hatched out a nice clutch of ducklings liked the spot so much that she is nesting in practically the same place for the second time. Rawlings checked on this nest yesterday and found 10 eggs in it.

A bronze turkey hen with no business at all on the Wheaton farm has brazenly walked into the sheepfold behind Rawlings' house, built herself a nest and now is "setting" on a clutch of eggs. This hen belongs to a neighbor who has been notified how his bird has not read the trespass laws, and as a result has invaded other property to raise a family. The neighbor will be over to take the hen and the poults home when they hatch out.

* * *

The rain yesterday put an end to the haying operations on the Wheaton farm. The boys are finding the alfalfa mighty heavy this year because the wet spring has produced a wonderful crop. The alfalfa is so heavy that it is much harder to handle than crops of previous years.

Carl was remarking yesterday that he couldn't remember such a stand of alfalfa as he is now cutting on the farm.

Right now the boys are begging for plenty of sunshine to dry out the hay and stop all showers until the crop has been taken in. So far seven acres of the crop have been put in the haykeeper. This seven acres produced about 17 tons.

FIST FIGHTS RAGE IN SERBIA'S PARLIAMENT OVER CABINET POLICY

Councilmen Fight in Paris.

PARIS, June 26.—(AP)—Fighting between communist and conservative officials, in which Achille Gilley, prefect of the Seine department and chief government official of the Paris region, was hit on the head by a wooden tray, broke up a meeting tonight of the council general at city hall.

Fists flew among the councilmen, who handle tax and other administrative affairs for the Paris region, after a stormy election of Dr. Ludovic Clamels, a Socialist, as council president. Fighting started when a communist councilman from Aubervillieres presented a resolution calling for dissolution of "Fascist troops." Nationalists objected.

United Air Lines—Largest in World—Use Standard Motor Fuels Exclusively!

United Air Lines leave nothing to chance. On the basis of 80 million miles of flying experience, the company uses only Standard motor fuels. That choice is based on proved performance.

Day and night, the new fleet of Boeing twin-motored ships covers 45,000 miles. United carries approximately 150,000 passengers, nearly half of the country's air mail and hundreds of tons of express annually. Above appears one of United's fleet of fifty-five twin-engined Boeings. They have reduced travel-days to hours, and hours to minutes; United's passengers leave the Atlantic rim of the continent in the afternoon and breakfast on the Pacific rim next morning. These big, safe, comfortable transports cruise from Chicago to New York in four hours and twenty minutes.

Standard Oil supplies the Live Power required for this brilliant performance—8 million gallons of motor fuel yearly for the world's largest fleet of multi-motored ships.

Warns Against Too Efficient Housekeeping

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Experts in homemaking were urged yesterday to consider that there are evils attached to being too good a housewife, when Miss Lita Bane of Washington spoke on "Family Planning for Daily Living" before a section of the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the American Home Economics association in the Palmer house.

"Family planning," a new term for the old bogey, budget making, comprises planning of money, time, personnel [meaning members of the family], and chores, as Miss Bane outlined it. She is associated with the United States Office of Coöperative Extension service, and addressed home economics experts attached to department of agriculture extension divisions.

"Homemakers should be efficient, but not too efficient," Miss Bane declared. "They must be careful not to let any plan or routine dominate them. I asked one good housewife if she practiced resiliency in the working out of her excellent planned household schedule. She said she did in theory, but that actually she lay awake at night if there were one unwashed dish in the house. I don't approve of that.

"The plan should be flexible. There should be a fundamental structure of order in the home, but when one enters a house and thinks, 'What an orderly home,' the homemaker has not been artistic, she has failed to create the right effect."

Miss Bane discussed the family council as a planning agency.

"In one family I know of," she related, "the father and mother each blamed the other because they lived beyond their income. They let the children enter in a family council.

"The high school age son finally said, 'I'll keep the accounts, but, mother, you must not hold out.' This mutual solving of problems by the family, with the children on an equal footing, often yields happiest relationships.

"There are also disadvantages. Can you picture some families putting the cards on the table without self-consciousness? Or talking things over without one member's dominating the others?

"Any family plan has limitations. Some of us are not time-conscious or money-conscious enough to have them 100 per cent successes. Also we must try to keep a plan from becoming so obvious that it seems an end in itself rather than a means to an end."

One woman in the audience wanted to know more about the "limitations" of the family council plan. Miss Bane called on a woman of the audience for discussion.

"The limitations are only in the mind of the mother," this woman said. "I know, because I brought up my children on that plan. If she has flexibility, a family council plan can succeed."

"Didn't you mean, instead, flexibility of the father?" some one asked.

"O," she replied, "I settled that a long time ago when I married him."

Margaret M. Pyott Becomes Bride of Judge Robert Dunne

Mrs. Margaret Meyercord Pyott and Municipal Judge Robert Jerome Dunne were married yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in Holy Name cathedral, with just the families and a few friends witnessing the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. George W. Moran.

The bride was stunning in a silk suit of ashes of roses with a hat to match, brown accessories, and purple orchids. Mrs. Morris F. Dunne attended the bride and Mr. Dunne was best man for his brother.

Following the ceremony there was a breakfast for the families at the Blackstone hotel and then Judge Dunne and his bride left to motor to Montreal to sail Saturday for a month in Ireland. They will live at 706 Junior terrace upon their return. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Meyercord and the bridegroom is a son of former Gov. Edward F. Dunne and the late Mrs. Dunne.

Porter Heaps of Chicago Wins Prize for Anthem

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—Porter Heaps, 29 years old, organist of the New England Congregational church, Chicago, received the $100 anthem prize today at a luncheon attended by more than 1,000 delegates to the 14th annual convention of the American Guild of Organists. H. W. Gray, head of the music publishing firm which annually gives the anthem prize, announced that Mr. Heaps' anthem, "Thanksgiving for All Created Things," had been selected as the best from approximately seventy-five entries, the largest number submitted in years.

Miss Theodora Shaw Will Be Bride Today

Reception Will Follow at Mother's Home.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE opening of the Lake Forest horse show this afternoon will attract many to the Onwentsia outdoor riding arena, but the wedding reception in town of Miss Frances Theodora Shaw and John Lord King will keep many away from the show who otherwise would be going to it, without a doubt.

Only relatives will witness the marriage ceremony that the Rev. Dudley Stark will read in the library of the Lake View avenue residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Howard Van Doren Shaw, but the reception will be a fairly large one.

The young bride with her classic beauty will be a picture of loveliness, certainly, for she is wearing her mother's beautiful old wedding dress which was made in the early nineties and now is in style again. Her veil is an old one, too, for it was worn by the bridegroom's mother, who formerly was Miss Margaret Lord.

Thirteen year old Alice Judson, daughter of the former Sylvia Shaw and Clay Judson, will be her aunt's only attendant, and Joseph H. King will serve as his son's best man. Theodore A. Shaw Jr. will give his niece in marriage. Mr. King and his bride will go to Bermuda for a month, and upon their return they will take an apartment on the near north side. The bridegroom's aunt and cousin, Mrs. Edward Morris of Hartford, Conn., and Miss Betty Lord of Washington, D. C., are here for the wedding.

If today is lovely perhaps Mrs. Shaw and her daughter will be sorry they did not plan to have the wedding at Ragdale, Mrs. Shaw's Lake Forest home, but remembering what a terrible day it was 14 years ago when Sylvia was married to Clay Judson and what confusion reigned owing to the fact that there wasn't room for all the guests in the house, they probably will be glad that the weather can have no effect upon today's ceremony.

The pair of stunning seven branched iron candelabra that the late Mr. Shaw, one of the country's leading architects, designed to be used in the Fourth Presbyterian church when the eldest daughter, Evelyn, was married about 18 years ago to John T. McCutcheon, will be used again today for the wedding of the youngest daughter.

Many Parties for Horse Show Guests.

The Onwentsia club will be a beehive of activity during the three days of the horse show, for there are luncheons and dinners galore in connection with the entertainment of the many out of town guests who will be here for the event. The Albert B. Dicks, whose house will be full of guests during the show, and Mrs. Howard Linn will be among the luncheon hostesses today. Mrs. Linn is entertaining for Miss Carlyle Downes, daughter of Admiral and Mrs. John Downes of the Great Lakes Naval station.

Tonight the Austin H. Niblacks are giving a large cocktail party before the buffet dinner-dance at the club, and the Farwell Winstons will entertain at dinner for Mrs. William Cox of Cohasset, Mass., who will be a judge at the show.

Mrs. John Hay Whitney of New York, who also will be a judge, arrived yesterday to visit the Niblacks for the next ten days. Mr. Whitney will join her for the week-end. Alfred Maclay, president of the American Horse Show association, will come tomorrow for the last two days of the show and will stay with the Dicks, who also will have with them the William B. MacColls of Providence, R. I.

Other Visitors at Lake Forest.

With many out of town horse enthusiasts here for the show the north shore town is aglow with activity. Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wilson and their daughter, Frances, have come from Grosse Pointe, Mich., for the show, and so have Mrs. Louis Bredin of Detroit, who has brought a string of JAMES WEBER LINN, who is completing a biography of his aunt, the late Jane Addams, to be published in the fall, recently recounted an amusing occurrence that was a result of Miss Addams' appointment to the school board some years ago. Miss Addams and Mrs. Emmons Blaine were the first women to be given such an appointment and there was considerable grumbling on the part of the men board members. One of them said he supposed that now they would have to stop smoking their cigars at the board sessions, and when this comment came to Miss Addams' ears she said she had no objection whatsoever to their continuing to smoke. This statement was promptly used against her, and a newspaper article informed the public of her lack of prejudice against this bad habit. She was criticized severely. However, shortly after, Miss Addams was approached by a tobacco company and asked for an indorsement of cigar smoking. Which was a unique experience in the life of that lady devoted to good works and good influences.

Modest Price Marks Placed on Nightgowns

BY RHEA SEEGER.

For reasonable sums you can buy new summer sheer nightgowns that can easily go out of nights for high fashion summer dinner and dance dresses. Smart, wide awake shoppers discovered the dual possibilities of these beflowered sheer models some time ago and they're still going strong. In fact these gowns are more picturesque and effective than ever before.

Ask to see the new combine numbers of silk crêpe and matching sheer. These are made of the silk crêpe for the sheath of the gown, and the twin patterned sheer materials is used for the full deep Spanish flounce effect at the bottom and puffed shoulders. These good looking affairs come in white, pale pink, and baby blue, sprinkled with flowers and tiny green leaves.

Flowered chiffons, a trifle more in price, have rows of tiny ruffles around the hemline, around the neckline and edging the shoulder straps. There is one honey with a chalk white background with rosy red and pale blue flowers spaced well apart for color contrast. The flowered silk gowns combined with sheer have sashes of very narrow velvet baby ribbon and the chiffons have self material or ribbon sash belts.

For the cotton collector there are plenty of flowered dimity gowns as adorably feminine as the silks and chiffons, also made with ruffles, flounces, frilled shoulder straps and big bow tie sashes. They tub with perfect ease and retain their crisp colorful charm all summer. They also have modest price tags.

Some more tub lingerie to please fastidious shoppers. . . . sleek, superfitting slips and matching panties of snowy white thin linen, every stitch made by hand. The slips are cut way low in the back to accommodate the gouged out backlines of sun tan sports clothes, and also have a shadow proof front section.

The combines of panties and slip are ready for all summer tub frocks and evening clothes also of cotton or linen. They are tailored and untrimmed and fit just as suavely as anything of satin.

Paris Stares at Hair Dyed Color of Dress

AUTEUIL, France, June 26.—(AP)—The most eccentric fashions Paris has seen in years appeared today at the hurdle race which marks the apex of Grande Semaine—the "grand week" which winds up the Parisian social season.

The horses at the race course wore the conventional saddle and bridle, but the racing enthusiasts' eyes bulged when they saw women with their various heads of hair dyed blue, violet, mauve, and rich copper to match their frocks or accessories.

Beaten silver slave bracelets were worn above the elbows, and big crownless felt hats with turned up brims, rimmed at the forehead line with ostrich fringes and other eccentricities, were noted.

Really chic Parisiennes appeared in decidedly more sober costumes, the greatest favorites being dark silk tailleurs. There were many navy or black plain or dotted taffeta gowns with wide brimmed straw hats and colorful sweet pea and carnation boutonnières.

The fall hats of felt and velvet show a decided tendency to pitch over the forehead and rise slightly in the back. They generally are black, navy, copper, or red.

Legion Auxiliary to Give Party for Children Today

Twenty-five children of needy war veterans will be guests today of the 6th Illinois district of the American Legion auxiliary. The children will have luncheon with members of the auxiliary and in the afternoon will be taken to a north side theater. The entertainment is part of the district's child welfare program which is being carried out with the organization's share of Poppy day proceeds. Mrs. H. Wayrauch is chairman of the day's program. She will be assisted by Mrs. H. A. Sewell, Mrs. Ann McManus, and other members of the organization.

Good Morning!

Query: Did you like "One Night of Love"?

Answer [Probably]: "Yes."

Comment: Then, without a doubt, "Evensong" will delight you.

This foreign made musical film, starring the lovely blonde English girl Evelyn Laye, is an adaptation of the play by Edward Knoblock and Beverly Nichols.

It is rich in great music and good acting, and its story has that "common touch" which gives a "super" film box office value.

Built on the Cinderella plot, it follows from triumphant youth to, alas! triumphant age the career of a poor but gifted Irish girl who becomes a famous prima donna.

You meet the colleen, Maggie McNeill, in ould Ireland in the '90s. George Murray, a young musician who loves her, takes her to Paris and gives her her start. Under the tutelage of Madame Valmond and a quiet, discerning, forceful man named Kober she blossoms out into a great singer.

Kober, who makes it plain that he loves the voice but not the woman, convinces Maggie that she should put herself in his charge. He will guide her to fame and fortune.

She accepts his advice, abandons George, becomes—"Madame Irela."

All the countries of the world acclaim her. . . . An archduke is at her feet. . . . Then the war. . . . Madame Irela singing to the soldiers.

The archduke?

Kober has frustrated that romance. Irela cries bitterly:

"Ah! The problem soon will be to keep it in electric lights! . . ."

The finale, in which Irela seeks to drown the sound of Baba's young voice in that of her own fresh one—on a gramophone record!—is infinitely touching. True to the nature of the woman, Irela, and an honest climax to an honest story.

"Evensong" is a charmingly presented blend of romance, tragedy, suspense and song. Its music is drawn chiefly from the classics and, as in "One Night of Love," the vocal and instrumental sequences are made a legitimate part of the plot.

The piece is larded with arresting bits of pantomime. Note the episode in which the emperor lays down the law to the archduke.

Scenery and the foreign interiors and costumes of the period are fascinating, and photography and direction delight.

As for Miss Laye—superb! She goes into your heart like a knife in her keenly comprehending portrayal of the ageing world's darling who refuses to accept the inevitable. Her makeup is remarkable. She ages as a woman does age. And can she sing!

Fritz Kortner as Kober is remarkably fine. Carl Esmond plays the archduke with charm. All of the acting is admirable. Also, praise be, the picture is not too long!

And so—with huzzas—I hand you "Evensong."

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A timely discovery is a mosquito cream, fragrant and pleasant to use, which will be a boon to all vacationists.

If you are about to leave for the north woods, or to any woods at all, for that matter, there is a new product on the market that is just what you have been wishing for every summer for years back. It's a mosquito cream, and we're especially enthusiastic about it because it's not a bit messy to use, nor does it have an odor that is unpleasant to you as it is to the mosquito. Quite the contrary: its odor is delicate and a touch spicy, and all in all, a very pleasant one.

In fact, you don't see how any mosquito of taste and discrimination—the kind that would bite you in the first place—could possibly resist it. But they both can and do. They steer clear of any one who has had the foresight to plaster arms, legs, neck, and back with this protective salve.

As to consistency, it's on the order of a finishing cream—light and smooth spreading, without being at all greasy. It does not stain clothing, nor does it make the skin look oily. It seems to form an invisible film over the epidermis, and all that remains to tell the tale is its delicate aroma—and no mosquitoes!

It comes in a generous jar with a neat black top, and is a handy size to pack away in a corner of your luggage. It's not at all expensive, and even tho' it is used in large quantities, one jar will last a long, long time.

We think that its service in repelling insects is quite enough to recommend it, but it does perform another function as well. Like many vanishing creams, the film which it forms over the skin has a tendency to prevent sunburn, so that the beach enthusiast will find it killing two birds with one stone to keep a jar handy and use it often.

With all the rainy weather we have had this spring, the crop of hungry young mosquitoes is sure to be a bumper one, and knowing what havoc a perfectly normal generation of mosquitoes can make of the most happily planned vacation, we are loud in our praise of the ingenious individual who has come to the rescue in such masterly fashion. M. S.

Unity Committee Is Given Approval by Missouri Synod

Cleveland, O., June 26.—(AP)—The possibility of establishing organic unity among three of the largest branches of the Lutheran church came a step nearer realization today.

Representatives of the Missouri synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church, meeting here, voted unanimously to choose a committee to study details of the plan with committees of the American Lutheran church and the United Lutheran Church in America.

The Missouri synod's committee will be appointed by the Rev. J. W. Behnken of Houston, Tex., president.

The synod voted reinstatement today for Dr. Adolph Brux of Vaniyambdi, India, who had been tentatively suspended by the church's foreign mission board because of a paper he read in India on prayer fellowship.

Kiwanis Head to Speak.

Harper Gatton of Madisonville, Ky., president of Kiwanis International, will be the guest speaker at the luncheon at the Hotel Sherman today of the Kiwanis club of Chicago.

The Ortega Feud

By Marie De Nervaud

SYNOPSIS.

Chris Jackson is sent by Bill Benton, new sherif of Monterey county, to put an end to the Ortega-Alvado feud, which has resulted in numerous murders. Both families believe California to be still Spanish and want Americans kept out. Pietro Sanchez runs the general store of the Big Sur valley. While calling there Chris encounters Guido Ortega, Ramon, his dare-devil son, and Ysabel, his beautiful, sad eyed niece. He falls in love with Ysabel at first sight, and has a quarrel with Ramon and publicly spanks him. Chris outfits himself for a supposed lion hunting trip. He receives a note sent by messenger from Ysabel Ortega hinting of a mysterious danger, begging his aid, and asking him to meet her in a fortnight. Chris camps in a canyon on the northern boundary of the Alvado ranch. A shot from an unseen hand gives him warning to leave. He is saved by Rocky, an old Indian hunter, who advises him to leave the country. Next day Chris meets Francesca Alvado, flirtatious Spanish beauty, who warns him her father welcomes no strangers. Chris tells her of his encounter with Ramon Ortega. It gains him entree to the Alvado ranch. Guido Alvado invites Chris to a rodeo to be held in a week. During the rodeo the warring families hold a traditional three day truce. Ysabel Ortega is facing a forced marriage with her cousin, Ramon. Her uncle refuses to tell her the secret of her birth, as he had promised to do on her eighteenth birthday. She tries to escape from the ranch, but every road is guarded. She meets Rocky and appeals to him. He promises to delay the priest's coming until after the rodeo. Chris, for safety's sake masquerading as Rocky, encounters the real Rocky.

GUARDED TRAILS.

"I had to get down in this territory," Chris admitted, "and with their habit of shooting strangers at sight, I thought it would be a good idea to look like some one they know, in case they caught a glimpse of me."

"You planned well," Rocky answered. "Ysabel Ortega saw you, and was convinced that she had seen me."

"Ysabel Ortega!" Chris exclaimed. "Where did she see me? Where?"

Rocky's eyes narrowed at Chris's intense interest in this new subject. "You have not told me that you knew Ysabel," he observed.

"I'll tell you about that later," Chris expostulated impatiently. "When did she see me? Where is she now? Why didn't she call to me?"

"She did," Rocky's shoulders shook with his silent laugh, "but there was one thing you couldn't imitate as easily as my hair and my walk! You could not take on my ears as well! You did not hear her when she called."

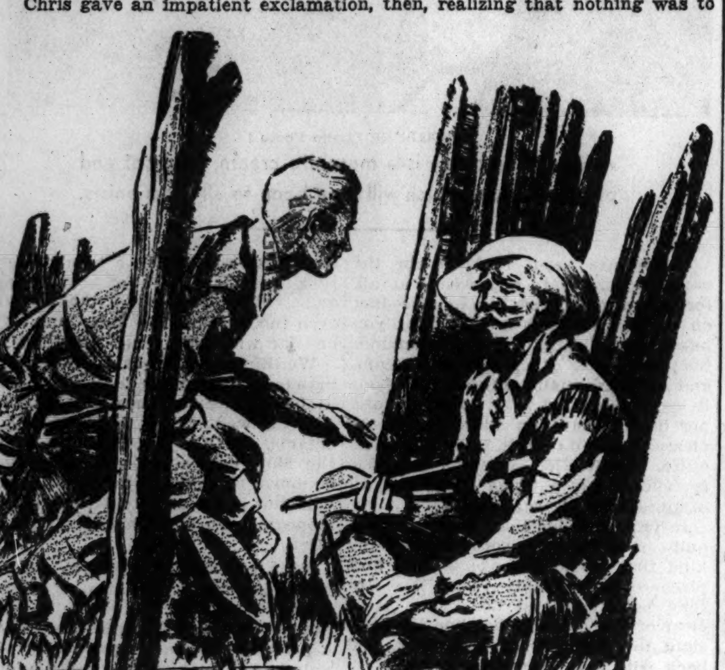
Chris's expression was a comical mixture of chagrin and suppressed excitement.

"Where was it?" he demanded. "How long ago? Was it last night?"

"So you have been here since last night!" Rocky observed. "You are either a very brave young man or a very foolish one; or perhaps both. You did not take my advice, then?"

Chris gave a short laugh. "No, but I'll tell you about that later. First tell me about Ysabel Ortega."

Rocky slowly shook his head. "I have no evidence that Ysabel Ortega would want you to know of her affairs. I will first hear what you already know about her."



"Ysabel Ortega!" Chris exclaimed. "Where did she see me? Where?"

Chris gave an impatient exclamation, then, realizing that nothing was to be gotten out of Rocky unless he took him fully into his confidence, he plunged into an account of his meeting with Ysabel and her mysterious appeal. "I was afraid to try to see her, or let her know I had come before the appointed time," he finished, "for fear it might make matters worse. But, as you know, I had other business that brought me down here, so I came anyway. Naturally I hoped I might see her. Where did she see me?" Chris came back to his original question, his eyes fixed on Rocky's blue ones.

For a long moment Rocky stared at him as though turning over in his mind the question of how far to take Chris into his confidence.

"I wonder why Ysabel did not tell me of her meeting with you?" he murmured at last in a tone that was mere thinking aloud.

Chris's heart quickened its beat at this information. If Ysabel hadn't mentioned it, it must mean one of two things; either that the thought of him meant nothing at all to her, or that it meant too much for her to want to mention it to Rocky.

"As the fact remains that she didn't mention it," Rocky continued, "I reckon you'll have to wait. Just what have you been up to since I saw you?" He suddenly fixed his eyes searchingly on Chris with this direct question.

Chris answered Rocky with a frank statement of his meeting with Francesca Alvado; the raid on his camp and his subsequent encounter with Señor Alvado and the other members of his family.

"I figured it was up to me to get a line on the Ortega family as well," he ended, "as I came on down. I spent a good part of last night prowling around the house and the rancheria. That's why you found me sound asleep," he ended apologetically, "darn fool trick in the enemy's country!"

"How did you get down here?" Rocky asked.

"Crossed the canyon at the trail," Chris showed surprise at this self-evident question. "I waited until it was dark, and there was nothing to it."

"There'll be more to it going back," Rocky commented dryly. "Señor Ortega has set a guard there now."

Chris gave a long low whistle. "Got wind of my being here, did he?"

Rocky shook his head. "It has nothing to do with you; but the fact remains that the only two ways you can get out are both guarded."

Chris gave a short laugh and patted his hip. "Only one guard? That's easy enough, now that I know he's there. I'll get the drop on him, all right."

"Did you know that the Ortegas got another of the Alvado vaqueros last night?" Rocky abruptly changed the subject.

"What's that?" Chris was instantly on the alert. "Are you sure? What time?"

"How did you know about it?" Chris demanded.

Rocky gave his slow, enigmatic smile. "I know many things, my young friend; but the thing I know best of all is never to tell how I know things."

"In that case I won't be going back just yet," Chris declared grimly. "I've got to find out who did this thing and pin it on the actual individual. That will take quite a bit more scouting." He paused a moment, then added: "At least tell me this about Ysabel Ortega. Could I help her by seeing her now?"

"Most decidedly not," Rocky answered emphatically. "For the moment the danger she dreads is averted. You will see her if you go to the rodeo. Do not try to see her before."

"Will you be at the rodeo?" Chris tried not to let his voice reflect the keen disappointment Rocky's words gave him. "The whole idea sounds crazy to me! Here they are murdering each other, and then they go and have a three day love feast!"

"You'd hardly call it a 'love feast,'" Rocky commented, "but they live up to their tradition of being able to control and disguise their real feeling. Only this year it will be even more of a feat, with the ghost of Pietro Alvado in their midst!" He turned to go. "I must leave you now. you are welcome to your disguise," he added with a quizzical look, "only do not disgrace me by going to sleep so soundly."

"I won't," Chris promised. "I suppose it wouldn't do me any good to ask you where you are going and why?"

Rocky gave his silent laugh and shook his head. The next moment he had disappeared behind one of the trees.

Chris stood watching his progress up the slope. One minute he would see him and the next he would vanish completely. At last he reached the crest of the ridge, and with a farewell wave disappeared from sight.

The sun was well up by the time Ysabel reached the hacienda. The fresh morning air, the sparkling blue of the ocean, and above all, the confidence inspired by Rocky had transformed her from the terror stricken girl who had crept out at dawn, to a resolute figure of determination.

Rocky's parting warning that she must marshal all her forces to outwit her uncle rang in her ears as she left Estar at the corral and walked slowly over to the piazza, where she could see her uncle seated in the shadow of one of the pillars.

She could not match him in force, but she must offset that by matching him in subtlety. In the five days between now and the rodeo she must trust to her wits and to Rocky's promise that Father Ignatio would not arrive.

"I am sorry to be late for breakfast," Ysabel met her uncle's ironic gaze with a restrained composure that obviously surprised him. "I would have been back earlier if Pietro had not kept me from riding along the trail. He said it was by your order. Was it?"

Ysabel paused on the stone step leading to the veranda as she flung out this direct challenge.

Queen Mary Holds Last of Jubilee Courts

More American Women Are Presented.

BY ANN WHITTINGHAM.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1935: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, June 26.—Georgia, which never fails to send at least one daughter to their majesties' court in Buckingham palace, spread itself tonight and sent four—the Misses Betty Timmons, Anne Alston, Louise Richardson and Mary N. Bryan.

The other Americans presented by the American embassy were: Mrs. Laurence A. Steinhardt, Miss Florence Candler Cobb and Miss Marie L. MacHatton of New York City; Miss Mildred Snow of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Henry Stump Middendorf, Miss Suzanne Hill and Miss Isabel Hulings of Baltimore, and Mrs. Brady G. Ruttencutter of Washington, D. C.

Queen Mary held this court, the last of four of the jubilee year, without King George, who still is resting at Sandringham in preparation for his July engagements.

She was led to the single golden throne by the prince of Wales, who, after the processional entrance, took his place in the royal circle at the back of the dais.

Mrs. Robert Worth Bingham, wife of the American ambassador, superbly gowned in lime green with a diamond tiara and emerald jewelry, again presented the American presentees.

Miss Betty Timmons, who spent her childhood in Witchita, Kas., wore a gown designed on princess lines which are particularly becoming to her petite figure. It was of ivory satin with a neckline of rhinestones, a little higher in the front than the back. The train was the same satin lined in self-colored chiffon. The simplicity of the ensemble was enhanced by low heeled white satin sandals which are the first to make their appearance here. Small bandeaux were worn to hold the prince of Wales feathers in place.

A white satin gown and train of empire design was worn by Miss Hulings, who introduced a novel idea by wearing a short cape of sequins over the train. Miss Hulings was one of the few debutantes to wear jewels.

The wife of the American minister to Sweden, Mrs. Steinhardt, accompanied Mrs. Bingham to the court, using the much appreciated diplomatic entrance. Mrs. Steinhardt wore a symphony in silver. She wore a diamond tiara, pendant earrings, and carried a white ostrich feather fan. Both Mr. and Mrs. Steinhardt are vacationing in England.

One of the debutante gowns which expressed a modern note was that of Miss Richardson. The plain, simple bodice and full skirt of white French faille were embroidered with tiny rhinestones with a train en suite.

Her great-grandmother's point lace train and her grandmother's ostrich feather fan made Miss MacHatton's ensemble significant. The gown was of rose petal satin, with soft shirring forming the center panel of the straight skirt and the front of the bodice as well as of the shoulder straps which made a square neck.

One of the few robes de style was worn by Miss Hill of Baltimore. Heavy white silk was used to make the tight bodice, very full skirt and train.

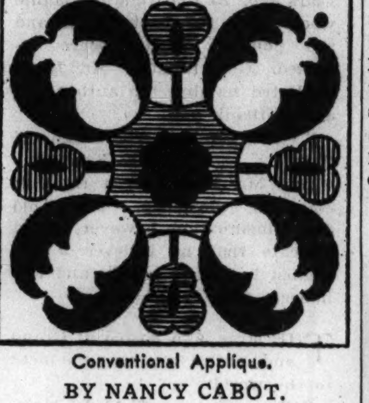
Louise Boulanger of Paris created the white net gown with Edwardian decolletage for Miss Cobb. White flowers outlined the neck of the gown and panels of ruffles from the waist to the hem gave fullness to the skirt. Silver slippers matched the silver lame train and evening cloak of the same material. Miss Cobb is one American invited to the royal garden party in July.

Mrs. Middendorf wore a matron's gown of silver brocade cloth with a deep sapphire blue velvet train. The slippers repeated the silver note of the brocade and the ostrich feather fan repeated the shades of sapphire.

A silver lame ensemble was chosen by Mrs. Ruttencutter, wife of Col. Ruttencutter of the United States. Her close fitting gown, train and slippers were all silver and her jewels were a diamond tiara and lavoliere.

Queen Mary wore a magnificent gown of gold lame embroidered with diamente with an Indian blue and gold train embroidered in lotus flowers. The ornaments included the famous Kohinoor diamond and the blue ribbon of the Order of the Garter.

Charming Quilt Possesses Lovely Design and Colors



Conventional Applique.

BY NANCY CABOT.

It is amazing that women with rare quilt treasures sometimes are indifferent to the interesting history surrounding their old and, to them, commonplace coverlet. "Conventional Applique" is an old quilt which has been passed down through several generations of one Indiana family. The quilt is one of exquisite needlework, beautiful design, and beautiful coloring. The blues, red, and white of the quilt are in as good condition today as when the quilt first was made.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

Reception Will Follow at Mother's Home.

ponies for entry in the show; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bakewell III. and Mr. and Mrs. Hart Vance Jr., all of St. Louis, and Edward Farwell, who is to be a horse show judge.

Mrs. Jay Morse Ely and her two children . . . one of them is Caryl Ely, who made her debut last fall . . . have just arrived at the Deerpath inn from their home in Thomasville, Ga., to stay through the middle of July. Mrs. C. Morse Ely left Wednesday for Charlevoix where she will spend most of the summer.

Ralph Hines is at the inn for the summer and Mrs. Swigart Burrows came yesterday with her children to spend July and August. Last Saturday Mrs. Edward F. Carry arrived to be with her grandchildren, Peggy and Edward Nicholson.

Henry Patten is already at the inn for the summer and so are Mrs. Edwin Stanley and her daughter, Mrs. Dudley Rutter, and Mrs. William H. Hubbard. When the John Paul Wellings return from Europe in September they will spend a month or two in Lake Forest.

Dinner-Dance for Tennis Stars.

Most of the young tennis stars here for the intercollegiate tennis championships this week at Northwestern university will dine and dance this evening at the Drake hotel as the guests of the social committee, which has Miss Helen Fulton of Winnetka for its chairman. There are about 200 visiting athletes here for the matches and most of them are quartered in Northwestern's fraternity houses.

Tomorrow evening Mrs. George B. Massey of Winnetka will be hostess to the visitors at a beach party and supper. Mrs. Massey is a member of Miss Fulton's social committee, and so are Mrs. John Dern, Mrs. Paul Loeber Jr., Mrs. Walter Strong, Miss Jean Armstrong, Miss Virginia Ashcraft, Miss Evelyn Bouscaren, Miss Helen Dawes, Miss Lois Jacques, Miss Josephine Templeton, and Miss Barbara Shaffer.

In addition to Miss Fulton's responsibility for this evening's dinner-dance she is to be hostess this noon at a luncheon at her home in Winnetka for Miss Marion Hedley, who is to be married to Robert W. Buckley Saturday afternoon. The Fulton home is at 884 Hill road.

Mrs. Horne Goes East for Wedding.

Mrs. William D. Horne Jr. of Barrington left Tuesday for the east for the wedding on Saturday of her sister, Mrs. Louise Thorne Bovingdon of Noroton, Conn., and John Bovingdon, who were divorced several years ago. They will be remarried at the summer home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George A. Thorne, in Peterborough, N. H.

The bride's other sisters, Mrs. Robb H. Sagendorph of Boston, and Mrs. Guthrie Shaw of New York will attend the wedding also, but her brother, Bruce Thorne, who lives here, is not going east for the event, and he does not know whether the other brother, George A. Jr., will be there.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Webster Barnes and Miss Lilace Reid Barnes have issued invitations to a reception on Saturday, July 6, from 4 to 6 o'clock, at Glen Rowan, their home at 500 North Sheridan road, Lake Forest. The Sunday Evening club choir will give a musical program at the affair, which will mark the 25th anniversary of Glen Rowan.

Alexander Stillman to Tour Europe.

As soon as Alexander Stillman, son of Mrs. Fowler McCormick, had performed his duties Monday afternoon as an usher at the wedding of Laura Bartlett and Francis Moore, he took an airplane for New York. There Wednesday he boarded the Statendam with forty-four more young Harvard graduates to spend the summer in Europe.

They are going over "student third," which in itself insures a gay, good time and they will roust about Europe as their fancy pleases. Young Mr. Stillman is returning in August in time for the house party his mother is going to give a dozen or more of his friends at her camp in the bush at Grand Anse, Quebec. House parties of this type are one of Mrs. McCormick's favorite diversions.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick hope to get away to Europe in August, but business conditions in this country hold their plans in abeyance. If they do go they undoubtedly will take Mrs. McCormick's youngest son, Guy, with them.

Howard F. Gillette made a special trip east last week to see his son, Howard Jr., receive his sheepskin from Harvard university. After a few weeks with his mother in Biddeford Pool, Me., where she will spend most of the summer, young Mr. Gillette is coming back to Chicago to settle down to work. The senior Mr. Gillette will return home this week.

Residents Leave for Summer Homes.

Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine is leaving today to spend the rest of the summer at her Southampton residence. Her son, "Andy" Valentine, and his family, whom she visited recently in England, will return to Chicago in the autumn. Another son, Philip D. Armour, and his wife, are returning tomorrow from a brief trip east which they made to see their son, Philip IV., off for Europe.

Mrs. John R. Winterbotham has left for her summer home on Sugar hill in the White mountains, where she will spend the season. Her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr., will visit her late in the summer.

Mrs. William J. Chalmers' illness has necessitated a postponement of her and her husband's departure for their summer home at Watch Hill, R. I., but they expect to go there a bit later in the summer.

Mrs. Dexter Fairbank will be at home tomorrow from Wequetonsing, Mich., where she opened her cottage preparatory to renting it.

After having their moving date pushed ahead at least a half dozen times by carpenters, plasterers, and decorators, Mr. and Mrs. John Dern and their family expect to move next week into their new home on the bluff in Glencoe. The house is located at the southeast corner of Sheridan road and Wentworth avenue.

Alden H. Littles Are Moving.

The Alden H. Littles are in the throes of moving from 227 East Delaware place to 1120 Lake Shore drive. They returned not long ago from a vacation at White Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Frank M. Gordon and her daughters, the Misses Isabel, Marion, and Evelyn, are leaving today to spend the summer in their cottage at Harbor Point, Mich. Mr. Gordon will commute between Chicago and the point during the next two months.

Mrs. Kilian V. R. Nicol of Evanston and her subdeb daughter, Margery, are leaving next week to spend the summer as usual on Margery's grandfather's fruit farm near South Haven, Mich. Margery will return next fall to Miss Weaver's school at Terrytown-on-the-Hudson for her last year at preparatory school.

Catharine Johnson Going to Michigan.

Another subdeb who will be leaving home soon for northern Michigan is Miss Catharine Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Stewart Johnson of Winnetka. Catharine, better known as Tita, will visit Natalie Bell, daughter of the Laird Bells, at Huron Mountain. Later, after she returns from Michigan, Tita and her mother will go west to the H. F. Bar ranch for several weeks. Tita will return to school in Farmington, Conn., in the fall.

More travel: Next Monday Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell D. Follansbee are sailing on the Europa to spend several weeks in England and Scotland. . . . These same countries are the goal of Miss Mary Louise Morris of Winnetka and Katherine Colt of Philadelphia, who sailed Tuesday on the Statendam. They will be away a mon .

BY MARY MEADE.

Cheerful signs bearing the message, "ice cold buttermilk—10c" (or in some particularly special places even 5c), are practically crowding out the malted milk and hot fudge sundæ notices in the drug store luncheonettes, we notice. Nice idea, don't you agree? As a summer beverage, with meals, buttermilk is to buttermilk enthusiasts about the most cooling and refreshing possibility going.

Besides being grateful to aforesaid drug stores for the reminder that buttermilk is a mighty good luncheon accompaniment, just as it comes, we owe them another debt. We suddenly remembered that buttermilk hadn't gone into any of our cooking for a long, long time for some unaccountable reason and decided to brush up on a few old favorites. In the process we picked up some new ones as well.

◆

Here are some of the dishes we discovered and rediscovered, all owing part of their fine flavor to buttermilk. (Incidentally, remember that it goes in any recipe in which you usually use sour milk.)

Buttermilk Biscuits.

- 2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 5 tablespoons shortening
- ¾ cup buttermilk

Sift the dry ingredients together, cut in the fat until the mixture is coarse and mealy, and lightly stir in the buttermilk. Knead the mixture for a few seconds on a lightly floured board or cloth, cut, and bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees F.

◆

Remember the old fashioned buttermilk frosting for spice cakes? You cook three-fourths cup of sugar together with an equal amount of buttermilk until the mixture forms a soft ball when tried in cold water, and then beat it until creamy before spreading. And then there's that grand example of what the buttermilk flavor can do for meat:

Russian Beef Loaf.

- 2 pounds ground beef chuck
- ¼ pound ground pork
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- ½ garlic clove
- 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup fine bread crums
- 3 tablespoons melted butter or bacon drippings
- 2-3 cup buttermilk
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Mix all of the ingredients together thoroughly and shape into a loaf. Bake in a moderate oven for an hour and serve hot.

◆

Then to keep the cookie jar stocked against the heavy demands of vacationing youngsters don't neglect these:

Soft Molasses Cookies.

- 1 cup shortening
- 2-3 cup sugar
- 1 cup molasses
- ¼ cup buttermilk
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2⅛ cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder

Cream the shortening until light and fluffy, and gradually add the sugar. Combine with the molasses and buttermilk. Next mix and sift the dry ingredients and add them to the first mixture. Chill the dough, then roll and bake in a moderately hot oven. Incidentally, if you like molasses cookies with a whiff of frosting over their fragrant tops, that buttermilk frosting mentioned a few paragraphs ago would be a delightful choice.

THE BRIDGE SIDE OF THE NEWS.

Washington, D. C.

Nothing has aroused more controversy than the recent decision of the Supreme court that the NRA is unconstitutional. After a great deal of labor your reporter managed to get the opinions of representative citizens and bridge players on the Schechter poultry triumph.

Joseph Shibbolet, cornered at Ye Olde Duplicate Gamme: "I always thought NRA meant 'No Redeals Allowed.'"

Mrs. Hettie Greenbaum, bridge hostess: "I think these price wars are just too ducky. The trouble with the Supreme court is that it hasn't handed down enough decisions. Why, I got three silver cups and a copy of 'Anthony Adverse' for 47 cents at Carter's, and I heard that they were selling the same thing at Cross' for 39 cents. I'm going over there tomorrow."

Hector McStraight: "I'm a Republican. After this we're going to have a Schechter chicken in every pot."

James Walters, constant winner: "No, I can't say that the NRA ever did me any good. Why didn't they have a C. P. C. [card players' code], so that all the $$$ I won wouldn't be C. O. D.? If I'm not paid up P. D. G., I'll R. I. P."

One thousand assorted members of the NRA boards: "It's O. K. I got me a job on relief."

An unidentified Elephant: "Ha! Ho!"

Three Racketeers: "We didn't have nothing to do with it, captain. We was up in the Bronx when it happened."

HOLLYWOOD, CAL.—In line with the heavy beach playing cards, some one has introduced decks of cork playing cards for use while in swimming. The only advantage I can see to the new pastime is the prospect of drowning your partner. Next they'll get out asbestos cards for steel workers. What is this thing called bridge, anyway?

Deodorant Is Necessity for Chic in Summer

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY

Whatever course you may have pursued in other years, women, make this summer one in which there cannot possibly be a shade of doubt about how exquisitely sweet of person you are.

Use a deodorant, even though you have no reason to suspect you might offend ever so slightly. It's just one of those things today's charmer does. And, heaven only knows, she has enough products to draw on, and at comparatively little cost, so that she need never be a victim for a single second of the offense we hate to write about, but which must be referred to every now and then for caution's sake. I mean the offensive taint due to perspiration odor.

◆

The reason women have to pursue this feature of beauty care so avidly in modern times is because there are so many conditions common to modern life that exaggerate its presence. The sedentary lives led by most women, by desk workers particularly, make this group particularly susceptible to the taint through the constipation trouble that characterizes so many sedentary workers. Lack of exercise, the common habit of sedentary workers, defeats the healthy procedure of ridding the system of poisons from waste matter, which, in turn, taints the perspiration whose giving off is a perfectly normal procedure.

◆

The normal perspiration which a body gives off is not objectionable in a body kept meticulously clean. There's a definite health purpose in this perspiration disposition of water in the system. But, as I say, it's system poison that makes it offensive. Nervousness is particularly a predisposing cause and, of course, nervousness comes from constitutional disorders of one sort and another.

Sally to Select Guests for Ice Carnival Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

After wondering how all the ice skaters at the College Inn Ice carnival ever managed to become so skilful, I finally asked them a few questions and learned. They all began to skate when they were small children and practiced every time they got a chance.

Bobby McLean, who is the star speed skater, learned his first tricks here in Chicago as a small boy. He was always fond of sports and won all the races on local rinks. He thinks that ice skating is about the finest sport a boy or girl can take up.

Shipstead and Johnson, the comedy team, were the sort of little boys who liked skating so well that they always started out on the ice too early in the season and were being dragged from the chilly waters of the lake. The Four Nelson sisters were taught to skate by their father, a former national champion, and were able to get along nicely on runners even before they went to kindergarten.

If you're one of the many children who are anxious to see these entertainers perform, I hope your letter is on my desk this very minute, because today I'm going to select the letters which merit invitations. There will be fifty boy and fifty girl winners and their names will be printed in next Sunday's TRIBUNE. Isn't that exciting?

◆

I've just learned that there's to be an addition to the already huge show. They're LeMaire and Reynolds of New York City, who do character skating and folk dances on ice. Mr. LeMaire's two little children, Miss Patty, age 8, and Eddie, age 10, will do a graceful waltz for us. I'll tell you more about them tomorrow.

I must get to your letters and select my guests for July 3. Keep your fingers crossed!

Catholic Daughters to Take Special Train to Western Meeting

A special train carrying delegates from the east and the middle west to the biennial international convention of the Catholic Daughters of America, which will be held in Seattle July 1 to 7, is scheduled to leave the Chicago and North Western station at 10:15 o'clock tonight. The Chicago delegation will be headed by Miss Elizabeth O'Brien, state regent, and Attorney Leonora Z. Meder.

At the convention, it is expected, resolutions defining the organization's attitude toward birth control, communism, and the relations of Catholicism to Mexico will be adopted. Also, it is expected, there will be a definite stand on the methods used in marketing motion pictures, the Catholic Daughters holding that under the block booking system theater owners are compelled to accept films that might be classed as objectionable from the moral standpoint.

Need Shoes for Children.

Miss P., a case worker, is anxious to secure shoes for two children who have an opportunity to have a brief visit to a summer camp. Neither of the youngsters will be able to go unless footwear can be obtained for them. The girls are aged 5 and 6 and wear sizes 1½ and 12, respectively. The relief organization is unable to provide shoes. Can you help?

British Harbor of 1790 Rebuilt for Film Shots

Seek Vacationists as Extras for "Bounty" Scenes.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., June 26.—[Special.]—The harbor of Portsmouth, England, in 1790 has been re-created. That is, enough of it to show a couple of streets and row of wharf buildings—at the ordinarily unpeopled Catalina Island isthmus, for shots of "Mutiny on the Bounty." M. G. M. is trying to get as many Catalina summer residents as show interest to journey the length of the island from the seaport summer resort town of Avalon and put on costumes and act in the films as extras.

Edward Ellis, who has just completed "Peter Grimm" with Lionel Barrymore, is leaving for his thirtieth successive summer vacation on his own farm in Michigan.

The Marx brothers, Groucho, Chico, and Harpo, playing in "A Night at the Opera" at M. G. M., have a movable miniature golf course of four holes to keep them amused between shots.

◆

The newest in Hollywood couples pairing off to visit the night spots is Pinkie Tomlin escorting Isabel Jewell, who was a very loyal girl friend to Lee Tracy until they came to an understanding to misunderstand.

Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, recently divorced husband of Mary Astor, has been seen dining with Norma Taylor, stylish brunette showgirl who has been getting a film start via the Warner studio dance ensembles.

Lambert, style designer at Fox, says of Frances Dee: "Human beings are born with five senses and occasionally there is a woman endowed by nature with another—clothes sense. Frances Dee has this priceless gift of good taste and judgment about what she wears."

The movie fistfights are getting tougher. Henry Fonda broke a knuckle hitting Charlie Bickford's head and Paul Kelly broke a bone in his right hand on Lew Ayres' last week.

Vivian Denton [Paula Dolores de Castellane], daughter of Dolores, the late celebrated European actress, has joined the Rev. Aimee McPherson's Angelus temple flock here as an aspirant evangelist. Miss Denton had been an actress in minor stage parts in New York and done some film work, turning newspaper writer in recent years.

Faculty Music Series Opened; Critic Pleased

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The American Conservatory of Music's summer season of recitals by faculty members got away to an unusually favorable start at Kimball hall yesterday afternoon with a joint program by Tomford Harris, pianist, and Louise Hattstaedt Winter, soprano.

Mr. Harris has a reputation for playing about all the piano music in the world and doing it with the technic and forcefulness of a master. His part of the program yesterday was a case in point. His first number was the set of "Eroica" variations by Beethoven, his second the Fantasie Polonaise and the A flat Polonaise by Chopin, his third a hitherto unknown "Danza de la Hoguera," a highly agreeable work with pronounced Spanish implications by Pittaluga, and the Auber-Liszt Tarantelle from "La Muette de Portici."

These were in many cases stunning bits of technical piano playing, in all they had the stamp of a vigorous and original mind.

Mrs. Winter is likewise a student as well as an artist. A group of songs by Manning and Seiler were in themselves and in their performance one of the agreeable memories of the season. Before them Mrs. Winter had sung a group of lieder; at the end she added other works by John Alden Carpenter and Whelply, and all with an excellent voice and fine, intelligent interpretation.

Honor in Small Things Index to Child's Ethics

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Mother and daughter were talking over the latter's report card. The French and geometry marks weren't so good.

"I know I don't study hard enough at home," the daughter admitted. "There are so many other things I care about doing. But at least I can say one thing, mother. I know it's nothing to boast of—and I suppose I shouldn't even mention it—but at least the marks I get are my own."

"What do you mean, Peggy dear?"

"I mean, mother, that I don't go scouting around in study period or in the cafeteria to get somebody who gets A's to lend me her translation or her geometry homework and copy it, the way a lot of the kids do and get by with it. Not that it's anything to be proud of that I don't—but poor as they are those marks are mine."

It isn't enough that our child does not lie or steal. There are fine points of honesty and truthfulness that we should try to help him build into his character. There are small and, on the surface, seemingly unimportant deceits we do not want him to practice.

Real integrity of character is built not only with big stones but with little ones, too, which play their part in making it a fine thing, to be depended upon in time of stress as well as in daily every day living.

◆

Do I hear some one say that such a standard isn't practical in a world of competition and self-seeking? I think it is, and that you will find as many men of integrity succeeding, even in the worldly sense of the word, as men of lesser character.

CHICAGO LIKELY TO SEE LOUIS IN HIS NEXT FIGHT

May Meet Levinsky or Impelletiere.

Louis Gets $44,636

NEW YORK, June 26.—[Special.]—Joe Louis received $44,636.66 for his victory over Primo Carnera last night. The official figures announced today by the Twentieth Century Sporting club, which promoted the fight, follow:

Attendance	57,000
Gross receipts	$328,655.44
Net receipts	275,531.87
Carnera's purse	86,792.54
Louis' purse	44,636.66
Milk fund's share	26,553.18

BY HARVEY WOODRUFF.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 26.—Joe Louis and his now universally recognized fistic prowess will be placed on exhibition in Chicago during late July or early August unless plans set in motion this afternoon go sadly awry. His opponent over a 10 round route will be either King Levinsky or Ray Impelletiere, the elongated battler whom Primo Carnera stopped in nine rounds.

Question of promotion is about the only point on which the various parties concerned have not yet reached final accord. Louis' managers, Julian Black and John Roxborough, today signed a new contract with the Twentieth Century club, which promoted last night's bout in which Carnera was the victim of a technical knockout in the sixth round.

This new contract binds Louis to battle under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club in September or October. It also contains a clause prohibiting Louis from engaging in other bouts without the club's permission. This latter clause is one which Louis' managers will ask to have waived in order to make an intermediate appearance.

May Iron Out Differences.

Manager Mike Jacobs of the Twentieth Century is not averse to the Chicago bout, but he is not certain his club wishes to waive all rights. It might wish to stage the affair in Chicago in conjunction with Chicago promoters, either the Stadium or the Joe Foley organization. That this minor difference of opinion will be ironed out is the confident prediction of all concerned. Jacobs will visit Chicago early next week to look over the situation.

While managers were mapping his future course of action, the 21 year old Louis slept until past the meridian hour in celebration of his impressive victory over the 260 pound giant who once held the world championship. This rest followed a retiring hour of nearly 5 o'clock before Louis could get away from newspaper interviewers, camera men and friends of his own race.

Cancels Ballroom Appearance.

When Joe's managers found it advisable last night to cancel his advertised appearance at a Harlem ballroom on account of the celebration and congestion in that vicinity, they found a crowd in front of his house. So the party entered by a rear entrance, but that did not foil old and new admirers, who battered on the door until admitted and filled the apartment. That is why Louis, who likes his sleep as a smaller colored boy likes his watermelon, was so late in retiring.

Upon arising, Louis had breakfast at 1:30 o'clock, submitted to photographers and news reel cameras for

Here's What the Experts Have to Say About Louis

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—They're all talking today about Joe Louis, who stopped Primo Carnera in six rounds last night, but not all of them are saying the same thing, as sidewalk debating clubs take charge from Harlem to the Battery. Here's what a few of the experts had to say:

ANCIL HOFFMAN, manager of Max Baer—If he can take a punch, he's the greatest fighter in the world.

NATE LEWIS, Chicago promoter—He's head and shoulders above the field. It's not the man he beats but how he does it.

JIMMY BRONSON, manager—He's a marvelous fighter, and it will be some time before we see a man who can beat him.

MAX BAER, ex-heavyweight champion—Get me that fellow. He's truly great, but I'll make him jump out of the ring.

EDDIE McCLOSKEY, chairman of the Pennsylvania athletic commission—He's not a Dempsey, and I'm very curious to see what he'll do when he's tagged. That's always interesting.

MIKE CANTWELL, former trainer of Max Baer—You won't see a better in a generation or two.

JACK DOYLE, betting commissioner—He didn't impress me much in the first four rounds. He was great after that, but I think there's room for improvement.

ARTHUR DONOVAN, referee—He fights like a man with 100 years of experience.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

HARLEM CELEBRATES.

NEW YORK, June 26.—[Special.]—It is 1:30 o'clock of this morning. The Wake is standing near the entrance to the Savoy ballroom on Lenox avenue in the heart of Harlem. Lining the curb on both sides of the street, extending a block in either direction, are thousands of dusky faces, ten deep, perhaps twenty deep. One does not know how many are gathered. There may be 20,000, there may be 50,000 at this particular spot.

Policemen are everywhere—mounted police, motorcycle police, and platoons on foot, superior officers in charge. They are 500 in number, transferred from the detail of 1,500 previously stationed at Yankee stadium. Trafic is shut off from the side streets. Cabs may not come through. Through vehicles must keep moving. We had walked a block from 7th avenue down a street in which lights still show in every residence. Colored people are on the sidewalks like the afternoon of a fête day in Havana.

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Several cars, all together, come down Lenox avenue. The murmur arises: "There he comes." They mean Joe Louis, former Golden Glover, who three hours before had knocked out Primo Carnera in the sixth round. Joe had been advertised to appear at the Savoy. Illuminated signs on each side of its entrance invite: "Meet Joe Louis in Person. Here Tonight."

The automobiles do not contain the Louis party, but the murmur spread. So the crowd on the sidewalk breaks from bounds, surges in a temporarily uncontrolable mass past police lines for better points of vantage. Mounted policemen, called Cossacks by New York communists, ride up and down forcing the crowd back again to its place on the curb. There are cheers and jeers for the police, both cheers and jeers good natured, from the holiday throng celebrating victory of one of its own race in the greatest heavyweight ring contest since Gene Tunney thwarted Jack Dempsey's comeback effort in the battle of the "14 count" at Chicago's Soldiers' field in 1927.

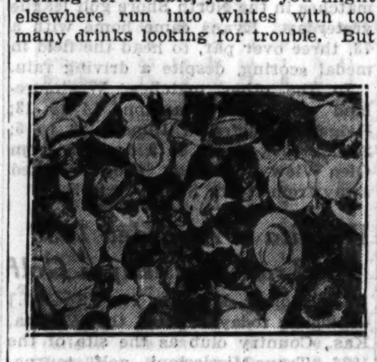
Bill Robinson, colored cinema star, known by sight to every Harlem resident, appears. He tells those within earshot that, owing to the huge crowd, Joe Louis will not appear as advertised. There is no resentment. Those who heard do not leave. The others do not know. Robinson returns to his big car on a side street. It is filled at once by those he knows and those he does not know, thinking Bill, as a friend of Louis, will drive to where Louis is hiding out. The car is surrounded, passage is impossible. Robinson calls: "Please, boys, stand back. I don't want to hurt anybody when I start." The crowd falls back.

The Wake turns again to the Savoy. The crowd, no smaller, is still there. During the previous rush we become separated from our companions, W. W. Edgar of the Detroit Free Press, in whose sectional Golden Gloves tourney Louis two years ago started his climb to reach the finals of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE Golden Gloves championship, and Gene Vinessa of San Jose, Cal., attached to the Louis publicity staf.

Looking around, we find that we are the only white person in the vicinity. Because of press credentials on our lapel we are not pushed into the crowd at the curb. Then the thought flashes that this is the district where recently a bitter race riot occurred, in which one person was killed and three subsequently died from injuries received. But we know Joe Louis. But the crowd doesn't know that, however. Will it resent our presence at its own party?

We step up to an inspector. The inspector bears local reputation as an analyst of mob psychology. We ask: "Do you want me to get out of the district? Could I possibly be cause of trouble?"

The inspector laughs as he replies: "Personally, you are as safe as at 42d and Broadway. There will be no trouble tonight. These people are too happy. Just as a matter of precaution, do not go down a side street seeking a cab. You might run into individual parties with too many drinks looking for trouble, just as you might elsewhere run into whites with too many drinks looking for trouble. But the crowd as a whole is good natured and friendly. Great sight, isn't it?"



Part of the throng that stormed ballroom in Harlem Tuesday night in vain hope of seeing Joe Louis.

Just then Morrie Kaplan, the little driver who had taxied us from the stadium, shows again, saying: "Louis ain't coming: don't you want to ride to your hotel?" I do.

Police make a line for us and we leave those thousands still standing around and talking of how Joe Louis, of their race, American in nationality, defeated a white alien. As the inspector says, it is a happy, good natured throng. Our own impression of the occasion will be long remembered.

FRICK TO TALK OVER SALE OF BRAVES TODAY

Boston, Mass., June 26.—(AP)—If they could make a success of it, Charles J. O'Malley, Boston advertising man, said tonight he and his two sons would purchase the Boston Braves.

O'Malley, president of O'Malley Associates of Boston, at the same time announced that one of his sons, Charles D., and his attorney, William Shaw McCallum, would confer with Ford Frick, National league president, tomorrow morning.

Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Braves, might attend, he said, but he emphasized that all negotiations so far had been with Fuch's bankers.

We are ready to put $250,000 or so into the proposition if we think we can make a success of it," the senior O'Malley said. He emphasized it would be a "business proposition."

However, he was noncommittal about Babe Ruth, who quit the Braves recently because of treatment he claimed he received from Fuchs.

George Lott Marries Wakefield, Mass., Girl

Wakefield, Mass., June 26.—(AP)—George Martin Lott Jr., professional tennis star, today married Miss Edith L. Collison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Collison, Wakefield. It was Lott's second marriage. The couple left on a motor trip through Canada and will make their home in Chicago.

Ward Wins Four of Five National Decathlon Events

San Diego, Cal., June 26. — (AP) — Willis Ward, Michigan's versatile colored athlete, made an impressive start in his first fling at all around competition today when he took the lead in the national Decathlon championship here in the first day of competition.

The Wolverine won four out of the five events to amass a total of 4,321.83 points at the half-way mark. Second, with 4,172.72, was Bob Clark of the Olympic club, San Francisco, the defending champion. Runar Stone, young San Francisco State college star, was third with 3,859.58.

Ward collected top totals in the hundred meter dash, which he won in 11 seconds; the broad jump, with a leap of 23.59 feet; the high jump, in which he cleared the bar at 6.26 feet, and the 400 meter run, where the timers caught him in 50.8 seconds.

His one weak event today was the shot put. Here the Wolverine finished last in the field of six, with a toss of 36.8 feet.

Clark was second to Ward in the broad jump, 100 and 400 meter events, and was third in the high jump and fourth in the shot put. Stone was second in the high jump, third in the broad jump, fourth in the 100 and 400 meter runs, and fifth in the shot.

BABE DIDRIKSON AND HELEN HICKS KEEP ON WINNING

Reach Quarter-Finals of Western Open.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Helen Hicks of New York and Mildred [Babe] Didrikson of Texas, the working gals of the golf game, didn't even have to go full time to complete their day's labors yesterday in the second round of the sixth annual open tournament of the Women's Western Golf association at the Sunset Ridge Country club, each knocking off for the day before the 18th green was so much as in sight.

The two business woman golfers, competing in the only event in the game for which they are eligible, were home ahead of six other survivors of the second round of play in the championship flight, two of whom they must face in the quarter-final round this morning. Each was fortunate on the weather side, for the rest of the field, including four other flights and the consolation prize seekers, took a thorough drenching from the pesky showers which fell upon the Winnetka yard during the day.

Miss Hicks Wins, 4 and 3.

Helen encountered little rain in scoring a 4 and 3 victory over Lucille Robinson of Des Moines, the Curtis cup star who won the association's closed title two years ago, while Miss Didrikson ran into the downpour only on the last hole of her 8 and 6 conquest of Mrs. L. H. Selz, the former Jane Weiller, who won the open title in 1932. The victory was a birthday gift from the Babe to Miss Didrikson, for yesterday was the Texas girl's 21st birthday.

Both Helen and Babe will have more than the weather to face today, for the second round matches yesterday assured a quarter-final bracket bristling with potential winners of Saturday's thirty-six hole championship match. Aside from Miss Hicks and Miss Didrikson, the field for today's eighteen hole matches guarantees four of the best matches in the history of the tournament.

Opposition Is Strong.

From the gallery's standpoint, the ideal climax to the tournament, and one which is possible, since they are in different brackets of the draw, would be a Saturday argument between Miss Hicks and Miss Didrikson. Arrayed against this possibility on this, the fourth morning of the tournament, are the following six important reasons, none of whom may be overlooked:

1. Mrs. Opal S. Hill, the Kansas City star, who has ever been a threat in the national women's tournament, and who has held the association's closed title three times. Mrs. Hill had a fight yesterday in her meeting with young Eleanor Dudley of Ridge, but won it, 2 and 1.

2. Mrs. H. Austin Pardue of Indian Hill, winner of a long string of titles and conqueror of many of the best in the game, who took a 1 up thriller from Mrs. Lillian Zech of Tam o' Shanter.

Mrs. Reinhardt Wins.

3. Mrs. H. L. Reinhardt of Northmoor, who, as Elaine Rosenthal, won the association championship three times and was runnerup in the national. Yesterday Mrs. Reinhardt was forced to the 19th green before winning from Rena Nelson of Exmoor, district titleholder.

4. Phyllis Buchanan of Denver, winner of the Trans-Mississippi crown two years ago, who scored a 1 up decision over Dorothy Foster of Springfield, Ill., state champion last year.

5. Ellamae Williams, junior star from River Forest, who was runnerup in the recent state championship and who finished second to Miss Hicks in this tournament's qualifying round. Ellamae won her second round match from Mrs. Charles Dennehy, the former Virginia Wilson, of Onwentsia, 3 and 2, turning the nine in 39, one over par, for the third straight day.

Miss Souchek Advances.

6. Josephine Souchek, Big Oaks youngster who holds the Illinois and Chicago public parks titles, and who advanced with a 2 and 1 triumph over Virginia Ingram of Sunset Ridge.

In the quarter-final round today the pairings bring together Miss Hicks and Mrs. Pardue, Miss Didrikson and Miss Souchek, Mrs. Hill and Miss Buchanan, Dixie Howell, Alabama's brilliant half back, will be paid $4,000 for three months' work as football coach at New Mexico. . . . Jimmy Dykes, in submitting to President William Harridge his list of American league All-Stars, picked Luke Appling of the White Sox for shortstop. . . . "I didn't name him because he happened to be on my team," Dykes explained, "but I honestly believe he is the best man at his position." . . . Among them are Bob Meusel, Don Hurst, Herman Bell, Smead Jolly, Babe Pinelli, and Pat O'Shea. . . .

The fans have nothing to say about this year's All-Star baseball game, but this department has a hunch they would do something about Ted Lyons of the White Sox if they did. . . . Here is a man who deserves whatever honors baseball can bestow. . . . He is pitching as effectively today as any time in his 12 year career. . . . It also will be interesting to see what the American league managers will do about Mule Haas, Rip Radcliff, and Zeke Bonura. . . . Jimmy Dykes belongs, of course, and so does Al Simmons. . . . As far as that goes, why not loan them two or three pitchers and let the Sox play the National league All-Stars. . . . Babe Didrikson had only a cup of coffee and a cigaret for breakfast on the day of the qualifying round of the women's western open golf tournament and then drove to the club at 65 miles an hour. . . . The Babe says she doesn't eat much, if anything, on the day of an event if she feels a quivering sensation on arising. . . . That's a sure sign to her she is on edge. . . .

The second name of Danno O'Mahoney, who meets Jim Londos in Boston tonight, is Aloysius. . . . Jane Fauntz, whose diving entertained thousands at the Streets of Paris last summer, is on her way to Reading, Pa., where she will design women's bathing suits for a manufacturing concern. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Broadway Jones won the $25,000 Latonia Derby. . . . The White Sox defeated Cleveland, 2 to 1 and 3 to 1, for their sixth straight victory. . . . Eldridge Robinson defeated George Dawson, 5 and 3, for the Illinois amateur golf title. . . . The Indian polo team defeated the U. S. Army four, 13 to 3, at London. . . . Babe Ruth suffered a relapse and was facing the necessity of another operation. . . . The Aurora race meeting ended with a profit of $50,000.

WOOD, VAN RYN GO TO 3D ROUND AT WIMBLEDON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 26.—Sidney Wood and John Van Ryn carried the American banner into the third round of the Wimbledon tournament today. Wood gained his victory at the expense of George Godsell of England, while Van Ryn advanced by defeating Finn Smith of Norway.

Wood, one of the mainstays of the American Davis cup squad and former Wimbledon champion, had little trouble in vanquishing his British opponent. He won in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

Van Ryn's victory was equally easy as he disposed of his Norwegian opponent, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2.

In one of the most spectacular matches ever witnessed on the center court Roderick Menzel of Czechoslovakia eliminated Jean Borotra after a five set duel, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2, 2-6, 11-9.

Fred Perry, the defending champion, moved into the third round with a three set victory over Wilmer Hines of Columbia, S. C., 6-1, 7-5, 6-3.

Bunny Austin, English Davis cup player, joined his teammate by disposing of J. Haanes of Norway, 6-2, 6-0, 6-2.

Robinson, Notre Dame Center, Has Appendectomy

New York, June 26.—(AP)—John [Jack] Robinson, center on the University of Notre Dame football team in 1934, underwent an operation today for appendicitis. His condition was reported as favorable.

EARL AVERILL'S HAND BURNED BY FIRECRACKER

Cleveland, O., June 26.—(AP)—Earl Averill, star outfielder of the Cleveland Indians, was taken to a hospital tonight suffering from burns received when a firecracker exploded in his right hand. Dr. Edward Castle, club physician, said Averill would be out of the lineup for at least six weeks.

Hospital physicians said the thumb, index finger, and little finger were burned.

KENNEDY PITCHES FOR SOX AGAINST DETROIT TODAY

First Game of Series Is Rained Out.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

All the White Sox now have to worry over between the present and late September is an even dozen double-headers. The twelfth to their two-a-day list was added yesterday when rain washed away the scheduled opener of a two game series with Detroit's Tigers, who possess both the league championship and a fourth place rating.

If the weather man is agreeable the Sox and their cousin team will open and close their series this afternoon with one game, which probably will involve the pitching of Vernon Kennedy and old man Alvin Crowder. A victory for the former will be highly valuable both to himself and his mates. It will mean a string of four straight for him and for the Sox a tighter grip on third place. They'll remain there even if beaten but the margin will be merely one of a few points.

Pitching Problem Difficult.

The double-header program won't become a strain for the peppery south siders until the last half of August. At that time Manager Jim Dykes will have to perform more miracles to find enough pitchers to go around. On August 17, 18, 19, and 20 the Athletics are here for four days, during which seven games must be disposed of. That will be a mere warmup to what follows. On Aug. 25, 26, 27, and 28 the Yankees are in town and there affairs with the Sox are so badly tangled that it will be necessary to stage eight games in those four days unless the officials prefer to make use of Aug. 29, which is an open date.

The other double bills are scattered widely enough so that the pitching staf may not suffer to any extent. There's a twin bill slated for next Sunday, when the Sox are at Cleveland and another there Aug. 6. On July 20 the Sox must double up at Washington, and the same at St. Louis July 28. The above along with the busy days against the A's and Yankees and the playing off of yesterday's postponement completes the bargain program. The latter game will be staged when the Tigers are here at the close of the season.

Some All-Star Candidates.

Some of the Sox just now are somewhat anxious about learning who will be who in the American league's half of the All-Star game at Cleveland July 8. A few of them, naturally, believe they have a chance to be named.

Mickey Cochrane, who will direct the All-Stars, can hardly overlook Luke Appling, the Sox shortstop who at the present time is just about tops at his position. Appling was among those named when Manager Dykes submitted his list to Cochrane. It is presumed that Dykes also suggested Al Simmons and John Whitehead. Cochrane, who is a pal of Dykes even though the latter's team has bumped the champions eight times in eleven attempts this season, may name the Sox leader as one of his coaches for that afternoon.

Cochrane undoubtedly will pick Tommy Bridges of his own team for one of his All-Star right handed pitchers and Vito Tamulis of the Yankees as the southpaw member of the July 8 staf.

LATONIA BARS 2 TRAINERS ON DOPING CHARGE

Latonia, Ky., June 26.—(AP)—The stewards of the Latonia Jocky club today suspended two trainers for doping horses racing here. The order barred Kirby Ramsey and Chester O'Malley for 60 days.

Action against Ramsey, the stewards announced, followed checking on the horse Flint Shot. The order denied the track to Flint Shot, Reelaway, Transbird, and Morning Star, trained by Ramsey and registered as the property of his wife, and the horses Bill Blieweiss, Mivera, and General Boy, trained by Ramsey. The last three horses were ruled out for 60 days "or until the respective owners have employed trainers other than Ramsey."

The ruling against O'Malley came after investigation of Black Miss, and applied also to the horse Jack O'Connor, unless the owners engage another trainer.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 26.—Pappy Charley Root for six innings this afternoon pitched a grand brand of one hit baseball in the final of the five game series with the Giants, but when it was all over the New Yorkers were the victors, 5 to 2, in the odd contest of the set. The Cubs scored their first runs of the year off Hal Schumacher in the ninth, after the Giants had broken loose for the three deciding counters in the eighth.

Root worked at a disadvantage after Capt. Woody English had practically succeeded in an apparent attempt to throw the ball over the grandstand on the play which should have supplied the third out of the second inning. Leiber, who had made the only hit accomplished off Root in the first half dozen innings, scored on English's Herculean toss, and the Cubs thereafter went about their chores in a spirit of mourning until it was too late. Then they hammered out the two runs that represent their total production against Schumacher in eighteen innings of competition.

Leave Runners Stranded.

In the first, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth innings Root mowed down the Giants in one-two-three order. In the meantime, the Cubs were busy leaving runners stranded on the bases. Two were left in the first inning, one each in the second and third innings, and three in the fourth. The Cubs left ten on the bags during the game.

Toward the end this repeated fading out obviously was getting Root down. After Ott had fanned in the seventh, the Giants made their second, third and fourth hits, all singles. The third, by Mancuso with two down, drove in the Giants' second run. In the eighth a single by Moore, a double by Terry and Mel Ott's No. 14 homer gave the Gothamites their winning margin.

Schumacher Good Enough.

Schumacher was good enough but not as good as usual. He allowed eight hits, as many as the Giants made, and issued four passes, three to English. However, he made such supposed stalwarts as Chuck Klein and Kiki Cuyler look childish at the plate. Chuck was out three times, Terry to Schumacher, and the fourth time Terry made the putout himself. Cuyler fanned twice and tapped to Schumacher before he was yanked for a pinch batter in his last turn at the plate.

Ken O'Dea, who came to New York batting .413, furnished four easy putouts in the cleanup spot, and Galan, hero of several recent Cub batting sprees, was helpless until he singled for a part in the belated splurge in the ninth.

Cuyler's strikeout with men on third and first ended a promising Cub situation in the first inning. With one out Herman and Cavarretta singled to center. O'Dea forced Cavarretta, Herman taking third. Then Schumacher breezed three good ones past Cuyler.

English's Throw Wild.

The Cubs developed a scoring chance again in the second, but another strikeout doused their hopes. English singled to center with one out and reached second while Bartell was throwing out Jurges. Then Root was called out on strikes.

An amazingly poor throw by English gave the Giants a run with two out in the second. Leiber singled with one out and Koenig walked. Jackson forced Koenig, Leiber taking third. English then picked up Mancuso's grounder and cast it into the boxes, Leiber scoring, Jackson reaching third, and Mancuso second on the error. Schumacher also grounded to English, but this time Woody got the ball in Cavarretta's hands in time to retire the side.

Herman Hits Again.

Herman ran his two game hitting string to six out of seven times at bat when he doubled with one out in the third. Cavarretta and O'Dea couldn't get the ball out of the infield.

The Cubs got the bases full after two were out in the fourth to run their total of runners left on bases to seven. After Cuyler and Klein had supplied infield outs English walked and stopped at second on Jurges' sin-

COTTON GETS 68 IN BRITISH OPEN; LEADS BY STROKE

Mac Smith Thrills Gallery with 69 Card.

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

MUIRFIELD, June 26.—When Henry Cotton, 6 under 4s, stood in a deluge on the eighteenth tee this morning, requiring only an easy 4 for a first round card of 66, the British open tournament looked all but over.

Then things began to happen. Cotton dropped his ball in a trap to the left of the eighteenth fairway, took two to get out, flopped his third shot into a pot bunker guarding the green, chipped short and down went a 6.

Still a 68 looked safe enough until Mac Smith, carrying almost every one on the course in his gallery, appeared through the afternoon mist and, sinking a seven yarder on the eighteenth green turned in a 69.

Galleries with Mac Smith.

Mac Smith already has won the hearts of golf galleries here if he never wins the championship. He went out in 36 with three 5s and thus set himself a colossal task. From the ninth hole onward rain poured from his face and down the shafts of his clubs with every shot. A 5 at the tenth might put any other man out of it, but he rammed down a three footer for a 3 at the eleventh, and a twelve footer for another 3 at the twelfth. His 3 at the short thirteenth might have been a 2.

He was splendidly placed on the green from the tee, but there was some confusion regarding the ownership of balls and Mac Smith being slightly deaf, got so thoroughly "flummoxed," as the Scotch say, between the instructions of the marker, his partner, and the crowd that he missed the putt. Nevertheless, he lipped the cup at fourteenth and fifteenth, got his par 3 at the sixteenth, then three putted the seventeenth from the edge of the seventh green and wound up the amazing round with a birdie 3 at the eighteenth.

Perry Scores a 69.

Hardly had cheers for Mac Smith died down than came in Alfred Perry of Leatherhead with a 69.

In striking distance of this formidable trio are Eric McRuvie, Scottish Walker cup player, who set a new amateur record with a fine played 70, and on the same mark are Alf Padgham and Ernest Kenyon.

Lawson Little Gets 75.

Lawson Little practically disappeared with a 75. He took twenty-one putts going out, and as soon as he got his putter working coming home his second shots went awry.

Under today's conditions it seemed beyond the power of both Sid Brews and Joe Ezar. The former carded a 78 while Ezar took 76. Leading scorers:

and Miss Williams and Mrs. Reinhardt.

Par—Out	455	434	535—38
Par—In	554	553	535—40—78
Miss Hicks—Out	465	635	546—44
Miss Robinson—Out	555	644	755—46
Miss Hicks—In	565	454
Miss Robinson—In	665	564

Miss Hicks wins, 4 and 3.

Miss Didrikson—Out	565	435	535—41
Mrs. Selz—Out	556	536	646—46
Miss Didrikson—In	443
Mrs. Selz—In	664

Miss Didrikson wins, 8 and 6.

Holes Long Putt.

Miss Hicks holed a 20 footer for a par at the first, enough to win the hole, which Miss Robinson needed three to reach, but the Iowan regained it when Miss Hicks was trapped at the second. Miss Robinson three putted the fifth, where Helen dropped a ten footer for the par after trapping her drive. Helen lost the sixth with another bunkered shot, but got that back on the next, where Miss Robinson ran into a trap and struck a tree. The Iowa star lost the eighth, where she was over the green and trapped coming back. Helen was only one up after the ninth, however, three putting the turning green.

She did likewise at the tenth, but won it when Miss Robinson duplicated the error after taking three to get on. Helen won the 13th with a ten foot putt for a birdie, and the 14th, where Lucille took three from the edge. It ended on the 15th, where the New Yorker laid her opponent a dead stymie for a half.

Takes Three Putts.

Out of the 12 holes she played, Miss Didrikson lost only one, the second, which she three putted. A combination of traps and rough left Mrs. Selz five down to the Texan at the end of the nine holes. The Northmoor star lost the sixth, where she struck a water plug and then three putted, despite the fact that Babe also took three on the green. Babe birdied the last three holes, reaching the 10th and 11th in two and dropping a putt at the 12th to win the match. She was even par for the 12 holes played.

Mrs. Hill was out in 41, three over par, but was only one up, Miss Dudley carding a 42 herself. She was still only one up after the 13th, but the Kansas City player birdied the 14th, and scored a deuce on the next green. Mrs. Reinhardt and Miss Nelson were even at the ninth, each with a 42, and finished the eighteenth, which Mrs. Reinhardt won, with 85s. The Northmoor player won the 19th and the match by reaching the extra green in two for a birdie, while Miss Nelson missed her second shot and was on the back edge with her third.

Mrs. Pardue Wins.

Mrs. Pardue and Mrs. Zech were even after nine holes, despite the fact that the former had outscored her opponent in medal play, 43 to 45. Mrs. Zech went one up with a birdie on the tenth, but it was square after the 12th, where Mrs. Pardue brought down a birdie three. She won the 13th, but Mrs. Zech rallied to take the 14th and 15th. The 16th went to Mrs. Pardue's par, squaring the match again, and the Indian Hill star then took the 18th and the match with a par.

Helen Hicks, Siwanoy, N. Y., defeated Lucille Robinson, Des Moines, Ia., 4 and 3.

Mrs. Austin Pardue, Indian Hill, defeated Mrs. Lillian Zech Tam O'Shanter, 1 up.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, defeated Eleanor Dudley, Ridge, 2 and 1.

Mrs. S. L. Reinhardt, Northmoor, defeated Rena Nelson, Exmoor, 1 up, 19 holes.

Miss Hicks vs. Mrs. Pardue.
Mrs. Hill vs. Miss Buchanan.
Miss Williams vs. Mrs. Reinhardt.
Miss Didrikson vs. Miss Souchek.

GOLF STARS TO PLAY SUNDAY IN EXHIBITION MEET

Mildred [Babe] Didrikson and Jimmy Thomson, two of the hardest hitters in golf, will oppose each other in a match at the Tam o' Shanter Golf club next Sunday. Miss Didrikson will be paired with Gene Sarazen, while Helen Hicks will be Thomson's partner.

The match will be the start of a national tour lasting one year for Miss Didrikson and Sarazen.

Both Miss Hicks and Miss Didrikson have advanced to the quarter finals of the women's western open and with only eight players left the possibilities are strong that either or both will reach the finals.

Yale to Drop Water Polo as Competitive Sport

New Haven, Conn., June 26.—[Special.]—The Yale Athletic association announced tonight that Yale had decided to drop water polo as a competitive sport on the ground that it is not beneficial to the players.

Jean Borotra Agrees to Fight Duel

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 26.—Jean Borotra, the famous bounding Basque, played tennis in the center court at Wimbledon today with a duel hanging over his head—and lost.

Borotra was informed in the early hours this morning that Didier Poulain, tennis expert of the Paris newspaper Auto, had challenged him to a duel, sent seconds around to Borotra's Paris home and sent a registered letter to the tennis champion's London hotel with a challenge.

May Choose Pistols.

In an interview with THE TRIBUNE at Wimbledon today just before his match with Menzel, Czechoslavakian giant, Borotra said:

"I am just sick of the whole thing. I think every newspaper in Paris started telephoning me from the early hours this morning. I had practically no sleep and just at the time I wanted to rest most. I have not done any fencing for twenty years, and then only a little, but if Poulain wants to fight, I am willing. I will probably choose pistols if I do fight a duel.

"Officially I have had no intimation that I was challenged to a duel, but if Poulain says he sent a letter with the challenge, he has certainly done so. Poulain is a very intelligent man, but it seems, when he speaks of me, he dips his hands in vitriol. But two can play that game.

Answers Writer's Criticism.

"The whole trouble is because I did not play in the Davis cup matches for France but entered the Wimbledon matches. I am 37, too old for a long five set match on hard courts, and Rene Lacoste agrees with me.

"Poulain criticized me severely in Auto and I wrote the paper a stiff letter. For a number of years the paper has never missed an opportunity of being unpleasant with me and I let myself go. Now Poulain challenges me to a duel. Well, I accept. My letter stands. I do not take back a single word of it."

Borotra named La Coste and Gen. Alvin as his seconds.

Obviously Borotra was worried by the continual questioning and finally had shut himself up in his dressing room, refusing to see any body. It was generally accepted that the affair upset his play today.

The report of the impending duel caused a sensation here, and the center court at Wimbledon was packed as it never was packed before. Those who could not gain admission followed Borotra's fortune on the electric scoreboards outside, ignoring all the matches on the other courts.

Corbly Scores 78 in Valley Hoo at Edgewood Valley

Rain failed to stop 150 members and guests from playing in the 26th annual Valley Hoo invitational tournament yesterday at Edgewood Valley, although the sports and pastimes committee, headed by Iver M. Hanson, decided to award the various trophies for 18 hole scoring. Johnny Lehman and Gus Novotny, however, went 36 holes, while one foursome was on its third round near dusk.

Walter S. Corbly, Glen Oak, led the entire assemblage in gross with 38—40—78. Lehman had 39—41—80, G. W. Henzler of the home club 40—40—80, and W. J. Tewksbury, La Grange. 39—42—81.

The lowest shooters among the members were Novotny, 40—43—83; Dr. D. J. Fanning, 41—43—84, and Joe Rose, 39—45—84.

Besides individual nets, two foursomes were drawn at random as follows:

J. J. Hurley, 96—24—72; G. W. Henzler, 80—5—75; Gordon Beckley, 95—11—84, and J. E. Koch, 119—30—89. Total, 320. Chester Leatham, 87—11—76; A. V. Pleasance, 98—18—80; William Renz, 98—17—81, and George Scott, 109—26—83. Total, 320.

State Amateur Golf Tourney Is Rained Out

Rockford, Ill., June 26.—[Special.]—Although one-third of the field had completed their eighteen hole rounds in the Illinois amateur golf tournament here today, officials of the Chicago District Golf association decided that the qualifying round of 27 holes will be replayed tomorrow morning. The Rockford Country club course was flooded by hard rains and conditions were impossible.

The field of nearly 100 amateurs started from the tee this morning, but by the time the first threesome had reached the eighteenth green water was oozing from their shoes and the greens were like ponds.

Finals Carded for Sunday.

The decision of the officials, who wisely took advantage of the rule book, will necessitate the 36 hole finals being played Sunday instead of Saturday. The first round of match play was scheduled tomorrow.

Johnny Hobart, Rockford, 18 years old, reached the seventh green before it started raining, and his nine hole score was a sub-par 34, two strokes under regulation figures. Coming back Johnny reached the seventeenth green with a chance for 69, but three-putted. He did manage to get a par 4 on the home green, however, and posted a card of 36. His 70 was one under par.

Witt Shoots a 75.

Larry Witt, Midlothian, shot a 75, the next best score over the eighteen hole route. He had 36—39—75. Warren Dawson, Glen Oak, state champion in 1931 and 1932, came in with 78. Don Armstrong, Aurora, also a former champion, did not finish the first eighteen.

Larry Moller, Quincy, the defending titleholder, was exempt from qualifying for the match play field of 32.

GIANTS PLAY 5 GAMES.

The American Giants will meet the House of David tomorrow night and Brooklyn of the Negro National league in four games, starting Saturday afternoon at Cole's park, 39th street and Wentworth avenue.

Intercollegiate Tennis Tourney Is Delayed by Rain

For the second day in a row the college tennis stars here for the national intercollegiate tournament at Northwestern university lolled about fraternity houses yesterday as rain soaked the courts and forced another postponement of play.

Today's program calls for the third round of the singles this morning and the first and second rounds of the doubles in the afternoon. Thirty doubles teams are entered in the tournament. These teams have yet to get in a round of play.

It was originally planned to hold the finals on Saturday, but due to the two day postponement the tournament will not be concluded until Sunday.

Thirty-two players remain in the singles. In this group are the ten seeded players, all of whom got through the first and second rounds without difficulty.

SUNSET RIDGE GOLFERS LOSE TO EDGEWATER

Chick Evans of the Home club led Edgewater to a 17 to 10 victory over Sunset Ridge in the third series of matches in the North Shore golf league yesterday. Evans came home with a 73, three over par, to head the field in medal scoring, despite a driving rain.

In the other matches, Westmoreland won over Evanston, 14 to 13; Ridgemoor defeated Illinois, 22 to 5; Skokie took an 18 to 9 decision from Glen View and Park Ridge walked away from North Shore, 22 to 5.

Wichita Is Awarded 1936 Trans-Mississippi Golf

Des Moines, Ia., June 26.—[Special.]—Officials today selected the Wichita, Kas., Country club as the site of the 1936 Trans-Mississippi golf tournament. Blaine Young, Omaha, secretary of the organization, also announced that the 1937 meet will be played in Denver, Colo., the club to be named later.

Lake Forest Horse Show to Open Today

The annual Lake Forest horse show will start today at the Onwentsia Country club and continue until Saturday afternoon. James B. Forgan Jr., president of the club, yesterday said advance reservations indicate that the largest crowd in the history of the meet will watch the three day program.

Among the entrants in the jumping contests are four Canadian officers, Maj. J. M. Dickinson, Maj. N. B. Emory, Lieut. J. Bouvaird, and Lieut. G. Robinson. They will be opposed by a team selected from the United States army by Lieut. Col. Harry D. Chamberlain, captain of the 1932 United States Olympic team.

One hundred and sixty-five horses are entered in the meet. Chicagoans who have horses entered include Laurance Armour, Benjamin Leslie Behr, H. Leslie Atlass, A. B. Dick Jr., Hubert Silberman, John Hughes, James Simpson Jr., and Mrs. William B. McIlvaine Jr.

THIS IS TO BE BUSY DAY FOR CHICAGO GOLFERS

Come wind, rain, or hail, the Chicago district today holds one of the busiest days of its crowded golf season. The Chicago Association of Commerce revives its annual golf party over two of Medinah's courses, and the Chicago Athletic association will gather at Bob O' Link for its tournament. Meanwhile the West Side Real Estate board, under the direction of Joseph Ford and T. Reginald Shannon, will assemble more than 200 members at Westward-Ho, The Brierhill Braves day will have the invitational field to itself.

OILERS PLAY HOUSE OF DAVID.

The House of David baseball nine of Muscatine, Ia., will play the Braun Brothers Oilers at Evanston High school field, Church and Dodge streets, tonight.

JIMMY THOMSON TO DEMONSTRATE AT GOLF SCHOOL

Graduating Class to See Famous Drives.

Jimmy Thomson, the sturdy young golfer who creates a round of gasps in any house with the length and sting of his drives, will be the featured artist of the concluding graduation exercises of the third annual free golf school conducted by THE TRIBUNE in conjunction with the thirteen member courses of the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association.

Thomson, who led the first 54 holes during the recent national open championship at Pittsburgh, and finished as runner-up to Sam Parks, will give a demonstration of his prowess from the tees at the form contest which will conclude the largest system of group instruction in the game tomorrow night at the Mid-City Golf club, Grace street and Western avenue.

He Hits Them Far.

Jimmy, son of a golf professional, came to this country fifteen years ago, and with little ado became the longest driver Americans ever have seen. His resounding tee shots have become famed throughout the game, and they did so well by him last winter that he came up out of the Melbourne Centenary open tournament in Australia with first prize of $5,000. He is the husband of Viola Dana, motion picture star.

Thomson will be only one of the game's leading professionals who will appear at the form contests of THE TRIBUNE school tomorrow night. Eight of the ablest teaching players in the game will be present to judge the swinging talents of the 50 pupils who were chosen as prize winners during the six lesson course of the school. These include Harry Cooper of Glen Oak, winner of the Medinah and Illinois opens; Tommy Armour of Medinah, holder of the Canadian open championship; Horton Smith of Oak Park, Ky Laffoon of Northmoor, Denny Shute of Westward-Ho; Frank Walsh of Bryn Mawr, Dick Metz of the Lasker course, and Jock Hutchison of Glen View.

Babe Didrickson to Appear.

Babe Didrickson, all around girl athlete, also is expected to appear at the Mid-City course this evening. The public is invited to attend.

All of the 50 finalists who took part in the 18 hole medal play tournament, opening section of the school's commencement, will compete in tomorrow night's form contest. This will call for each pupil to take three solo swings on a platform to be erected before the eight judges, who will score each pupil on the basis of those three swings.

All prizes donated by THE TRIBUNE and the Daily Fee association, including those for the medal play tournament at Cog-Hill last Sunday, will be presented tonight by Julian Lambert of Northbrook, secretary of the Daily Fee association.

INJURY TO KEEP BILL GRABER OUT OF COMPETITION

Philadelphia, Pa., June 26.—[Special.]—An injury suffered several weeks ago will keep Bill Graber, former Southern California pole vaulter, out of competition for the remainder of the year. The announcement was made after an examination by Dr. Charles Haddon Soden at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy.

PIRATES DEFEAT BRAVES, 4-2, 5-1; TAKE 2D PLACE

Young Hits Home Run to Win First Game.

Boston, Mass., June 26.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates took second place in the National league today as they defeated the Boston Braves in both games of a double-header, 4 to 2 and 5 to 1.

Guy Bush, former Cub right hander, held Boston to six hits in the opener, one of which was Wally Berger's 14th home run of the season. The Pirates took a three run lead in the third inning on Jensen's single, Paul Waner's double and Young's home run with Paul on base.

DODGERS, 7; CARDINALS, 5.

Brooklyn, Mass., June 26.—(AP)—The Dodgers preserved the tradition of Dodger daffiness today as they defeated the Cardinals, 7 to 5, on Jimmy Bucher's tenth inning home run with two on bases.

Going into the ninth, Brooklyn had a 4 to 1 lead, but Bordagaray fumbled Moore's hit and three runs crossed the plate to tie the score.

The Cards went ahead in the tenth when Jim Collins, who smashed his 17th homer of the season in the fifth, drove in Ernie Orsatti, who had doubled. St. Louis fell to third place.

Pitts' Reinstatement Gives Many Banned Players Hope

Durham, N. C., June 26.—[Special.]—The headquarters of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues have been flooded with requests for reinstatement by banned players since Commissioner K. M. Landis ruled Edwin C. [Alabama] Pitts, former Sing Sing convict, could play in organized baseball. W. G. Bramham, president of the organization, said contract jumpers lead the list of applications.

Cubs Beaten by Giants as Root Weakens

After Cuyler had fanned and Klein had grounded out, Terry to Schumacher for the third straight time. English got his second pass in the sixth and was forced by Jurges. This made eight Cubs left on the bases.

Root led off the seventh with a single to center, the sixth hit off Schumacher. Galan's bunt forced Root and Herman forced Galan. Then Ott backed against the wall in right to pull down Cavarretta's fly.

Giants Solve Root.

After Ott had fanned to start the home seventh, Leiber singled for the Giants' second hit off Root. Koenig singled to left center, putting Leiber on third. Jackson sent a short fly to Klein, the runners holding their bases. Mancuso singled to left, scoring Leiber and putting Koenig on third. Schumacher grounded out to Cavarretta.

Root apparently became weary in the eighth. Moore singled to the right for the fifth hit and advanced on Bartell's sacrifice. Terry followed with a double to left which scored Moore. Ott knocked his fourteenth homer of the year into the right field stand, scoring behind Terry. Jurges threw out Leiber, but Koenig singled to center, and Jackson walked. Mancuso popped to Herman.

In the ninth the Cubs scored on Schumacher for the first time this year. English drew his third straight pass, but was forced by Jurges. Stainback batted for Root and singled to left. Galan also singled, scoring Jurges and putting Stainback on third. Stainback scored while Koenig was throwing out Herman. Cavarretta ended the game with a grounder to Terry.

Cubs Win 12 of 22 Contests on Long Road Trip

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—The Cubs this afternoon closed their second eastern trip, which started in St. Louis, with the following record of accomplishment: Against St. Louis, won none, lost 3; against Philadelphia, won 3, lost 3; against Brooklyn, won 3, lost 0; against Boston, won 4, lost 1; against New York, won 2, lost 3.

Larry French was the winningest pitcher on the trip, gaining three decisions. And he had the Giants shut out until the ninth inning of yesterday's first game. Warneke lost four games.

The Cubs will play a single game with the Pirates Friday, a double header Saturday, and a single game Sunday. Monday the Cubs will be in Cincinnati for their first night game.

Stainback, who suffered a dislocated finger yesterday, expects to return to work in the game at Wrigley field Friday.

The Washington team attended today's game. The sight of the Polo grounds seemed to sadden the Senators who were with the outfit during the 1933 world series.

Hal Schumacher now has eight straight victories. Today's was his tenth of the season.

Chicago May See Joe Louis' Next Fight

two hours, and appeared in 48th street, home of the Twentieth Century club, after 4 o'clock. There all the questions not asked last night in his dressing room by us purveyors to the public of consequential news topics were fired at the current ring sensation.

"Who would you rather fight next?"

"Who between Baer or Schmeling?"

"Either one. It makes no difference."

"Which would be harder for you?"

Baer Easier to Hit.

"I don't know. I saw Braddock meet Baer. I think Baer would be easier to hit than Carnera, but he also might be more dangerous."

"Suppose Baer's hands do not prove good enough to fight in September? How about Schmeling?"

"That's all right, too."

Joey Jacobs, Schmeling's American representative, is steaming a Louis-Schmeling bout in September. Baer is said to be first choice of promoters with Schmeling a possibility. Manager Ancil Hoffman, for Baer, is expected to give his answer in a week, depending on whether Baer's hands can be righted in time.

Louis Proves Sensible.

Asked whether he would buy a new car with his earnings, Louis replied that he had "enough car now," a 7 passenger auto of a popular model. Perhaps a new wardrobe with lots of new suits, suggested one interviewer. Not that, but possibly a couple of new tailorings was Joe's sensible rejoinder. Otherwise he had no plans for spending or investing his proceeds from the Carnera bout.

Louis and his party left in the late afternoon for his former camp at Pompton Lakes, N. J., for a rest of a day or two which he could not get here in his present hero rôle. Then he will spend a few days at Atlantic City and finally return to his home in Detroit until time to start training again for his Chicago appearance.

SINGH DEFEATS RUBI IN MATCH AT MARIGOLD

Nango Singh scored his seventh consecutive Chicago victory in the windup bout of the wrestling show last night at Marigold Gardens when he was awarded the decision over Bert Rubi after 32 minutes 27 seconds. Rubi, who had won nine straight at Marigold before meeting Singh, kept on even terms with Nango until shortly after the two had wrestled a half hour. Then both wrestlers fell from the ring, but Singh scrambled back at 18, beating the time allotted by 2 seconds. A capacity crowd of more than 1,500 saw the show. Preliminary results.

Louis Can't Be Stopped! Says Primo Carnera

New York, June 26.—"Nothing in the world will stop Joe Louis from becoming champion. He is a better puncher than Max Baer, and smarter. He wouldn't have much trouble with Champion Jim Braddock."

It was Primo Carnera talking. The somewhat battered Italian giant held court in his hotel suite today and enlarged upon his post-battle statements of the previous evening.

He intends to depart for Italy in a week or so and take a long rest. He isn't quite certain what he'll do then, but he made it clear he's definitly finished with the ring. Primo has a home in Sequals, and enough money to keep him in comfortable circumstances. He plans to lump his dollars in a trust fund and live on the interest.

"And I expect to get married," he beamed. "I haven't met the girl yet, but I will."

It gave Carnera a bit of solace to state he did a bit of damage himself.

"I'm sure I hurt that Louis. I hurt him in the third and fifth rounds, but I want no more of his punches. Now I'm through."

CURLEY LAMBEAU MARRIES FORMER MISS CALIFORNIA

BILLIE COPELAND.

Earl L. [Curley] Lambeau, coach of the Green Bay Packers of the National Professional Football league, was married at 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon to Miss Billie John Copeland, "Miss California" in 1927. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Henry F. Wallenwein of Waukegan.

Lambeau gave his age as 37, and his bride as 26. Miss Copeland said she lived in Los Angeles, Cal. Lambeau was divorced from his first wife in 1934.

THREE CHICAGO BOYS ADVANCE IN MARBLE TOURNEY

Lake Geneva, Wis., June 26.—[Special.—Three of the four Chicago boys competing in the western finals of the national marble tournament here this week have advanced to the semi-finals, to be played tomorrow. Henry Cielen, representing the Chicago park district, will enter the semi-finals as the champion of league two; John Cifelli, Chicago Heights champion will play as league three champion, and Leonard Tyner, Chicago city champion, will represent league four. Paul Holmes of St. Louis is the fourth champion to compete in the semi-finals.

Cielen, Cifelli and Holmes each won 25 games and lost 10 for a percentage of .711 while Tyner won 28 and lost seven.

CHARLES YATES WINS TWICE IN COLLEGE GOLF

Beats Walter Emery and Winfield Day.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—(AP)—Charles Yates, defending champion from Georgia Tech, drove through the first two rounds of the national intercollegiate golf tournament today with a pair of brilliant triumphs.

Carried to the 21st hole this morning before he defeated Walter Emery of Oklahoma, 1933 champion, Yates again found himself facing elimination by Winfield Day of Notre Dame in the second round, but he made a number of great shots to win from the middle westerner, 2 and 1.

Johnny Fischer Advances.

Johnny Fischer of Michigan, who won this championship three years ago, marched into the quarter finals over an easier route, as did Woodrow Malloy of Michigan, who tied with Lewis Johnson of Charleston and Charles Kocsis of Michigan for medal honors yesterday. Johnson and Kocsis, however, fell this afternoon after surviving the opening battles.

Fischer had little trouble whipping Jack Hoerner of Stanford in the first round, 4 and 3, and, after shooting a sub-par 35 and taking a five up lead through the first nine this afternoon, he could afford to coast during the afternoon to a 3 and 2 victory over Wilson Marks of Princeton.

Woodrow Malloy applied the pressure on the last few holes this morning to eliminate Charles Dannals of Georgia Tech, 3 and 2, and then steamed to a 6 and 5 triumph over R. B. Parker of Princeton.

Kocsis is Beaten.

After barely doing away with H. L. Beyer of Penn State this morning, 1 up, Kocsis ran into a sub-par first nine shot by Ed White of Texas, runner-up to Yates in last season's tournament, and slipped out 5 and 4 in the second round. Hitting his shots long and clean, White gave notice he would be a real threat again by shooting the fourteen holes in three under par.

Johnson eliminated Tom Draper of Washington university, St. Louis, this morning, but a one over par 73 this afternoon by Fred Haas, Louisiana, was too much for him, and he lost, 1 down.

The other trio moving into tomorrow's 36 hole quarter-final round were Bill Welch of Texas, who was 3 under par in defeating Bob Cochrane of St. Louis, 6 and 5; Jack Malloy of Princeton, who beat Johnny Banks of Notre Dame, 1 up, and G. A. Menard of Penn State, who won from Harry Gandy, Oklahoma, 2 and 1.

Day Wins Morning Match.

In other matches this morning Day beat Arthur St. John, Oklahoma, 3 and 1; Banks won from Robert McLaughlin, Buffalo, 1 up; Jack Malloy beat William Flynn, Northwestern, 3 and 2; Menard defeated Erwin Laxton, North Carolina, 3 and 2; Gandy eliminated John Wasko, Pittsburgh, 3 and 2; White won from John Boyd, Bowdoin, 2 and 1; Parker defeated Bob Riegel, Richmond, 3 and 1; Marks whipped John Ridley, Georgia Tech, 1 up; Cochrane downed Joe Lynch, Georgetown, 2 and 1; Welch won a 22 hole contest from Claude McKee, Pittsburgh, and Haas put out Dana Seeley, Michigan, 2 and 1.

CALUMET DICK, THREADNEEDLE SKIM OVER MUD

Win Impressively in Races at Washington Park.

BY FRENCH LANE.

On and on charged Chicago horses at Washington Park yesterday as the season neared the end.

Calumet Dick, from Warren Wright's Calumet Farm stables, found the muddy going just to his liking and galloped to an easy victory in the best race on the program.

Threadneedle, owned by Morris Vehon, captured the 2 year old race which engaged some of the fleetest juveniles here. She won so handily that many horsemen ranked her up with the best 2 year olds uncovered so far during the meeting.

Mr. Wright has enjoyed plenty of thrills from the victories his color bearers have scored, but Mr. Vehon got the kick of a lifetime when Threadneedle led her field home.

Daughter of Reigh Count.

This fleet filly was bred by Vehon. She is a daughter of his Mally Jane, a good racing mare of a few years back. Threadneedle's sire is Reigh Count, and the folks who didn't wager on her at those 22 to 1 odds on her breeding alone hung their heads in shame.

Vehon and his big party of friends had an uncomfortable feeling when Grace C. A., another Chicago 2 year old, from the barn of Aarons & Weil, leaped out into a three length lead soon after the contest started. They calmed themselves, however, when, in true Reigh Count fashion, Threadneedle took after the flying leader, wore her down a stride at a time rounding the turn, and sailed into the lead half way down the stretch.

Threadneedle had so much class that she caused Grace C. A. to drop entirely out of the money. Doran, the favorite, finished second, a length behind Threadneedle. Trouper was third.

A great celebration among the Threadneedle backers took place when the mutuel odds were posted. Threadneedle paid $44.08 to win, $16 to place and $7.06 to show.

Shows Mud Running Ability.

Threadneedle is the best looking filly Reigh Count has sent to the races. She is a good sized chestnut and demonstrated beyond all doubt that she has Reigh Count's ability to run in the mud, for showers early in the day had turned the Washington Park course into a sea of sloppy mud.

The daughter of Reigh Count is well engaged in the stake events that are to be run later on in the season at Arlington Park and in the east.

Calumet Dick, according to the talent, didn't have a chance to win. The so-called smart money all went down on Banish Fear, a former E. R. Bradley performer.

Banish Fear Closes Fast.

Until she came with a rush in the stretch to snatch second money Banish Fear never figured in the race. Band Wagon was the early leader, but Calumet Dick moved up alongside of him at the top of the stretch. Then the Calumet farm colorbearer darted to the front. The race was over then and there. Calumet Dick went on to win easily by a length. Banish Fear was a length behind him at the end. Band Wagon took down the slim end of the purse.

Calumet Dick ran the mile in the muddy going in the good time of 1:42 2-5. He was ridden by Jocky Westrope. In the mutuels Calumet Dick paid $11.70 to win, $4.80 to place and $3.28 to show.

Clocks Wins Sprint Event at Aqueduct

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Clocks, a full brother to Tick On and a son of On Watch, won today at Aqueduct by three lengths at the short price of 2 to 5. Johnny Gilbert had him in front practically from start to finish of the five furlongs, which were finished in 1:00 1-5 over a fast track.

Five others started. C. V. Whitney's slow breaking Singer's Folly ran a good race from a tardy beginning to be a driving second a length and a half before Conquer. The field was completed by Prank, stablemate to the winner; Prevention, and Chancer.

The Brookmeade stable racer was the second winning favorite of the afternoon and followed a parade of form horses which got down in front on Tuesday. The race seemed made to order for the eventual winner, but Gilbert took no chances with overconfidence.

Previous to the victory of Mrs. Sloane's color bearer Mrs. Gladys Whitney's Rhadamanthus decisively won the Wickson steeplechase by four lengths. He was a 6 to 5 shot in the betting.

Bradley Tops Lassie Stakes with 7 Entries

Owners and nominators of the first four to finish in the Arlington Lassie Stakes will split as high as $35,000. Such a high value is indicated by the presence of 92 juvenile fillies on the final eligibility list, made public yesterday by Otto W. Lehmann, president of the Arlington Park Jocky club. The Lassie, with $10,000 added, occupies the feature spot on the program of Saturday, July 13.

The outstanding filly prospects of every important stable in America have been kept eligible for the Lassie since its first closing last fall. The final payment amounted to $50 each. Each starter must pay $1,000.

Leading the nominators is Col. Edward R. Bradley, who has seven candidates. The Bradley horses have been prominent in other big races at the north side track, but never in the Lassie, and the Kentucky sportsman hopes to change the situation this year.

Mrs. John Hay Whitney, who has the Llangollen stable, is the second highest nominator with six 2 year old fillies remaining eligible. Other prominent stables with representation include Belair Stud, Brookmeade Stable, Calumet Farm, Mrs. Roy Carruthers, Coldstream Stud, Dixiana, Marshall Field, Greentree Stable, Mrs. John Hertz, Willis Sharpe Kilmer, Milky Way Farms, Shandon Farm, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Wheatley Stable, C. V. Whitney and George D. Widener.

Valse, Thatagal, Brendard, Pelerine, Beauflower, Forever Yours, Miss Diavolo, Mag Mell, and Savings are some of the Lassie eligibles which have shown good form in racing, but the majority have yet to receive their first taste of competition.

12 Remain on Starting List in $5,000 Event

A dozen seasoned thoroughbreds, most of them Chicago favorites of long standing, remained as possible starters yesterday in the $5,000 added Washington Park championship handicap at a mile and a quarter, which will be the closing feature of the Washington Park season on Saturday.

The field will be about as follows:

	Weight	Owner.
Riskulus	119	Northway Stable
Sweeping Light	115	Escay Stable
Evergold	114	Shandon Farm
Gusto	112	L. T. Whitehill
Late Date	111	Brentwood Stable
Watch Him	110	Mrs. John D. Hertz
Tearout	109	D. B. Midkiff
Count Arthur	108	Mrs. John D. Hertz
Royal Blunder	107	L. T. Whitehill
Dust Girl	105	Shandon Farm
Spicson	103	L. M. Severson
Silent Shot	100	John E. Hughes

With the opening of the Arlington Park meeting just four days away, activity here is increasing rapidly, especially with the arrival at the north side of horses from Washington Park and Detroit and with stables being put in order for the coming of shipments from many other points.

The largest band to arrive at Arlington yesterday was that owned by Mrs. John Hertz. Eleven of her horses, headed by the improving Reigh Count colt, Count Arthur, which finished a close second in the American Derby Saturday, were brought over by Trainer Frank Hackett. Also arriving from the Homewood course were nine horses, the property of Mrs. Roy Carruthers and Charles C. Van Meter, in charge of the latter. Two horses belonging to H. C. Russell came from Detroit by van.

Racing Secretary Charles J. McClennan was advised by P. A. Markey, Detroit sportsman who with Charles Bohn owns the Bomar stable, that a dozen of their horses would be shipped from the Detroit course Sunday to Arlington in charge of Trainer R. E. Potts. Most prominent in the lot is Grand Slam, winner of the Prairie Stakes at Washington Park and the Pimlico Nursey Stakes and a candidate for the $10,000 Hyde Park Stakes, featuring the first Saturday's program of the Arlington meeting.

Norman W. Church, owner of the Northway stable of California, arrived at Washington Park yesterday to see his 4 year old, Riskulus, run in the Washington Park championship handicap on Saturday.

DAYTON JOCKY CLUB RESUMES RACE PROGRAMS

The club sought to operate yesterday under an injunction, but Sherif Phil Kloos arrested Horace Baggott, secretary of the club, after two races had been run.

GOLDEN GLOVERS FIGHT TUESDAY IN SOX PARK BOUTS

Bridges, Marek, Clark, and Pack on Pro Card.

Joe Louis, who continued his spectacular march to a world heavyweight championship bout by scoring a six round technical knockout over Primo Carnera Tuesday, has stimulated interest in the boxing show being presented at White Sox park next Tuesday. There are a number of reasons for this state of affairs.

One reason is that Holman Williams, Detroit, recognized as colored lightweight champion of the world by the Illinois athletic commission, will clash with Baby Tiger Flowers, Omaha, Neb., leading challenger, in a 15 round title battle. Williams taught Louis a few ring tricks early in Joe's career.

Other reasons are the appearances in supporting matches of Clinton Bridges, Max Marek, Dave Clark, and Lorenzo Pack, all of whom, with the exception of Marek, are colored.

Additional interest rests in the fact that all four, like Louis, have won Golden Gloves crowns. Pack will box Big Pete Wistort, Bridges is paired with Lou Thomas, Clark will oppose Tony Zale, and Marek is matched with Scotty Fuller. All except Marek already have received their professional baptism, and with considerable success. Marek and Bridges are two of the few who were able to whip Louis in the amateur ranks.

Then, of course, there is that bout between Frank Sagilio and Bobby Pacho, both of whom are sluggers. This encounter is set for ten rounds. The others are scheduled at five rounds.

It was announced that Mayor Edward J. Kelly will present the winner of the Williams-Flowers match with a trophy, emblematic of the colored championship.

Rain yesterday forced postponement for the second successive time of the weekly professional boxing show at the Western stadium, Western and Devon avenues. Promoter Sam Abruscato announced the card of six bouts, which brings together Gene Stanley, Chicago middleweight, and Kid Leonard in the 10 round feature match, will be held tomorrow night.

Roland Kirchmier, Stillwater, Okla., and Jim McMillen, Antioch, Ill., will meet in the main event of the wrestling show tonight at Western stadium.

Other matches will bring together George Zaharias and Paul Harper, Bobby Bruns and Chris Zaharias, and Tom Marvin and Fred Grobmier.

Ray Steele, heavyweight wrestler, and Jim McMillen yesterday were signed to meet in a feature match at Mills stadium Monday. . . . Bill Treest, Batavia, Ill., light heavyweight, is considering acceptance of a heavyweight contest with Ray Fazer at Paterson, N. J., Monday, July 8.

Keep Hot Sun and Water from hurting your HAIR

Vitalis and the 60-Second Workout gives your hair the protection it needs

IT'S happened before. You know it's true. Outdoor life robs your hair of health. Fiery suns burn it. Water flushes out the nourishing oils.

Get all the benefits of summer sports. But protect your hair with Vitalis and the famous 60-Second Workout. Douse it on liberally. Rub it in good and hard. As Vitalis' pure vegetable oils loosen the scalp—replenish its natural oils, you'll feel that keen, tingling sensation as new circulation begins. You're giving your hair a chance to stay healthy.

Now see how handsome—how well-managed it is! No loose dandruff. No objectionable "patent-leather" look. Just the true lustre of well-groomed, healthy hair. Begin with the 60-Second Workout today!

ASK YOUR BARBER—He's an expert on scalp and hair. When he says Vitalis—take his advice.

EPERNAY took command with a rush, was strongly restrained on the turn and weakened badly after taking a commanding lead under pressure in stretch but lasted. TERRIER, taken out after reaching last three-eighths, improved his position fast in stretch and was rapidly wearing down the winner. EURYALUS, rank at post but away well, was a factor throughout and held on gamely.

THIRD RACE. Five furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50. [Daily double, second and third races, paid $307.20].

SINGING HEART, forced the early pace under strong restraint, failed to withstand LO'S rush but continued well and after regaining lead when latter quit, came away fast. LO, rank at post and raced wide, raced to the front with a rush then weakened badly but outstayed KAPENA. Latter, taken all over the track, was on inside early, went out on stretch turn and closed well after returning to inside.

FIFTH RACE. One mile. [Out of chute]. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Winner trained by B. B. Williams. Went to post at 4:07½. At post ½ minute. Start good, for all but Hope Eternal, from Bahr gate. Won easily, place driving.

CALUMET DICK, much the best, forced the early pace under restraint, was rushed into a long lead after reaching stretch and but for loafing in last eighth, might have won by much wider margin. BANISH FEAR, well in hand for three-quarters, closed with determination. BAND WAGON had speed under energetic riding but weakened in last three-sixteenths.

SIXTH RACE. One mile. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Winner trained by F. Chiavetta. Went to post at 4:32. At post ½ minute. Start good, for all but Gaillardia. Won easily, place driving.

PRINCE TORCH, much the best and under steady reserve for three-quarters quickly overcame sharp interference in stretch and won well in hand. MAMA'S CHOICE had good speed, swerved repeatedly soon after reaching stretch and was weakly ridden in late stages, but appeared badly outmatched. RIDGE MOR saved much ground and held on fairly well.

SEVENTH RACE. One mile and 70 yards. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $1.50; third, $100; fourth, $50.

U. S. ENTERS QUIZ INTO ST. PAUL'S POLICE GRAFTING

Incomes of 9 Officers to Be Checked.

St. Paul, Minn., June 26.—[Special.]—The federal government today entered the investigation into the alleged complicity of St. Paul police with gambling, vice and other underworld activities. An immediate inquiry is to be made into the income tax records of the nine policemen already involved in the sweeping shakeup which began Monday.

Meanwhile, special agents of H. E. Warren, commissioner of public safety, were seeking three policemen to serve them with notices of dismissal as a result of the exposé of a link between police and gamblers.

Prepare to Revoke Licenses.

The St. Paul city council prepared to revoke the licenses of three business establishments alleged to have been headquarters for race horse betting. Revocation of the licenses was anticipated after it was learned five reputed gamblers will face charges as a result of information obtained by use of recording instruments secreted in police headquarters.

A. R. Knox, deputy collector of internal revenue, is in charge of the inquiry into the policemen's income tax records. These are to be checked off against any "illicit sources of revenue" that evidence may disclose.

Three Policemen Sought.

The three policemen sought for the service of dismissal orders are James Crumley, inspector of detectives, and Detectives Ray Flannigan and Fred Raasch, charged in the notices with "soliciting and accepting bribes, failing to detect and suppress crime, and breach of duty."

The St. Paul police department was functioning with G. H. Barfuss, deputy commissioner of public safety acting as chief, in the place of Chief Michael Culligan, ordered suspended for 30 days when the investigations were first revealed and who is said to have handed in his resignation.

GAAR WILLIAMS' $30,000 ESTATE LEFT TO WIDOW

The will of Gaar Williams leaving an estate estimated at $30,000 to his widow, Mrs. Lena E. Williams, 90 Lakewood road, Glencoe, was admitted to probate yesterday. Mr. Williams, cartoonist for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, died suddenly last June 15. He was 54 years old.

James C. McShane, Chicago attorney, who died last June 16, left an estate estimated at $110,000, it was disclosed yesterday when letters of administration were issued to the widow, Mrs. Henriette A. McShane, 2150 Lincoln Park West. Listed as heirs besides the widow are a nephew, niece, brother, and two sisters.

The following wills were admitted to probate:

Mary S. Goldschmidt, died June 19. Estate $7,500 to three daughters. O. E. Reinhart, executor.

Edward S. Thomas, died March 7. Estate $8,250 to Carter Harris, friend and executor.

James B. Curlee, died March 4. Estate $6,500 to sister, five nieces, three nephews, and friend.

ASSERTS COFFEE IS HARMLESS TO NORMAL PERSON

W. F. Williamson of New York, secretary of the Associated Coffee Industries of America, announced yesterday at the closing session of the society's convention in the Drake hotel that within a few weeks a report will be published on two years of research work on coffee carried out under the direction of Dr. Marion G. Frank of the University of Chicago.

This research has proved, Williamson said, that the beverage is not harmful, except to certain persons who have a peculiar physical reaction to it. In some cases, he asserted, coffee was found not only to be harmless to the heart but actually to serve beneficially as a "heart food."

The convention yesterday selected Herbert Delafield of Chicago chairman and chose Pittsburgh for the next meeting in September, 1936.

John Paxson Dies; Former South Bend Bank Head

South Bend, Ind., June 26.—[Special.]—John C. Paxson, 78, formerly a South Bend banker, died this afternoon at his home in Paxson Park, north of Notre Dame. He had been president of the Farmers' Trust company here from 1916 to 1921 when he retired. He also had served on the city school board.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The Louis-Carnera fight was broadcast after all, as you know if you listened to Amos 'n' Andy Tuesday evening. Charlie Correll and Freeman Gosden went to the fight after doing their regular broadcast for eastern listeners at 7 o'clock. Since Yankee stadium is up in the Bronx it would have been impossible for them to return to the Radio City studios in time for their 10 o'clock program. So they rigged up a temporary studio near the fight scene and in the sixth and final round galloped over to do their broadcast.

Instead of repeating the 7 o'clock episode, as is their custom, they set about telling the Kingfish, who couldn't go to the fight, all about it. The Kingfish asked questions and Correll and Gosden, in character, described the battle without the aid of script.

A few weeks ago Columbia announced that all of its juvenile programs were to be elevated through the prohibition of several specific themes and treatment. An authority on child training was to be engaged who would see that the new standards were established and maintained. That post was given yesterday to Dr. Arthur T. Jersild, professor of education at Columbia university.

Touching on the "blood and thunder" angle of juvenile programs, Dr. Jersild said:

"The usual child likes adventure and thrills and within reasonable bounds he has as much right to them as does the adult. But it is indefensible to exploit the emotions of the normal child, to prey on his fears, to drill him in a false sense of reality, or to drench him with hokus-pocus and sleight-of-hand solutions of human problems."

Dr. Jersild announced that he would make an earnest effort to provide programs that are entertaining and which at the same time offer a wholesome stimulus to the development of character and the acquisition of knowledge.

Walter [Uncle Bob] Wilson, who broadcasts for youngsters over WIND, will deliver an address today at the dedication of the Safety Trophy at the Buffington steel plant. Gov. McNutt of Indiana and A. H. Young, vice president of the United States Steel corporation, are to speak at this meeting.

David Bacal, pianist with Charlie Gaylord's orchestra, will play "I Surrender, Dear," as a solo during the NBC Penthouse Serenade at 2:30 next Sunday. At the conclusion of the broadcast he is to marry Lucille Frohman a cousin of Daniel Frohman, the producer.

The Chicago Blind Choral club, an organization of sightless singers, will broadcast their first radio concert over WCFL at 8:30 this evening. The group, which has been heard frequently in concerts for several years, will be heard regularly at this hour on Thursdays throughout the summer.

A. S. BADGER, 73, LUMBERMAN, DIES; FUNERAL TODAY

Funeral services for A. Shreve Badger of Lake Forest, 73 years old, retired Chicago lumber merchant who died in St. Luke's hospital yesterday after a long illness, will be held at 3 p. m. today in the Church of the Holy Spirit in Lake Forest. The body will be cremated at Graceland cemetery. Mr. Badger was born in the old Birch home in Chicago, now the site of the Chicago Athletic club, 12 South Michigan avenue, and until his retirement several years ago was president of the A. S. Badger Lumber company. He returned from California a month ago and had been living with his son, Shreve C. Badger, at 1302 North Elm Tree road, Lake Forest. His widow, Sarah, a daughter, and another son survive.

Joseph Gest Dies; Former Cincinnati Art Director

Cincinnati, O., June 26.—(AP)—Joseph Henry Gest, 76, former president of the Rookwood pottery and former director of the Cincinnati Art museum for thirty years, died today. A native of Cincinnati, he joined the staf of the art museum here after his graduation from Harvard in 1880, retiring in 1932 to become chairman of the national gallery of art commission, Washington.

William R. Johnson Burial in Auburn, Ill., Tomorrow

Funeral services for William R. Johnson, 55 years old, vice president of Mallott-Johnson company, importers, at 2914 North Lincoln avenue, will be held in Auburn, Ill., at 2 p. m. tomorrow. Mr. Johnson died Saturday in Glendale, Cal., of heart disease. During his long residence in Chicago he was active in Masonic work. His widow Hulda survives.

William C. Ranoue Dies; Veteran Soo Line Official

Minneapolis, Minn., June 26.—(AP)—William C. Ranoue, 64, general superintendent of transportation of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railway and a veteran of forty-four years in its service, died late yesterday.

JURORS DISAGREE IN ESTATE FRAUD TRIAL OF LAWYER

After four hours' deliberation a jury in Judge Harry B. Miller's Criminal court reported last evening that it was unable to reach a verdict on the case of Attorney Julius P. Waitches, one of six defendants charged with conspiracy to seize by fraud the $100,000 estate of James Thomas Kelly, known as the West Madison street miser. The jury was discharged and a mistrial declared.

The state charged that Waitches drew up a fraudulent will which made Mrs. Bella Butman chief beneficiary of the estate left by Kelly, who died several months ago in Mrs. Butman's home at 6743 Irving Park boulevard.

Waitches was granted a separate trial from Mrs. Butman and four other defendants. His defense was that he filled in the body of the will after he had taken proper steps to verify the claim of Mrs. Butman and others that Kelly had signed the will in blank and had specifically designated how his estate was to be distributed.

Judge Miller said he would announce this morning a date for a new trial for Waitches as well as the disposition to be made of the other defendants.

TAX COMPROMISE WON BY ESTATE OF ROSENWALD

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—The estate of the late Julius Rosenwald of Chicago today won a substantial victory in a final compromise settlement of a controversy over his 1929 income taxes.

The internal revenue bureau claimed $196,337 in addition to the $376,605 Mr. Rosenwald had paid, but the case was closed with the agreement by Lessing Rosenwald, executor, to pay $51,194 more tax.

A unique point was the government claim that Mr. Rosenwald had realized a profit of $349,639 on Soviet bonds as a result of his contributions to the American Society for Jewish Farm Settlements in Russia, Inc.

It was shown, however, that Mr. Rosenwald's contributions were made without thought of getting bonds in return and he further agreed that the society was to have full ownership of them so long as it continued with its colonization plan.

[Koehne Photo.]

Ralph Cudney, 68 years old, president of Cudney & Co., wholesale meat concern at 400 Orleans street, and a widely known art collector, died at his home at 4832 Ellis avenue yesterday after an illness of a week. Mr. Cudney was a member of the Chicago Athletic, Hamilton, Illinois Athletic, and South Shore Country clubs. He is survived by a nephew, Harold N. Cudney, and three nieces, Mrs. Caleb Canby Jr. of Barrington, Mrs. Rollin D. Weary of Chicago, and Mrs. Henry L. Parker of Michigan. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home, with burial in Oak Woods cemetery.

EDISON'S ESTATE VALUED AT NEAR THREE MILLIONS

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—The first accounting of the estate of Thomas A. Edison, filed in the surrogate's office in Newark today, showed it to be valued at $2,871,758.

The accounting was made by the executors, Charles and Theodore M. Edison, sons of the inventor, and covers the period between Edison's death on Oct. 18, 1931, and Sept. 6, 1933.

It gives the income from the estate during that period as $140,130 and lists among the assets Fourth Liberty Loan and United States Treasury bonds amounting to $222,600 and stock in Thomas A. Edison, Inc., valued at $742,390.

Burial Services Today for Mrs. Maud Josaphare, 50

Funeral services for Mrs. Maud C. Josaphare, art teacher at Lake View High school, who died at her home, 4022 N. Clarendon avenue, Tuesday evening, will be held at 3 p. m. today at the Fourth Presbyterian church chapel, 126 East Chestnut street. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery. The body will be in the funeral chapel, 929 Belmont avenue, preceding services at the church.

Mrs. Josaphare was born at Morristown, Pa., 50 years ago.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Helen Long, and a brother, Blair Coan, of Washington, D. C.

Louis B. Goodall, Former Congressman, Dies at 83

Sanford, Me., June 26.—(AP)—Louis B. Goodall, 83, former U. S. representative from Maine and son of Thomas Goodall, founder of the Goodall-Sanford Mills here, died today. Born in Ashelot, N. H., he was active with his father in the building of the local mills. He was chairman of the board of directors of the firm at his death.

C. DE CRESPIGNY, FAMED BRITISH SPORTSMAN, DIES

LONDON, June 26.—(AP)—Sir Claude Champion de Crespigny, famous sportsman, died today at his home in Maldon, Essex. He was 88 years old.

Probably no British sportsman during the last 100 years had more adventures and hairbreadth escapes in all parts of the world. In India he got into and out of the coils of a python. On another occasion he shot and wounded a tiger that had trapped him in the jungle. In east Africa he killed a charging rhinoceros by breaking its neck at a distance of two paces with a softnosed bullet.

His mishaps were many. He broke both legs in a balloon accident. On the hunting field he broke his arms three times, and his legs three times in steeplechasing. His fingers were broken several times in boxing. Sir Claude celebrated his 84th birthday by taking a somersault dive from a height of 30 feet into icy water.

Fall Fatal to C. E. Vaughn; Burial Services Saturday

Carl E. Vaughn, 121 Merrill avenue, Park Ridge, vice president of the Casco Products company of Bridgeport, Conn., died in the Nicolet hotel in Minneapolis, Minn., yesterday of injuries incurred the night before when he fell in his hotel room. [Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 26.—Large additional gains in nearly all the Great Northern issues, most of which climbed 1 to 3 points to new high ground, was a feature of the bond market today. This activity in Great Northern had some effect in stimulating buying in other sections of the railroad list, where it had begun to lag.

Other strong spots among rails were Lehigh Valley 4½s, Soo Line Guaranteed 4s, a few of the New York Central issues, which resisted new profit taking; Pennsylvania General 4¼s, which reached a new record price, and several inactive railroad and terminal securities which went up to one or two sales.

Earnings Reports Improve.

The rails seemed to be influenced by the early reports of improvement in May net operating income over a year ago, continuing the trend which developed in April. The commerce commission bureau of statistics reported that all class 1 railroads in April had an aggregate net loss of $8,256,939, which was slightly smaller than the loss of $10,728,312 reported for the same month of 1934.

Utility obligations were generally quiet. American & Foreign Power 5s continued active, but with little change in price. Western Union 4½s rose above their previous high record. North American Edison debenture 5s of 1957 series A also reached a new high.

Some Industrials Strong.

Among speculative industrials which developed strength were International Mercantile Marine 6s and Gould Coupler 6s. All these rises were recorded on a few deals.

Trading dwindled away in the treasury bond market and the price trend was irregular, although changes were narrow.

Addressograph-Multigraph.

Investors' Guide: Will you let me know about Addressograph?—H. F. A.

Answer: Addressograph-Multigraph corporation specializes in production of machines and equipment for duplicating, printing, addressing, etc., for office use. Since these machines are purchased by its customers in order to reduce costs as business activity increases, rate of operations ordinarily varies with degree of business activity generally. During times of slack business, furthermore, the competition of second hand equipment increases.

Net income during the first quarter of 1935 was $241,000, or 32 cents a share, more than twice the profit of $113,000, or 15 cents a share, reported for the first quarter of 1934.

Net income in 1934 was $466,000, or 62 cents a share, against losses of $322,000 and $372,000 for 1933 and 1932, respectively. Net income in 1931 was $685,000, and in 1930, $1,406,000.

On March 31, 1935, current assets were $6,139,000, and current liabilities were $2,255,000. In April, 1935, the company offered $2,000,000 of 3 to 5½ per cent debentures, due serially to 1945. Proceeds were used to retire the $1,550,000 of bank loans and to bolster working capital position.

Operations have been once more Operations are once more on what appears to be a stable profitable basis after three years of losses. In recognition of this directors declared a dividend of 15 cents a share, payable July 10, the first since April 11, 1932.

Boston & Albany R. R.

Investors' Guide: Kindly give me information on the new issue of Boston and Albany Railroad 4½ per cent bonds.—W. A. H.

Answer: Boston and Albany Railroad company operates 368 miles of road, the main line of which extends from Rensselaer, N. Y., to Boston, Mass. It owns one-fourth of the stock of Hudson River Bridge company at Albany.

The main line first mortgage 4½s, due April 1, 1943, bear the specific guarantee of New York Central. They are in addition secured by a first mortgage [subject to the lease] of Boston and Albany's main line and on all other properties of the company. There are $9,000,000 of bonds outstanding of an authorized $50,000,000 issue.

MICHIGAN UTILITY PLACES LARGE ISSUE ON MARKET

Consumers Power Offers $18,594,000 Bonds.

A new issue of $18,594,000 Consumers Power company first lien and unifying 3¾ per cent bonds is being placed on the market today by a syndicate headed by Bonbright & Co., Inc., and including the First Boston corporation, Brown, Harriman & Co., Inc., E. W. Clark & Co., and Coffin & Burr, Inc. Proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used to retire obligations bearing a higher rate of interest.

Consumers Power is the Michigan operating unit of the Commonwealth and Southern system. All its properties are located in Michigan. The new issue is dated May 1, 1935, and is due May 1, 1965. The bonds are priced at 100 and accrued interest.

Bonds to Be Retired.

The obligations to be retired include $15,672,000 Consumers Power company first lien and refunding 5 per cent 25 year gold bonds, due Jan. 1, 1936, to be paid at maturity; $2,582,000 Michigan Light company first and refunding mortgage 5 per cent 30 year gold bonds, due March 1, 1946, to be called for redemption on Sept. 1, 1935, including $70,000 previously retired, and $340,000 Jackson Gas company first mortgage 5 per cent 40 year gold bonds, due April 1, 1937, to be paid at maturity, including $1,000 in Consumers Power company's treasury to be canceled.

The balance of the funds required for retirement of the bonds, as well as the retirement of the entire issue of Michigan Water Power company first mortgage 20 year 6 per cent sinking fund gold bonds, due Jan. 1, 1946, called for redemption on July 1, 1935, is estimated at $1,700,000 and will be provided by the company from cash on hand and from temporary loans.

Ward Unit Calls Bonds.

The Larrabee Building corporation, a subsidiary of Montgomery Ward & Co., Inc., yesterday called its $1,747,500 of first mortgage 5¼ per cent bonds, due Feb. 1, 1954, for redemption on Aug. 1 at the call price of 102.

The original issue of bonds was $2,000,000. It is secured by the property at the southeast corner of Chicago avenue and the Chicago river, and is improved with an eight story building which is used by Montgomery Ward to house its general offices.

A group of four banks purchased the offering by the Duluth, Minn., independent school district of $400,000 bonds, dated Aug. 1 and due in 1938 to 1949 on a bid of 100.77 for 2.70s.

GIVES DETAILS ON SALE OF 333 MICHIGAN BONDS

Details concerning the allocation of the $6,250,000 received from the sale of 333 North Michigan Avenue building first mortgage bonds were made public for the first time during a hearing yesterday at the Morrison hotel on the plan to reorganize the property under section 77-B of the bankruptcy act. The hearing was held before Master in Chancery George E. Q. Johnson.

John S. Miller, attorney for the corporation, testified that the commission for the sale of the $6,250,000 issue was $437,500. The sum of $566,512 was set aside for interest on bonds during the period of construction, $32,710 was set aside for taxes during this period, $129,359 for the cost of various surety and completion bonds and insurance, and $61,812 legal fees. In addition, $157,856 was applied on such miscellaneous items as federal taxes and appraisals, and $888,000 to finish paying for the land on which the building was constructed.

The actual cost of the building, according to the testimony, was $3,975,977, and the cost of the land, although it was appraised in the circular at $3,000,000, according to the testimony, was $2,325,000. The master took the case under advisement and is expected to make his recommendation and report shortly.

COTTON PRICES IRREGULAR; WEATHER IS FAVORABLE

Cotton prices fluctuated in an erratic manner yesterday with price fixing by the trade sufficient to absorb the offerings on an early dip and later the July delivery in the leading markets acted a little tight. There were deliveries of 200 bales on July contracts in New York.

Closing trades in Chicago were 2 to 9 points higher with other markets 9 points higher to 1 point lower, New Orleans showing the easiness. Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points higher with New Orleans and New York 11.95 cents, Houston 11.75 cents, and Galveston 11.80 cents per pound. Prices in cents per pound follow:

Court Has Approved Petition for

Walworth Company Reorganization

A plan for reorganization of Walworth Company has been formulated, and on May 10, 1935, a petition for such reorganization was filed in the U. S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts.

The Court has approved the petition. A copy of the plan has been mailed to all known security holders, and deposits and letters of acceptance are now being received.

In the opinion of all members of the undersigned Committees, a reorganization is necessary. We believe that the specific plan proposed is sound, and fair to all classes of securities, and should be consummated at the earliest possible moment.

If you are a security holder, you are urged to act at once. If you have not received information, please communicate with the proper Committee or with the Company.

WORLD TRADE CHIEFS VOTE FOR STABILIZATION

Intergovernmental Parleys Sought.

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, June 26.—A surprise victory for the American delegation's proposal urging immediate intergovernmental consultations on money stabilization was won today at the International Chamber of Commerce congress. The British group is understood to have receded from yesterday's uncompromising refusal to consider stabilization at present.

The international chamber, therefore, in the eyes of many delegates, has been saved the necessity of taking a negative stand, which, it is believed, would have caused a serious setback to world-wide efforts toward monetary stability.

Want Stabilization Quickly.

Among the 960 delegates here from every important country in the world there are many who are close to their governments and the strong resolution drafted today was expected to make it clear that business leaders want stabilization and want it quickly.

The text of the resolution was not available tonight, although it has been passed by the resolutions committee. However, it was authoritatively learned that it conforms to the principles of the American drafted resolution which calls for stabilization on a gold basis and urges the immediate inauguration of appropriate consultations.

The American draft was first presented late yesterday by Eliot Wadsworth, president of a Boston Chamber of Commerce. The Americans immediately found an able champion in Prof. T. E. Gregory, British economist, through whose efforts the British delegation was finally brought into line.

Await British Elections.

The victory, it is understood, does not alter the fact that until the British elections are held there will be no stabilization. None of the delegates seemed to have entertained any doubts about that after yesterday's discussions, but it was believed imperative to lay the groundwork immediately so that once the political factors are out of the way all the governments could move swiftly toward the practical goal of a world agreement.

Moreover, it was believed that the psychological effect of the strong resolution would prove important in the long run whether or not the governments put its proposals into effect at present.

Edward R. Filene, Boston merchant, headed a group which forced the delegation to remove from its second resolution a clause favoring controled production, contending the trouble was not with mass production, but with inadequate distribution.

Mrs. Baur Urges Resolution.

Mrs. Jacob Baur of the Chicago Association of Commerce, asked the United States delegates to send a resolution to congress asking "stabilization on the gold standard as quickly as possible."

The world depression is ended and business is on the way to recovery, most of the delegates from thirty-nine nations declared. However, the opinions of the business men differed as to how rapidly the world would reach general prosperity.

Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Business Machines corporation, said that the next decade will see the world enjoying a sensible prosperity such as never before. "The United States is well on the way and I think she is headed for a boom," he asserted.

DRIVES DIESEL AUTO 1,200 MILES AT COST OF $2.21

C. L. Cummins, president of the Cummins Engine company of Columbus, Ind., arrived in Chicago last night in his new Diesel powered automobile after completing a 1,200 mile run from New York City by way of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. The fuel bill for the trip amounted to $2.21, he reported. He expects to cross the continent, a distance of 3,000 miles, at a total cost of $8 for fuel and oil.

This is said to be one of the first times a Diesel type motor has been placed in a passenger automobile, although the Diesel engine has been used in motor boats and large trucks and has been used experimentally in airplanes. The engine, which was manufactured in Cummins' plant at Columbus, is placed in an Auburn automobile chassis. According to the manufacturer, the car weighs about 80 pounds more than the same chassis equipped with a standard gasoline engine.

Cummins said that the car was kept at a speed of about 50 miles an hour during most of the trip, although it has a top speed of about 90 miles an hour and is capable of developing 100 horsepower. The car will leave for Des Moines, Ia., this morning.

PANAMA REPORTS U. S. AGREES TO PAY CANAL ANNUITIES IN GOLD

PANAMA CITY, June 26.—The Panama government today informed THE TRIBUNE that the United States has agreed to pay the Panama canal annuities in gold. Washington owes Panama for two years, at $250,000 yearly or a total of $500,000. Panama has heretofore refused to accept payment in revalued currency.

The Panama government maintained that the Panama canel treaty of 1904, which provided that the United States pay Panama $10,000,000 in a lump sum in gold coin of the United States and annual payments of $250,000 "in like gold," could not be altered by the United States without Panama's consent.

The payments are due each Feb. 26, and the dispute began at that time in 1934 when Panama refused the United States' check. The American refusal to pay in gold was based on the joint congressional resolution of June 5, 1933, outlawing payment of gold for public and private obligations.

The matter was resumed in February this year, when the state department told Ricardo J. Alfaro, minister of Panama in Washington, that the United States would not pay in gold. Panama again returned the United States' check, and in April appealed to President Roosevelt.

Last January is was computed that the $500,000 in gold would be worth $845,000 in the devalued United States' currency. President Harmodio Arias has announced that the profits from payment in gold would be applied to debts owed by Panama in America.

FRANC AND POUND SLIGHTLY LOWER AGAINST DOLLAR

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—The dollar was somewhat stronger today against most of the foreign currencies. French francs closed 6.63⅛ cents, off ⅛ point. The pound dipped ⅝ cent at $4.94⅛.

The Swiss franc closed steady at 32.80 cents, and the guilder rose 5 points at 68.26 cents. The Italian lira eased ½ point to 8.28½ cents, and the German mark 3 points to 40.44 cents.

At present the gold bloc currencies appear to be in a strong position, exchange dealers declared. The market is thin and shorts are finding it difficult to extend their positions in many instances. For the time being support in an emergency can be expected from United States and English official sources, it was said.

At the closing price of the French franc the dollar was worth $1,0003, compared with $1.0001 yesterday, and based on the old parity of the franc was valued at 59.08 cents, compared with 59.07 cents yesterday.

In New York the price of foreign mined silver was unchanged at 69½ cents an ounce, but in London the price of bar metal declined 1-16 penny at 31 pence a fine ounce, equivalent to 69.03 cents. Bar gold in London advanced 1½ pence to 141 shillings 2 pence a fine ounce, equivalent to $34.89.

4 St. Louis Banks Cut Interest Rate to 1.5 Pct.

St. Louis, Mo., June 26.—(AP)—Four large downtown banks and one midtown bank today announced that the interest rate on savings will be reduced from the present 2 per cent to 1½ per cent per annum, the lowest rate in the city's financial history. The reduction will become effective Aug. 1. The banks are: Boatmen's National, First National in St. Louis, Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust company, Mercantile-Commerce National, and Mississippi Valley Trust company.

Grain Firms Fight for Big Warehouse

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Behind the current reorganization negotiations of the Rosenbaum Grain corporation a bitter struggle is being waged by rival grain interests for control of the big North Western grain warehouse in South Chicago which the Rosenbaum company has operated for several years under lease from the Chicago and North Western railroad.

Several groups wish to take over the lease and the Cargill Elevator company of Minneapolis is reported to have obtained an option on it from the railroad. Reports in grain circles, however, indicate that the Cargill company faces a stiff battle before it will be able to gain control.

Lease Has Concelation Clause.

The lease under which the Rosenbaum corporation controls the warehouse contains a 90 day cancelation clause which the railroad is at liberty to invoke at any time. It has been reliably reported that the road has already notified the Rosenbaum trustees that the lease will be terminated 90 days hence. Officials of the railroad yesterday refused to confirm this report, but admitted that the financial difficulty of the Rosenbaum firm may cause a transfer in the lease.

The Cargill company has been trying for years to get a foothold in the Chicago market. It has large elevator interests in many sections of the country, but controls storage capacity of only 1 million bushels in Chicago. If it obtains a lease on the North Western plant it will control more space than any elevator company here.

One of Largest in World.

The North Western elevator with a capacity of 10 million bushels of grain is one of the largest in the world. It represented two-thirds of the storage space controled by the Rosenbaum Grain corporation.

The chief contender with Cargill for control of the warehouse is James Norris, head of the Norris Grain company. Norris and a group of associated capitalists are understood to have made an offer to the Rosenbaum trustees for all the company's properties. The trustees, however, will be unable to make a deal with Norris involving the North Western properties unless they can prevent the railroad from canceling the present lease. It is contended in some quarters that the trustees can prevent the revoking of the lease if they are able to show an ability to continue the rental payments.

Not in Reorganization Plan.

The reorganization plan submitted to the federal court by the Rosenbaum creditors does not take into consideration the North Western property. The creditors proposed formation of a new concern to be financed and managed by the Continental Grain corporation which would take over the wholly owned Rosenbaum properties. The court has made no ruling on any of the reorganization plans submitted. A hearing is scheduled before Judge William H. Holly June 28.

An early settlement of the North Western lease question is regarded as imperative because new grain will begin to move into the Chicago market in another ten days. Unless the question is settled by that time the elevator may lose its share of storage business on the new crops. If the trustees refuse to give up the warehouse for another ninety days, as provided in the cancelation clause, the value of the lease will be lessened.

HOUSE COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER ACTION ON FDIC PLAN TODAY

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—The house banking and currency committee will consider tomorrow what action it will take on extension of the temporary bank deposit insurance program passed yesterday by the senate.

Indications were that the committee will take pro[illegible] action only if assured by Senator [illegible], chairman of the senate bankin[illegible]bcommittee, that the long delayed [illegible] be brought without further [illegible] the floor of the senate.

The big ban[illegible]ve opposed the legislation. If [illegible]d permanent deposit insurance plan should come into effect on July 1 because of delay on the banking bill they and all other federal reserve banks would be required to subscribe for stock in the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation to an amount equaling five-tenths of 1 per cent of their deposits.

Title I. of the banking bill would cancel this feature of the 1933 legislation and substitute a plan by which the banks would pay annual assessments of one-eighth of 1 per cent of their deposit liability.

Senator Glass has been on their side in his opposition to the proposed centralization of federal reserve control over discount rates, reserve requirements, and open market operations as contained in title II. He has kept the bill in committee so long that the date of the new deposit insurance arrangement will arrive before the senate can act on the full bill, which the house passed several months ago.

TWO NORTH SIDE BANKS GIVE UP CLEARING HOUSE

The Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank withdrew from membership in the Chicago Clearing House association on June 17, it was learned yesterday, and another north side institution, the Hamilton State bank, is to give up its membership July 1. The only significance attached to either move was a desire to reduce expenses.

Several outlying banks have taken similar action in the last few years. It was denied that either desired to raise interest payments on deposits above the 2 per cent maximum set by the clearing house.

The two banks were said to feel that they could obtain their clearing service through loop correspondents and the federal reserve bank. Their only loss is said to be the examination made by the clearing house.

STOCKS SLUMP AGAIN ON TAX UNCERTAINTIES

Better Grade Issues Hardest Hit.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 26.—After wabbling about uncertainly most of the session the stock market was weakened by a volley of selling near the close today, resulting in losses ranging from major fractions in a large variety of issues to more than 2 points in some of the high priced industrials. The late liquidation was attributed to the uncertainty over President Roosevelt's "soak the rich" tax program.

The street was in a cautious mood and stock movements were highly indefinite as traders clung to the sidelines. Volume picked up substantially, however, as the trend toward lower levels became more marked, resulting in a total turnover of 964,180 shares.

Traders Hope for Delay.

Whatever firmness was displayed by the list in the early stages of the day was attributed to renewed hope that the rapidly spreading opposition to the new tax system might bring enough pressure to delay the legislation and permit the country to appraise the matter and the market to adjust itself before action was taken. Some basis for this hope was seen in the vigorous denial by the President that he had asked the measure be passed by Saturday night.

The speculative fraternity paid little heed to figures revealing power output at its best in months and the favorable reports from the motor industry. On the unfavorable side carloadings showed a sharp dip from the upturn of previous weeks. According to observers, price changes these days are caused for the most part by administrative and legislative threats and promises.

"Blue Chips" Hardest Hit.

As has been the case of late, the issues hardest hit by the selling were the "blue chips." Stocks in this category to lose 2 points or more included American Can, American Telephone, American Tobacco, Columbia Carbon, and National Lead. Du Pont and Westinghouse Electric both had losses running over a point and International Business Machine was a point lower at the close.

In the railroad division Atchison preferred chalked up a 2 point gain to reach its best price in a number of years, but the common was set back 1⅛ points. Most of the other rails sold fractionally lower on the threat of another pension bill.

With the radicals once more in the saddle of the holding company bill, the power division of the list showed little resistance as it drifted into lower ground. West Penn Electric was an outstanding weak spot as it was hammered down almost 4 points. Consolidated Gas, North American, and Public Service of New Jersey were fractionally lower.

Extraordinary activity in the common and B stocks of Radio corporation was a feature of the early trading. Price fluctuations were narrow but both managed to reach new high ground for the year before being forced lower.

Gains were recorded in American Agricultural Chemical, Melville Shoe, and Rensselaer & Saratoga. The last named bounced up 4 points.

Despite a better tone reported in the steel industry, Bethlehem and United States lost major fractions. The oils were soft. Standards of New Jersey and California dropping more than a point each on reports of a new rise in crude oil production.

Auburn lost more than a point in the motors while Chrysler was forced to give up a fraction after early firmness.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

With only five days left before the federal government would be in a position to "crack down" upon him, unless congress in the meantime votes to delay the permanent deposit insurance program, J. M. [Hundred Per Cent] Nichols, militant president of the First National Bank of Englewood, yesterday continued his one man fight against the New Dealers' enforced guaranty of deposits scheme.

The south side banker has achieved nation-wide fame during the last two years on two counts—first, the highly liquid condition of his six million dollar bank, which possesses sufficient cash and United States government bonds to pay off depositors 100 cents on the dollar at any time, with more to spare, and second, his bitter and unreserved criticism of New Deal banking policies. Alone of all the national banks in the country, the First National of Englewood has flatly refused to join or contribute to the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation despite provisions of the banking act of 1933 imposing fines for national banks failing to join.

Defies O'Connor on FDIC.

For two years Nichols has defied Controler of the Currency J. F. T. O'Connor, despite frequent reports of "crackdowns" from Washington. He has publicly denounced the enforced deposit insurance scheme as unsound and has threatened to liquidate his bank rather than be forced to join.

Thus far Controler O'Connor's only available means of retaliation has been to seek to impose a fine of $100 per day, but next Monday when the temporary deposit insurance plan is scheduled, under existing law, to be replaced by the permanent plan O'Connor would have the authority to close the bank. Nichols' only protection against such punishment would be to convert his institution from a national to a state bank and withdraw from the federal reserve system.

A resolution passed on Tuesday by the senate and now pending in the house of representatives, however, may give him more time. That resolution if passed by the house would extend the temporary insurance plan.

Nichols Publishes Letters.

Yesterday's round of the battle between Nichols and O'Connor consisted in the publication by Nichols of an interchange of correspondence between them and the demand by Nichols for a congressional investigation of the controler's office.

To O'Connor's warning to put his bank in the FDIC Nichols replied:

"Certainly I noticed your reference to 'subsection "e" of section 12 B of the federal reserve act as amended, . . . and that you quoted 'the statute passed by the congress and signed by the President.'

"I have also noticed that the Supreme court of the United States recently kicked that selfsame congress and President squarely in the back of the lap. Let us hope that the public does likewise in 1936. I only wish I were free of the banking business in order that I might bend every effort toward the reëstablishment of an honest, sincere administration. If you want a good laugh, just get a copy of the President's campaign speech delivered in Pittsburgh on Oct. 19, 1932."

O'Connor Denies Threat.

O'Connor in his letter to Nichols disclaimed any intention to threaten the Englewood banker by saying that his previous communication had been addressed to other bankers as well as Nichols.

"It would seem," O'Connor said, "that you are the only banker who regards a circular letter as a 'threatening communication.'"

Earlier Nichols had written O'Connor:

"Stop shadow boxing and get this case before the Supreme court. I'll wager it will pluck your FDIC bird so close that in comparison Hugh Johnson's defeathered blue eagle will look as if it were all dressed up in a raccoon coat."

The First National Bank of Englewood has refused to accept any new deposits for more than a year and yet its total deposits are still approximately at the six and a half million mark, where they have been most of the time during the last six years.

Writes Off Reserve Stock.

Nichols wrote down his $24,000 investment in stock of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago to 10 cents when President Roosevelt several months ago appointed Marriner S. Eccles governor of the federal reserve board. A few days ago he wrote down the bank's investment in its half million dollar building to $10 on the balance sheet.

Not including either commercial loans or real estate, the bank has enough cash and government bonds to pay off all deposits in full with $300,000 to spare.

The bank has been in existence for about fifty years. During the depression it has shown a modest profit each year and Nichols estimates profits this year will be about $20,000. By forcing out small and inactive accounts during the last year the number of depositors has been reduced from 16,000 to 6,000, but total deposits are as large as ever.

A year ago Nichols declined an offer of $500,000 for his controling interest in the bank.

WARD TO OPEN 10 MORE STORES; 3 IN ILLINOIS

Montgomery Ward & Co. yesterday announced that negotiations have been completed for ten more retail stores—three of them in Illinois, three in Iowa, and one each in Portland, Me.; Lakeland, Fla.; Owatonna, Minn., and Sioux Falls, S. D. The stores will be opened during the summer, fall, and winter as remodelings on new buildings are completed.

Rule Avoids 'Record' on Utility Stand.

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—Signs of the long predicted revolt in the house against the dictation of President Roosevelt were apparent today. The representatives adopted with enthusiasm a rule which will make it virtually impossible for the leaders to put each member on record either in favor of or against the "death sentence" clause in the public utility holding company bill. Debate on the measure begins tomorrow.

The rule was framed by John O'Connor [Dem., N.Y.], chairman of the rules committee. It was reported to have been drafted against the wishes of the President, who can control unruly congressmen when they are forced to place themselves on record against administration measures.

Seek to Award "Record."

Many a member, it was pointed out, might have the courage to vote against the provision that the government may eliminate "unnecessary" holding companies so long as he is not placed on record as so doing. If a roll call were possible, the same congressmen might be loath to have their names placed in the record where they might be called to attention when patronage and government funds were being doled out.

Representative O'Connor was assailed by a number of loyal Democrats who asked him to explain why he had framed the rule in such a manner. He replied that the rule was one of the most liberal in the history of the house, allowing eight hours of general debate and no restriction upon amendments.

Charges Court Will Kill Act.

A supplemental report from the committee on interestate commerce was made today by Representative Samuel Pettengill [Dem., Ind.]. In it, he expressed the opinion that the "death sentence" as it appears in the bill passed by the senate "will crack like an eggshell in the United States Supreme court."

The house committee knocked the clause out of the bill. A bitter fight against its restoration on the floor of the house is expected.

ELECTRIC OUTPUT AT RECORD HIGH FOR A SUMMER

Total for Week Comes Close to All-Time Peak.

Production of electricity in the United States last week reached the highest level on record for a summer week, a contra-seasonal gain of 1.8 per cent over the preceding week lifting the total to a new high for the third consecutive week. The total of 1,774,654,000 kilowatt hours, reported by the Edison Electric institute, was also the best since the last week in January this year.

The total for the week came within striking distance of setting a new all time high for any week on record and was 6 per cent above the corresponding week of last year, when the total was 1,674,566,000 kilowatt hours. The marginal gain over a year ago was the largest since February of this year, and compared with an increase of 4.6 per cent in the preceding week of this year.

Chicago Area Gains.

In the Chicago area the electric power total for the week also showed improvement over the preceding week and a year ago, being the first time in four weeks that the total surpassed that of a year ago due to the heavy load last year, when A Century of Progress was operating.

The total last week, announced by the Commonwealth Edison company, was 99,021,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 97,874,000 a year ago, an increase of 1.2 per cent. Extremely dark weather was largely responsible for the gain.

The Associated Press adjusted weekly index of electric power production advanced 0.5 of a point for the week to 98.9, a level equal to the year's high mark registered for the weeks of Jan. 12 and 26.

All Sections Gain.

Every section of the country made a contribution toward setting the record total for the week, according to the institute's report. The Rocky mountain region continued to lead the country in improvement, againing 28.7 per cent over a year ago, compared with a marginal increase of 32.7 per cent in the preceding week. The sharp advances in this region are due to the heavy demand for electric power by silver mining operations, which have been booming as a result of the government's silver purchase policy.

Increases for the other regions of the country were: New England, 5.7 per cent; middle Atlantic, 6.7; central industrial, 3.3; west central, 4.5; southern states, 6.9, and Pacific coast, 3.2 per cent.

STEEL DEMAND FIRM

Demand for iron and steel is showing resistant powers despite the influence of seasonal forces, and with the rate of production remaining unchanged at 38 per cent of capacity it is believed that minimum levels for the summer are being approached, says the magazine Iron Age.

It is possible that the current rate of production is not abreast of consumption as buyers are still cautious enough to let their stocks dwindle rather than purchase current requirements. Doubts as to the stability of prices are diminishing, the journal says.

In certain centers, especially in the Chicago district, mill bookings have taken a contra-seasonal turn, moving upward at a time when a further decline was expected. The operating rate here advanced 1½ points to 41 per cent since last week, being the only district except the valleys where improvement was shown.

The journal's scrap composite is unchanged at $10.71 a ton for the third consecutive week, and the pig iron and finished steel composites remain at $17.84 a ton and 2.124 cents a pound, respectively.

United States Smelting Will Pay Dividend of $2

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—United States Smelting and Refining company today declared a common dividend of $2 a share, payable July 15. On April 15 a disbursement of $1 a share was made.

The company estimates consolidated net income for the five months ended May 31 at $2,385,510 after taxes and charges, against $2,500,499 in the like period a year ago.

WALLACE SAYS HE'LL NOT ACT TO PREVENT AD GAG

Hit by Publishers' Head for "Interference."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 26.—[Special.]—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace today said he would not move to revise the pending agricultural adjustment amendments to prevent government regulation of advertising. He declared his position when he was attacked by J. D. Barnum, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association. The publishers' representative hit an "attempted defense" by the secretary of "vast powers sought" in the pending AAA legislation.

Barnum made his criticism in a letter to the secretary in reply to a communication from Wallace rejecting an amendment proposed by the publishers' association, preventing governmental regulation of advertising. The proposed amendment had been asked of the association by Wallace when the group protested against such regulation.

Barnum Letter Is Quoted.

"In my reply," Barnum's letter said, "I pointed out to you that your department has interfered with advertising. Not only have you and your associates on various occasions referred to advertising as economic waste but, as I stated, you have interferred with it. I cited specific examples of such interference. . . .

"I now ask you to submit for consideration of the congress an amendment which will make it clear beyond all peradventure of doubt that those administering the act are without the power, directly or indirectly, to prohibit, regulate, restrict, or interfere with advertising, whether contemplated by concerns upon their own initiative or by a number of concerns cooperatively. Only by such an amendment may the situation be adequately met."

Won't Push Amendment.

"I have no objection to such an amendment, but will not push it," Wallace said. "If Barnum desires such an innocuous amendment, he can put it through congress.

"We have stated we have no objection. It is up to Barnum to convince Senator Smith of the desirability of his amendment."

At the same time Secretary Wallace declined to comment on another matter of press regulation. The entire issue of the Georgia Market Bulletin, publication of the state agricultural department, was held in the Atlanta, Ga., postoffice, while an editorial attacking the AAA was studied in Washington.

State Agriculture Commissioner Linder charged he was being persecuted for criticism of Wallace. Wallace aides insisted the secretary had not initiated the action.

RAILS CONSIDER USE OF LIGHTER ROLLING STOCK

Use of new light railroad equipment as a means of effecting economies in operation was discussed yesterday by members of the mechanical division of the Association of American Railroads, who are holding their fourteenth annual meeting at the Congress hotel.

In connection with the meetings, the members visited exhibits of rolling stock constructed of new light steel alloys at the Union, Illinois Central, and Dearborn street stations. The exhibit at the Union station included a rustless steel coal hopper car and a rustless steel container. The coal car weighs 33,000 pounds, as compared with 50,000 pounds for the standard cars.

Light steel alloys which had rust resisting qualities in the past have been too expensive for general railroad use, but stimulated by the depression, research in the metal industry has brought forth steel alloys which are within the price reach of the railroads, it is said. Heretofore railroad equipment has been subject to deterioration from corrosion, which enforced construction of heavy equipment. The new rustless steels permit car construction without the excess weight to combat the corrosive attacks.

UTILITY UNABLE TO MAKE REPORT; DELAYS MEETING

Richmond, Va., June 26.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Utilities Power and Light corporation, meeting here today for scheduled election of directors, adjourned without action because the company had been "unable to publish an annual report as agreed with the New York Stock exchange.

W. A. Horner of Chicago, secretary of the corporation, in a statement issued after the brief meeting, said: "We have been unable to publish an annual report to date and in accordance with an agreement with the New York Stock exchange that the report be published and given to stockholders fifteen days before the annual meeting, we have adjourned this meeting until July 24."

When asked if the RFC made any effort to place representatives on the board of directors, Horner said "there was no voting on directors." He said a majority was represented at the meeting.

STANDARD BANK TO PAY ANOTHER 26% ON DEPOSITS

Payment of 26 per cent more to depositors of the closed Standard National bank will begin this morning. This is the third return and brings total repayments to 90 per cent.

Receiver Harry E. Hallenbeck said remaining assets are believed to be of sufficient value to net enough to complete full repayment of depositors.

The current distribution amounts to approximately $40,000. The office of the receiver will be open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily except Saturday, when it closes at noon, for a week to accommodate depositors calling for checks. Hallenbeck said that receiver's certificates must be presented to obtain checks.

BURLINGTON ROAD TAKES NO ACTION ON ITS DIVIDEND

Earnings Are Reduced by Higher Charges.

Directors of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad took no dividend action at their meeting yesterday in New York. While the stock has not been on a regular dividend basis for the last three years, distributions have been made at six month intervals since December, 1933, and yesterday's omission came as something of a surprise.

Earnings of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads will be depressed considerably by the action, since they control the Burlington through ownership of more than 97 per cent of its 1,708,337 shares. Each road holds 829,337 shares.

The Burlington has been hit by high material costs, increased wages, and repairs to its line after the floods in Nebraska, which caused heavy property damage.

Road Reports Loss.

In the first five months of the year the road suffered a loss of $2,085,849 after all charges, as compared with a profit of $96,845, equal to 5 cents a share, in the same period of last year. Damage from floods has been estimated at around 2½ million dollars.

The last dividend declared was $1 a share on last Dec. 12. A year ago at the June meeting a declaration of $2 a share was made. Payments were resumed Dec. 26, 1933, with a $3 a share distribution after lapsing for 18 months.

Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington, reported that crop conditions in the road's territory are "tremendously better" than at this time last year. It is considered possible that dividends will be resumed in December if earnings of the road reflect this improvement in crops.

Milwaukee Meeting Today.

A plan of capital readjustment for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, representing a compromise between what the management and the institutional bondholders have been holding out for, will come before the board of directors for final consideration at a meeting in New York today. Upon its adoption by the board the plan will be immediately submitted to the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

At today's meeting the board also will take up the question of the interest due July 1 on $138,000,000 general mortgage bonds. Among railroad men and bankers who have made a study of the Milwaukee's problems it is considered almost certain that the board will vote to defer the July 1 interest.

The various parties interested in reorganizing the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway are still far apart and, according to Washington dispatches, the road may have to abandon hope of finding a solution of capital structure difficulties through the medium of section 77 of the bankruptcy act.

To complicate the Rock Island's problems, the RFC has raised from 4 to 6 per cent the interest rate on its $13,718,700 loans to the road.

Eight Railroads Report Gains in May Net Earnings

Although overshadowed by reports of continued lower earnings for many of the carriers, a number of bright spots appeared in the railroad skies yesterday. May net income from operations of the North Western, Milwaukee, Great Northern, Burlington, Missouri Pacific, New Haven, Boston and Maine, and Wheeling and Lake Erie roads disclosed improvement over the same month in 1934. However, return of deductions for pensions accounted for some of the improvement.

Net operating income of the North Western during May amounted to $253,326, compared with a net operating deficit of $344,186 in May, 1934, a net increase of $597,512. The figure for May this year includes a credit of $361,778, representing the amount accrued against railway retirement act requirements in the first three months of this year. Gross revenues for the month were $6,403,911, against $6,323,590, an increase of $80,321. For the first five months of the year the road had a net operating income of $667,701, against $839,061 in the corresponding 1934 period. Gross revenues for the five months were $28,870,674, against $29,457,818.

Milwaukee Has Gain.

The Milwaukee road reported a net operating income of $1,501,010 for May, including a credit of $1,184,963 from the retirement act fund for the period from Aug. 1, 1934, to March 31, 1935, compared with $489,590 a year ago. Gross revenues were $7,212,079, against $6,978,185. During the first five months net operating income totaled $2,130,071, including the above credit, against $2,362,251 a year ago. Gross revenues were $34,328,165, against $33,894,867.

The New Haven report for the month was "especially good in that although gross income was cut $100,000 to a level of $5,867,596, return from operations increased almost $200,000 to a total of $817,196. This same trend of lower gross, but higher net operating income, was shown for the five months' period ended May 31. Five months' gross came to $28,874,675, against $29,915,002 a year ago. Net operating income at $3,291,675 compared with $3,069,820 in the 1934 period.

Has $1,000,000 Increase.

The Great Northern reports a $1,000,000 increase in net return from operations for May, as compared with a year ago. With gross income for the month about $600,000 over May, 1934, net operating income rose to a level of $1,939,847, against $942,177 in May last year. Five months' gross of the road came to $25,786,800 against $23,298,127 last year and net operating income amounted to $3,948,774, against $2,073,583 a year ago.

The Boston and Maine May report puts surplus after charges at $122,712, against $30,332 in May, 1934. Deficit for the five months ended with May, after charges, came to $333,409, against $549,579 in the like 1934 period.

Other roads to report May income, with 1934 comparisons, included:

Rule Avoids "Record" on Utility Stand.

"Nevertheless, the house substitute is infinitely better than the senate bill from a constitutional standpoint, and if legal, holding companies have their day in court to justify their continued existence and ownership of properties upon the merits of the particular case.

"The pyramiding of holding companies is a legal monstrosity, an economic dinosaur, and a social wrong. Nevertheless, both state and national governments have permitted, even encouraged them. In the meantime, and on the faith of what their own governments have created, thousands of innocent people have invested the savings of a lifetime. Government itself is partly at fault in the matter and because this is so the remedy for the evils which have grown up should take the equities of investors into consideration."

He pointed out that the "death sentence" clause was not advocated by the federal trade commission in its utility company report, by the federal power commission, by the security exchange commission, or by any group of consumers or investors.

Joseph A. Farmar Elected Head of Freight Bureau

Joseph A. Farmar, for many years with the Milwaukee railroad, has been elected chairman of the Transcontinental Freight bureau, succeeding H. G. Toll, who gave up the position because of ill health. Farmar will start on his new duties July 1. He is 44 years old and is the youngest man ever elected to the chairmanship of a freight bureau.

WESTERN UNION HEAD EXPECTS MODERATE TRADE GAIN IN FALL

Roy B. White, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, in Chicago for a conference with company officials from all sections of the country, said yesterday that he shared the general feeling of optimism for a moderate improvement in business this fall. He also said that trade is somewhat better than a year ago.

"I don't look for any boom," he said, "but unless all signs fail this fall should be reasonably satisfactory, compared with what we have. The nation is in a position where a number of things must be purchased soon.

"The death of NRA will make little difference in material costs because industry as a whole appears inclined to continue as at present," White said. Earnings of Western Union were reported a little higher this year and expenses lower despite increased costs of materials. He said that research has made this result possible.

BURLINGTON ROAD GETS HARRIMAN SAFETY MEDAL

New York, June 26.—(AP)—George P. Weik, veteran locomotive engineer who has served fifty-two years without an accident, accepted a medal today on behalf of his road, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, for the "outstanding safety achievement of 1934." The award, the E. H. Harriman memorial gold medal for group A railroads, was made at a luncheon of the American Museum of Safety.

Weik, who is 72, came east with Ralph Budd, president of the road. Though he has spent a large part of his life in a locomotive cab, it is the first time he has ever been east of Indianapolis. He lives in Burlington, Ia.

To L. F. Shedd, safety superintendent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf railway, was presented a silver medal for group B railroads. The bronze medal for the group C class was awarded to the Nevada Railway company for the second time since 1929. E. V. Daveler, treasurer, accepted it.

RAIL OPERATING UNITS ADVOCATED BY F. H. PRINCE

Asserts Plan Would Cut Costs, Raise Profits.

Boston, Mass., June 26.—(AP)—Frederick H. Prince, industrial leader and capitalist, today declared a solution of major problems of railroad financing and reorganization and a means of averting government ownership lies in the formation of railroad operating companies.

These companies, he said, would be constituted with existing railroad officials in charge, would lease railroad corporations for 99 years, and, after paying interest on working capital, would pay all earnings to the lessor. He pronounced this arrangement "the wisest means to provide the new working capital that all the roads require from time to time."

View on Employment.

Prince declared that if a plan he previously proposed for consolidation of trafic and joint use of economical terminals had been accepted, wholesale reductions in employment of railroad labor would not have occurred. He said that with the economies he proposed, the improved financial condition of the railroads would have permitted better maintenance and would have increased employment by half a million, instead of resulting in a decrease of employés from 2,000,000 to 800,000.

Capital for the operating companies, Prince said, could be provided at "very low" interest rates, probably 3½ or 4 per cent, because of the strength of the security in offering a first claim on net earnings.

Permits Profit Increase.

The operating company plan, he said, would give officers of the operating companies more liberty to make long or short operating contracts with connecting roads which would permit increased net earnings.

"All roads today are only used to a small amount of their capacity, not over 20 per cent," he explained. "The operating officers could therefore unite their trafic over low grade lines where advisable and employ jointly the use of terminals to mutual advantage.

"To meet the needs of the railroads to adjust their capital to their present earnings and prevent the expense and disadvantages of receivership, this plan of forming operating companies would immediately improve the value of all railroad securities so much desired in the interest of general prosperity. It would also prevent the possibility of complete government ownership with the disaster that would follow.

Roads Had Objections.

Prince said his previously proposed so-called "Prince plan" would have resulted in yearly savings of $500,000,000, but was objected to by strong roads because they feared the economies would benefit weaker roads without equal benefit to themselves. He said they also feared unemployment would be increased.

Since then, he said, railroads have been forced to meet reduced earnings by dropping half their employés and that any reduction could have been "much better handled by a voluntary pension to those who wished to retire from railroad service at 50."

Chicago Exchange Votes to List New Edison Bonds

The governing committee of the Chicago Stock exchange approved yesterday the application of Commonwealth Edison company to list its new $29,500,000 issue of first mortgage 3¾ per cent bonds of series H, due in 1965. The bonds will be admitted to trading upon registration of the issue by the Securities and Exchange commission.

Notice of Method of Participation in Plan and of Delivery of New Securities

REORGANIZATION OF

Paramount Publix Corporation

(now PARAMOUNT PICTURES INC.)

To all Creditors and Stockholders of Paramount Publix Corporation and of Paramount Broadway Corporation and other parties in interest:

In the proceedings now pending under Section 77B of the Bankruptcy Act in the Southern District of New York for the reorganization of Paramount Publix Corporation, United States District Judge Alfred C. Coxe has made an order dated June 17, 1935, directing that the plan of reorganization be carried out. Pursuant to said order the existing corporation (the name of which has been changed to Paramount Pictures Inc.) takes title to the property as of July 1, 1935, and the new securities are to be available for distribution from and after that date. The method by which creditors, stockholders and other parties in interest may participate in the plan of reorganization has been determined and is set forth in said order dated June 17, 1935. As provided in said order:

Holders of certificates of deposit for stock of Paramount Publix Corporation deposited under the deposit agreement dated as of January 27, 1933, or of undeposited certificates of stock, should surrender their certificates of deposit or stock certificates to The Commercial National Bank and Trust Company of New York, 56 Wall Street, New York City, the Agent of the Special Master appointed by said Court, accompanied by the appropriate transmittal letters duly executed.

Holders of certificates of deposit for Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation Twenty-Year 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds or Paramount Publix Corporation Twenty-Year 5½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds deposited under the deposit agreement dated as of January 27, 1933, or of claims in respect of undeposited bonds of said issues, should surrender their certificates of deposit or bonds, to The New York Trust Company, 100 Broadway, New York City, as Agent of the Special Master, accompanied by the appropriate transmittal letters duly executed;

Holders of claims (other than claims in respect of bonds of said issues) which have been allowed in the reorganization proceedings should deliver to said The New York Trust Company, 100 Broadway, New York City, as such Agent, the forms of request duly executed;

Holders of certificates of deposit for First Mortgage 5½% Twenty-Five Year Sinking Fund Gold Loan Certificates guaranteed by Paramount Broadway Corporation deposited under the deposit agreement dated as of January 27, 1933, or of undeposited Gold Loan Certificates of such issue, should present their certificates of deposit or Gold Loan Certificates to said The New York Trust Company, 100 Broadway, New York City, as such Agent, accompanied by the appropriate transmittal letters duly executed

Letters enclosing the appropriate forms of transmittal letters or requests, as approved by the Court, are being mailed to all of the security holders so far as their addresses are known. Any interested persons may obtain copies of said transmittal letters and requests from either of the Agents above named. A copy of said order of the Court dated June 17, 1935, may be examined at the office of either of said Agents.

This notice is published by direction of the Court.

Wheat Advances 1¾ Cts.; Corn Up Nearly 1c.

Too much rain in the southwestern states, which brought further delay in the already belated wheat harvest, and wet weather in Iowa and Illinois, which prevented planting and cultivation of corn yesterday, provided the background for a sharp upward surge in grain prices in the Chicago market. Only a moderate volume of buying was needed to bring about some inflation of values and it came largely in the form of short covering. It was this demand that lifted the market up rather than outright speculative purchases.

At the best price of the day wheat sold 2 cents a bushel above Tuesday's last quotation. At the close September wheat, the principal future, was 1¾ cents higher at 81⅛ cents a bushel. Closing at 76⅛, September corn was nearly a cent higher.

Report Heavy Rains.

In both Oklahoma and Kansas, where harvesting is now under way, heavy rains were experienced Tuesday night and persisted yesterday in many sections. At Wichita, Kas., 1½ inches of rain was received and heavy precipitation was reported at Great Bend, Dodge, Hutchinson, Emporia, and Topeka. Eastern Nebraska shared the wet weather and in Missouri, Iowa, and Illinois rains were general. At Dow City, Ia., the Tuesday night rain was reported to have amounted to 4 inches. Des Moines received an inch of rain in an hour yesterday morning.

More apprehension is felt over the potential injury to the quality of the wheat harvested in wet weather than to the effect on the size of the crop. A reduction in wheat yields is also possible if the wet weather persists in the harvest belt.

Corn Crops Suffer.

It is the corn crops in Illinois and Iowa that are suffering from the current rains. The ground is too wet to permit cultivation of corn that is now above the ground. A substantial acreage in Illinois has not yet been seeded and other fields require replanting. Until drier weather comes it will be impossible to make much headway. In the meantime the period in which corn may be planted with any reasonable hope of its reaching maturity is ebbing rapidly. A good part of the late corn already planted will be subject to vagaries of fall weather. If early frosts come it will render much of the corn fit for fodder only.

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Wk. ago.
Wheat	81⅛c	79⅜c	80¼c
Corn	76⅛c	75¼c	75⅞c
Oats	33c	32¼c	32¼c
Rye	47⅛c	46⅛c	47c

Wheat prices abroad were higher yesterday. In Winnipeg wheat moved up a half cent. Liverpool prices also advanced moderately.

NOVEMBER BUTTER GAINS; OCTOBER EGGS ALSO HIGHER

A belief that the government would enter the spot butter market to secure supplies for relief distribution more than offset continued bearish reports yesterday concerning production and the into storage movement of this commodity. The November delivery on the Chicago Mercantile exchange moved up ¼ cent and closed at 24⅜ cents per pound. The Land o' Lakes reported production 6 per cent in excess of last year.

October eggs gained ⅛ cent and closed at 25⅝ cents per dozen. While the into storage movement at the four leading points was 5,500 cases less than last year, local receipts were heavy.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, June 26.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw sugar was quiet today. Buyers and sellers were apart and no sales were reported. Prices were unchanged at 3.29c per lb for spots and 3.35c for forward, with both Cuban and duty frees in July and August positions available at the latter price. For nearby sugars 3.30c was asked.

There was only a small trade in futures, but in absence of aggressive selling prices were firm on a little covering and buying by trade and Wall street interests. Final levels were 2 to 3 points net higher in the No. 3 contract and 4 to 5 points higher in the No. 1. Sales, 3,400 tons in the No. 3 and 150 tons in the No. 1.

Raw sugar prices in cents per pound:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
July	2.31	2.33	2.31	2.33	2.31

December	2.36	2.40	2.36	2.39	2.36
March	2.19	2.19	2.18	2.18	2.15

COFFEE

NEW YORK, June 26.—(AP)—COFFEE—Moving in a narrow range in quiet trading which was mostly for trade and professional account, coffee futures ended irregular today. Santos opened unchanged to 4 points lower and closed 1 point up to 4 points off. Sales were 14,000 bags. No. 7 opened 1 point higher and closed 1 to 5 points up. Sales, 2,000 bags.

Prices in cents per pound:

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 26.—(AP)—FLOUR—Prices were 15 cents higher today. Carload lots of family patents were quoted at $6.85@7.05 a barrel in 98 pound cotton sacks. Shipments were 17,794 brls. Pure bran was quoted at $18.50@19.00 and standard middlings at $21.50@22.00 per ton.

FRUIT PRICES.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., June 26.—[Special.]—Today's Benton Harbor market prices: Strawberries, 16 quart crates, $1.25@1.50, mostly around $1.50.

FIRST WHEAT CARGO FOR CHICAGO STARTS DOWN MISSOURI RIVER

Kansas City, Mo., June 26.—(AP)—Chicago bound, 51,000 bushels of wheat floated down the Missouri river tonight, the largest grain cargo on the "Big Muddy" in many years.

River men were elated by the sudden boom in trade, inaugurated on a modern scale and a revamped river between Kansas City and St. Louis.

"The first movement of wheat via the Missouri river to Chicago, shipped by the Farmers' National Grain corporation, Coöperative," read a large banner on each side of the barge.

Three other barges also were pushed along by the towboat when it left the municipal wharf. R. L. Thompson, commercial agent for the federal barge lines, said the cargo totaled 2,500 tons.

ADOLF GOBEL CO., PACKER, ATTACKS PROCESSING TAX

New York, June 26.—[Special.]—The first attack on the federal processing tax in New York was started today in the federal court, Brooklyn, when Adolf Gobel, Inc., of Brooklyn was granted an order directing Internal Revenue Collector Almon G. Rasquin, United States Attorney Leo J. Hickey, and other federal officials to show cause on Monday why they should not be prevented from taking further steps to collect the tax from the company.

The company owes $522,227 in taxes to the government for the last six months and it is this sum which the firm seeks to prevent from being collected.

Board of Trade Suspends Cox & Co. for 6 Months

Howard E. Cox and Thomas B. Phillips, comprising the firm of H. E. Cox & Co., were suspended yesterday from membership on the Chicago Board of Trade for a period of six months, beginning July 1. The suspension was dated July 1 in order to allow the firm to liquidate its affairs, it was stated. A special investigating committee, whose charges were sustained, charged that the firm carried accounts without adequate margins and that acts were performed that were detrimental to the welfare of the association.

Trade in Tallow Futures Is Opened in New York

New York, June 26.—(AP)—A new futures market was added to the New York commodity exchanges today with the start of trading in tallow futures on the New York Produce exchange. The first transaction was a sale of one contract for September delivery at 6.6 cents a pound. A contract calls for "one tank car of 60,000 pounds of tallow entirely of animal fat, untreated and unbleached, and of good merchantable quality.

PRICES OF LARD FUTURES ARE UNCHANGED TO LOWER

Buying of lard futures credited to packing interests largely offset scattered selling yesterday, which was induced by the granting of a temporary injunction against the government's collecting the processing tax on hogs by an Alabama court and the easiness in the hog market. Prices dropped as much as 22½ cents for the July delivery early, but a rally followed, and the finish was unchanged to 2½ cents lower. The December and May deliveries are easily influenced and respond quickly to any buying or selling of consequence.

Note—Above prices include processing tax of $2.47 per 100 lbs on lard and $2.62 per 100 lbs on bellies processed since March, 1934. This tax is rebated on products exported, but varies according to the amount due to the fact that the tax was gradually increased.

MAY WHOLESALE TRADE HIGHER, RESERVE FINDS

Wholesale trade in the Seventh federal reserve district during May showed seasonal or contraseasonal gains over the preceding month, but department store sales reversed the usual seasonal gain by recording a decline from April, according to a report on business conditions made yesterday by the Chicago Federal Reserve bank.

In the wholesale field, groceries rose 4 per cent, hardware 6 per cent, and electrical supplies 4 per cent over sales of the respective groups in April, these advances being seasonal in nature.

Department store sales in the district declined 2 per cent below April, compared with an average increase of 1 per cent for 1925-'34 period.

Compared with a year ago department store sales declined 0.6 per cent, with Chicago showing a drop of 1.7 per dent. The decline for the district as a whole from a year ago was the first drop shown in the yearly comparison since May, 1933.

Aggregate sales of furniture and house furnishings were 13½ per cent higher than April, the usual seasonal increase being estimated at 6 per cent, and were 6 per cent larger than a year ago. Total sales of thirteen chain organizations in the district were 2 per cent smaller than in April.

Production of automobiles in the United States during May dropped 23 per cent from the April volume, the reserve bank reported, but was 12 per cent above that of a year ago.

LOWER PRICES OF MEAT REACT ON LIVE STOCK

Consumer resistance to higher meat prices was in evidence again yesterday at the principal distributing points, and packers had to accept lower prices for most cuts in wholesale channels as a result. Beef sold steady to 50 cents lower and veal and pork brought steady to $1.00 lower prices. Most of the declines were recorded in the east. Lamb meat was scarce, however, and sold steady to $1.00 higher, with yearling carcasses up as much as $1.00 to $2.00 in some eastern cities.

The narrower outlet for meats was reflected in the live stock trade in smaller buying orders and a generally undependable outlet for most classes of stock. Markets were erratic.

The bulk of the day's steers, bringing $9 to $11.50, changed hands slowly at barely steady rates and on final rounds slight savings were reported in stock selling within this range of prices. A moderate number was reported carried over unsold. Prime 1,203 pound steers sold at $12.75, the extreme top.

A steady to 5 cents lower market developed for hogs yesterday, all interests buying slowly at the 5 cents lower average. Prices for the day averaged $11.10, including the tax, $1.05 under the 1935 high on May 28.

Lamb prices ruled steady to strong yesterday, packers sorting several hundred ewe and wether natives upward to $9.25.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, June 26—(AP)—COTTON—Goods were unchanged and quiet today. Reports persist in rayon circles of an advance to come next month. New silks for fall are being offered more generally by the larger houses. Wool goods were quiet and steady. Burlaps were firm.

Miscellaneous.

MAN TO MAN

ARE YOU QUALIFIED FOR A BUSINESS OF YOUR OWN? WE NEED MEN For Chicago and the Middle West.

The observation of the writer is that most men who are seeking a job have been associated in their old line too long.

STOP AND THINK. Does your product or idea justify your time? Are you convinced that there is an absolute buying demand for your article NOW?

Men who are without jobs and men who are unprofitably employed should immediately interview the writer of this ad and hear the amazing story of an electric hygiene unit that is going over big and making men comm. from $40 to as high as $150 a week.

Sales ability is not essential; we will discount sales experience in favor of a genuine desire to work hard and learn.

WE FINANCE YOU for your own business and pay you weekly.

This product comes close to selling itself—in fact, it has been adopted by prominent institutions all over the United States. It is passed and indorsed by the U. S. Bureau of Standards—it is being used in government institutions all over the U. S.—in fact, the White House, Senate, Coast Guard stations, etc.—hospitals, medical authorities and individual homes are adopting it almost instantly after witnessing its revolutionary performance.

In our organization we have representatives from all walks of life—mechanics, ministers, doctors, lawyers—in fact, the former prohibition commissioner of the U. S., Roy T. Haynes.

There is no depression in this business.

Our books are open for a complete investigation by good men. You have nothing to lose but your time, and we invite a complete investigation. Come prepared to spend the day if you like. We will show you a real business.

Apply for personal interview Thursday, 11 a. m. or 2:30 p. m. promptly. PARLOR M, HOTEL MORRISON.

YOUR OWN BUSINESS

Would you be interested in starting in business for yourself without one cent of investment on your part?

Well, that is exactly what we have done for many men in this territory.

These men were previous storekepers, doctors, lawyers, shop workers, mechanics, etc., and are now earning and receiving in net profit as much as $50 for a single day.

We are an old line, nationally known manufacturer of electrical units that defy competition and for which there is a constant, increasing demand.

Now here are our requirements—you must be under 50, preferably married, honest, reliable, present a neat appearance and posses at least a grammar school education.

At this time we will only interview men living on the South Side of Chicago, northern Indiana and northeastern Illinois.

Every man answering this advertisement will be given a confidential interview and if selected will be trained at our expense in our methods, which are successful.

There are no strings attached to this offer, as we even pay rent, light, heat, telephone, girl hire, consign your merchandise, and finance your accounts.

Apply Thursday only between 1 and 3 p. m. Ask for Mr. Lovell, Suite 404, Maryland Building, 63d-st. and Maryland-av.

STEP ON IT

THE AMENDED LAW WILL COMPEL A LONGER PERIOD OF TRAINING IN Beauty Culture

This will also increase the cost of learning.

Let us show you how to save the present rates and conditions and make your actual start later if desired.

The wonderful demand and wages make this profession the most desirable in the Universe.

Our three ways of schooling trains you for many kinds of positions — Travel jobs — Shop Management—Teachers, or the regular shop employment. Get the particulars at once. Open every day and evening. Call—write or phone.

BURNHAM

ACT THIS WEEK.

Let us explain why it is to your particular advantage to register now even if you cannot start your course until later. Call, phone, or write at once.

The easy-to-learn Burnham System quickly enables you to become a skilled beauty operator. Plenty of living models. You learn by doing rather than by studying. Each teacher a specialist. Fewer pupils per teacher. 64 years' knowing how to teach gives you a flying start.

SEE FOR YOURSELF WHY MORE GIRLS ENROLL IN BURNHAM'S THAN IN ANY OTHER BEAUTY SCHOOL.

BURNHAM AWARDS TRIP TO PARIS TO STUDENT. Geneve Huffman, 1601 Thome-av., winner of semi-annual Burnham scholarship for efficiency while in training sailed June 19 on SS. Manhattan with all expenses paid. Burnham's offers opportunities not found elsewhere.

Pay for MOST of your tuition after graduating. You can take advantage of many money-saving offers. Open every day and on Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings until 9 p. m.

RECEIVER'S NOTICE OF ORDER FOR RESALE OF DIRIGOLD CORPORATION PROPERTY.

It is ordered that said Receiver be, and he is, directed to again offer said property consisting of all the assets and property in his hands as Receiver of the Dirigold Corporation both tangible and intangible, except cash on hands and accounts receivable, for sale on Saturday, June 29th, 1935, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., Central Standard time, at public auction to the highest bidder for cash at the plant and factory of the Dirigold Corporation of which said Fredrick is receiver, in Kokomo, Indiana, upon notice by one publication in the newspaper of general circulation in Howard County, Indiana, and by one publication in general circulation in Cook County, Illinois, both published in the English language, and upon notice by mail to all known bidders who submitted bids to said receiver at the time said property and assets were heretofore offered for sale on June 12th, 1935: That said Receiver shall cause a complete inventory to be made of all the assets and property herein ordered sold, which inventory shall be completed and ready for inspection at the plant and factory of the receiver at Kokomo, Indiana, by all prospective bidders, not later than 10:00 o'clock A. M. central standard time, Friday, June 28th, 1935, and shall include the names and addresses of parties holding consigned merchandise at the close of business on June 8th, 1935. That said property and assets shall be listed in groups and parcels consisting of [1] machinery and equipment, [2] work in process of manufacture and partly manufactured, [3] raw materials, [4] finished merchandise, [5] office furniture, fixtures, equipment and supplies and all other assets, tangible and intangible not included in groups or parcels, [1], [2], [3], and [4].

It is further ordered, that said receiver be and he is directed to first offer said assets separately by parcels or groups as above indicated and to then offer said property and assets as a whole, and said property and assets shall be sold in parcels or as a whole on the highest bid or combination of bids, subject to the approval of this court: That the highest bidder or bidders shall immediately deposit with the receiver, cash or a certified check, payable to said receiver, in an amount equal to twenty [20] per cent of the bid or bids, whereupon the receiver shall report such bid or bids to the court with his recommendations as to whether or not such sale should be confirmed: And upon confirmation the balance of such bid shall immediately be paid in cash or certified check to said receiver upon the transfer to said bidder or bidders of said assets: That the manufactured merchandise to be offered for sale and sold by said receiver shall consist of all manufactured merchandise on hands at the plant and factory at Kokomo, Indiana, at the time of the sale, and all manufactured merchandise on consignment at the close of business on June 8th, 1935. It being understood that if after June 8th, 1935, any merchandise is reported sold by said consignees, the successful bidders for such merchandise shall be entitled to collect the accounts and receive the money for such merchandise so reported sold by said consignees and the receiver will assign his interest in such accounts to successful bidder or bidders for such consignment merchandise.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that upon a sale being made conformable to the provisions hereof said sale shall immediately be reported by said receiver and the report of said receiver shall come on for confirmation and consideration on July 3d, 1935, at 9:30 A. M. in the court room in the United States Court House at Indianapolis, Indiana, when said court will consider the confirmation of said report of sale.

It is further ordered that the assets herein ordered and authorized to be sold shall be sold free and clear of all liens. That the receiver shall vacate the premises now occupied by him as such receiver as soon as the said assets are sold, the sale confirmed and approved, and the money therefor paid to said receiver, and, that the successful bidder shall bear the cost and expense of removing all property sold by said receiver under this order, and that notice is hereby given that the successful bidder or bidders shall remove all the property and assets from the plant and factory now occupied by said receiver at Kokomo, Indiana, before July 15th, 1935.
